橡果托福口语真题库

更新至260826

2026年1月21日第1套

1-7. You are working a part-time job at a grocery store near campus. You are being trained to assist customers. Listen to your trainer and repeat what he says. Repeat only once.

1.Milk and Yogurt are in the dairy section.

2.Bread is freshly baked on site every day.

3.We have a huge selection of fresh fruits and vegetables.

4.This flyer has all our weekly deals and special discounts.

5.The checkout counter is located at the front of the store.

6.If you need help while learning, please don't hesitate to ask a full time store associate.

7. Download our app and sign up for our newsletter to stay informed about upcoming sales.

8-11 As part of a university project, you have agreed to take part in a short research interview about health and wellness habits. A graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions online.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your health and wellness habits. First, do you have any specific routines or practices you use to maintain your physical well-being? If so, what are they?

9. Thank you. Can you describe any dietary choices or habits that you follow to stay healthy, and give details to explain your answer.

10.Interesting. If you could make one significant change to your diet or exercise routine to stay healthy, what would it be? Why would you make that particular choice?

11.Great. Some people believe that mental health is just as important as physical health and should be given equal attention. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Question 8

Yes, I have a few regular habits to stay physically healthy. I try to work out three to four times a week, usually by running or doing some bodyweight exercises at home. I also make sure to stand and stretch often when I'm studying or using my computer. These simple activities help me stay relaxed, avoid body pain, and keep my energy levels high throughout the day.

Question 9

I try to follow a balanced and healthy diet. I eat lots of vegetables and fruits every day, and I choose lean proteins like chicken and fish. I also drink enough water and cut down on sweet drinks and fried food. I don’t eat heavy meals late at night either. I believe these choices help me stay in good shape and prevent me from feeling tired or sick easily.

Question 10

If I could make one important change, it would be to get more consistent sleep. Right now, I sometimes stay up late to finish assignments, which makes me feel tired and less focused the next day. Good sleep improves my concentration, mood, and even my immune system. I think better sleep would support both my physical health and my study performance better than any other change.

Question 11

I totally agree that mental health is just as important as physical health. Even if you're physically healthy, poor mental health can make you stressed, unmotivated, and unable to enjoy daily life. I usually relax by listening to music or hanging out with friends when I feel pressure. Taking care of our minds helps us stay balanced, positive, and truly healthy in every way.

2026年1月27日3套=2月11日

2026年1月21日第2套

You are working at the student help desk. Your manager is teaching you how to help new students learn how to use the university's email system. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Check your inbox for new messages.

2.Select compose to write your email.

3.Select from your contacts list to add recipients to your note.

4.Review sent items to confirm your messages were delivered.

5.Use folders to organize your correspondence efficiently.

6.Set up a few topical filters to manage incoming communications.

7.To be safe, remember to log out to keep your electronic mail secure in our system.

2026年1月21日第2套

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about exercise programs. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about exercise programs first. Do you think exercising daily is important for good health? Why or why not? Thank you.

9. Imagine you are going to recommend or create an exercise program for a friend or family member who does not currently exercise. What kind of exercise or fitness routine would you recommend? Why?

10.Interesting for that same friend or family member, what do you think might challenge them the most about a regular exercise program? How would you help them through this challenge?

11.Great. Some people believe that it is important to have some sort of reward after a good week of exercising. What do you think would be a good reward for the program you created and why?

Question 8

Yes, I definitely believe daily exercise is very important for good health. Regular exercise helps keep our bodies strong, improves energy levels, and reduces stress. Even light activity like walking or stretching can make a big difference. It also helps with sleep and focus.

I think making exercise part of daily life is one of the best ways to stay healthy both physically and mentally.

【简单版】Yes, I think exercising daily is very important. It helps keep our body strong and healthy. When I exercise, I feel more energetic and sleep better. It also helps reduce stress from school or work. You don’t need to do hard exercise every day. Even a 20-minute walk or simple stretching is good. So daily exercise really helps our health.

Question 9

I would recommend a simple, gentle exercise program for my friend. I'd suggest 20 to 30 minutes of walking, cycling, or light stretching three to four times a week. These activities are easy, low-impact, and don't require special equipment. Starting slow helps build confidence and avoid injury. This kind of routine is realistic and easy to stick to for someone who doesn't exercise regularly.

【简单版】 I would recommend walking for 20 minutes every day. It's easy and safe. My friend doesn't need any special equipment, just comfortable shoes. Walking outside also lets them enjoy fresh air. After two weeks, they can try light jogging or simple home exercises like squats. I choose walking because it's a gentle way to start and hard to give up.

Question 10

The biggest challenge for my friend would probably be staying consistent and not giving up. Many people quit because they feel tired or don't see results quickly. I would help by exercising with them and setting small, achievable goals. I would also remind them that progress takes time. Encouragement and support make it much easier to keep going.

【简单版】 The biggest challenge is losing motivation. At first, they feel excited, but after a few days, they may feel lazy or tired. I would help by exercising together with them. We can walk or jog at the same time every day. I would also remind them why they started, like to feel healthier. Small rewards, like a nice drink after a week, also help.

Question 11

A good reward after a week of exercise could be a nice movie, a small treat, or a relaxing afternoon. It should be fun and motivating, not unhealthy. This kind of reward makes the effort feel worth it. It also creates positive habits, so the person is more likely to keep exercising. A simple, enjoyable reward works better than anything too expensive or extreme.

【简单版】 A good reward is watching a favorite movie or eating a small treat like a piece of fruit or a healthy snack. For example, after walking every day for a week, my friend can relax and watch one episode of a TV show. The reward should not be unhealthy, like big cakes. It just needs to make them feel happy and proud of their hard work.

2026年1月28日第2套

You are volunteering at a botanical garden near your university. Listen to your trainer and repeat what he says. Repeat only once.

1.You can buy tickets at the entrance

2.The rose garden is beautiful this season.

3. The pond is a popular spot for sitting and relaxing.

4. Visit the greenhouse for a variety of exotic plants.

5.Check the bulletin board for information about guided tours.

6. The gift shop offers souvenirs and gardening books at reasonable prices.

7.Enjoy your lunch at our cafe, which has outdoor seating overlooking the grounds

You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about entertainment preferences. You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8. Thank you for your participation. Today I'd like to ask you some questions about your entertainment present for example, do they prefer action movies, comedies, dramas or other types?

9. I see when you watch a movie, do you prefer to watch after work or school on weekdays or do you like to watch during the weekends? Why?

10. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion on the past people mostly watched movies in theaters. Today, many people watch movies at home. Do you think that movie theatres will continue to exist in the future? Why or why not?

11. Good points. I just have one more question. Some people believe that movies can be a powerful tool for educating people and raising awareness about important issues. Do you agree with this idea? Or do you think there are other more effective ways to educate people? Explain why you think so

Question 8

I really enjoy watching comedies and dramas the most. Comedies help me relax and forget about stress from school. They always make me laugh and feel better. I also like dramas because they have interesting stories and deep characters. I don't watch many action movies. For me, entertainment should be enjoyable and relaxing, not just exciting.

Question 9

I prefer watching movies on weekends rather than weekdays. On weekdays, I'm usually busy with classes and homework until late at night. I don’t have enough time or energy to enjoy a full movie. On weekends, I can relax without pressure. I can watch a movie slowly and even discuss it with friends later. It feels much more comfortable.

Question 10

I believe movie theaters will still exist in the future. Although watching movies at home is convenient, the theater experience is special. We can enjoy a huge screen, great sound, and the feeling of watching with a crowd. For many new and exciting movies, the theater is still the best choice. It offers something that home viewing cannot easily replace.

Question 11

I agree that movies can be a powerful educational tool. Good movies show real problems and touch people's emotions deeply. They can make people care about social issues more than textbooks or articles. However, other ways, like classes, books, and discussions are also effective. Movies are powerful because they combine stories and feelings, making messages easier to accept and remember.

2026年1月28日第3套【第1部分音频同3月15日第1套，第2部分缺音频】

You are explaining how to use the university's gym equipment. Listen to the speaker and repeat what he says. Repeat only once.

1.Let's begin our gym tour.

2.You can start with a warm up on the treadmill.

3.We have a weights area for strength training.

4.Our rowing machines are best if you want a full body workout.

5. These stationary bikes can help to improve your endurance.

6.We also have a water fountain for guests to use when they want.

7.If you find a need for assistance in any way, please ask at the help desk.

You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about holiday celebrations. You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about holiday celebrations first. Do you celebrate holidays with your family, friends, or both? How often do you participate with them?

9.Describe one of your celebrations or festivals, what do you do to mark the occasion?

10.Interesting.Tell me about a special event that was particularly memorable for you. What made it meaningful.

11.Great.Some people believe that traditional cultural observances are becoming less important in modern society. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Question 8

I usually celebrate holidays with both my family and friends. During major traditional holidays, I spend time with my family at home. For smaller festivals or short breaks, I prefer to hang out with friends. I join these celebrations almost every month. Spending time with both groups makes me feel happy and connected. It also helps me balance my family life and social life.

Question 9

I'd like to talk about the Spring Festival, the most important holiday in China. My family and I clean our house, cook traditional food together, and enjoy a big dinner on New Year's Eve. We also watch TV shows and chat late into the night. On New Year's Day, we visit relatives and exchange greetings. These activities make the festival warm and full of love.

Question 10

Last year's Spring Festival was the most memorable celebration for me. All my family members gathered together after a long time. We cooked, talked, and shared stories about our lives. I also received warm greetings and small gifts. It made me feel loved and supported. This experience was meaningful because it reminded me how important family is in my life.

Question 11

I disagree that traditional festivals are becoming less important. Although modern life is busy, many people still value traditional celebrations. These festivals help us remember our culture and stay close to our family. They also give us a chance to relax and appreciate our history. Traditional events are special and cannot be replaced by modern activities. They still play an important role in our lives.

2026年2月1日第1套

You have an internship at a wildlife sanctuary. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors there. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.You will see birds living in their treetop homes.

2.This space houses animals from Africa.

3. Many reptiles live here, including snakes, lizards, and turtles.

4. Brightly colored butterflies are found in this peaceful area.

5. Staff are available to explain the displays in more detail.

6. Guides lead nature walks highlighting native species and protected habitat.

7 To explore locations, trail paths, and key features, you can download the map for free.

You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with technology in daily life. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with technology in daily life. First, how important is technology in your daily activities?

9. Noted. Thank you. Have you ever felt frustrated while using technology? What happened?

10. Fair enough. Next question. Some people believe technology will replace many jobs, while others think it will create more opportunities. What is your opinion, and why?

11, Okay, last question. Some people believe that reliance on technology is reducing our ability to think independently and solve problems. Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not?

Question 8

Technology is extremely important in my daily life. I use my phone and computer for studying, communicating with friends, and getting information quickly. I also use apps to manage my time, shop online, and even relax. Without technology, many simple tasks would be much slower and more difficult. It has become a necessary part of how live and study every day.

Question 9

Yes, I have felt frustrated with technology many times. Once, I was finishing an important paper and my computer suddenly froze. I lost some of my work and couldn’t get it back right away. I also get annoyed when the internet is slow or apps crash unexpectedly. These problems make me feel stressed, especially when I'm in a hurry.

Question 10

In my opinion, technology will do both: replace some jobs but create new ones. Some simple jobs may be done by machines, but new jobs in technology, design, and services will appear. People just need to learn new skills to keep up. I believe technology offers more chances than problems if we are willing to adapt.

Question 11

I partially agree, but I don’t think it's completely true. Over-reliance on technology can make people lazy sometimes. However, technology also helps us solve problems more efficiently and learn new things. The key is to use it wisely. We should still think on our own and use technology as a tool, not a replacement for our own abilities.

2026年2月1日第2套

You are volunteering at a community center as part of a course requirement. Your manager is training you to assist visitors there. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.The cafe offers refreshments and snacks.

2.Rooms can be reserved for group gatherings.

3.The art studio offers classes and workshops every day.

4. The library provides books, learning resources, and more.

5.The gymnasium is used for sports and fitness activities.

6.Staff are A v a i l a b l e for assistance with facility reservations.

7. Because this is a new center, help is available at no additional cost.

You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with setting personal goals. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with setting personal goals. First, think of a time, recent or not, when you had something you wanted to achieve. What was it?

9. Gotcha. In general, how do you handle difficulties or obstacles that come up while working toward what you want to achieve?

10.Understood. In your opinion, how important is this goal setting for personal growth?

11. Thanks. Last question. Do you think children should be taught to set personal goals from an early a g e ? W h y or why not?

Question 8

One recent goal I had was to improve my physical health by exercising regularly. I wanted to build a habit of working out three times a week and feel more energetic in daily life. I set a clear schedule and chose simple activities like running and stretching. It was a small but meaningful goal that helped me feel better both physically and mentally.

Question 9

When I face difficulties while working toward a goal, I first try to stay positive and not give up easily. I break big problems into smaller, easier tasks so I don’t feel overwhelmed. If I need to, I ask friends or family for support and advice. I also remind myself of why I started, which helps me keep going even when things get hard.

Question 10

I think setting goals is extremely important for personal growth. Goals give us direction and help us make the most of our time. They push us to learn new skills, challenge ourselves, and become more responsible. Each time we achieve a goal, we gain confidence and learn more about ourselves. Without goals, it's easy to feel lost or unproductive.

Question 11

I strongly believe children should learn to set goals from an early age. Simple goals can help them develop good habits, patience, and a strong work ethic. It also teaches them to plan ahead and take responsibility for their actions. These valuable skills will help them succeed in school and later in life. Early goal-setting helps children grow into confident and capable adult

2026年2月1日第3套

You are working at a university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist people at a university sporting event. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. Select your section and seat.
2. We have many different snacks and drinks for sale.
3. Family toilets are located by each of the sections.
4. Tickets and season passes are available near the front gate.
5. The visitor entrance to the stadium is through here.
6. Should you have questions about maps or event times, there are staff that can assist you.
7. You can download the map to your phone or tablet if you need any help navigating.

You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with commuting. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. What kinds of places do you usually go to during the w e e k , and how do you get there?
9. Can you describe how someone in your family or a friend usually travels to work or school? How much time does it take, and what transportation does the person use?
10. Some people believe that living close to work or school improves the quality of life, while others think location doesn't matter much. What do you think, and why?
11. Some people believe that employers should reimburse employees for their commuting costs, while others think that employees should pay for their own travel to work. Which view do you agree w i t h , and why?

Question 8

During the week, I mainly go to school and sometimes the library. I usually get there by subway because it's fast and reliable. I also walk short distances when the weather is nice. The subway is convenient in my city, and it helps me save time. I rarely take taxis because they are more expensive.

【简单版】During the week, I usually go to my university and sometimes to a supermarket near my home. I also go to a small library to study. To get to university, I take the bus because it's cheap. For the supermarket, I just walk. It's only ten minutes. The library is near the bus stop, so I walk there too. That's my weekly routine.

Question 9

My older brother travels to work by bus every day. He leaves home early in the morning, and his commute usually takes about 45 minutes each way. Sometimes, if it rains, he takes a taxi instead. He says the bus is cheap but can be crowded during rush hour. Overall, he doesn't mind the trip because it's comfortable enough.

【简单版】My father goes to work by electric bike. It takes him about 25 minutes each way.

He leaves home at 7:30 in the morning. He says the bike is faster than a bus because there is less traffic. Sometimes when it rains, he takes the subway.That takes around 30 minutes. He doesn't like driving a car because parking is difficult.

Question 10

I think living close to school or work really improves the quality of life. Short commutes save a lot of time and energy. People don't feel tired or stressed from long trips. They can spend more time relaxing or with family. Even if housing costs more, the extra time and better mood are totally worth it.

【简单版】I agree. Living close to work or school saves a lot of time. You don't need to Wake up very early. You also save money on transportation. For example, you can walk or ride a bike instead of taking a bus. Less time on the road means less stress. You can use that extra time to sleep, study ,or relax. So, yes, it's a good idea.

Question 11

I agree that employers should cover part of employees' commuting costs. Commuting is necessary for people to get to work, and it can be expensive. Helping with travel costs shows that the company cares about its workers. It also makes employees feel more valued and satisfied. This support can make people more motivated at work.

【简单版】I think employers should help pay, but not all of it. Commuting costs money and takes time. If the company pays some, workers feel happier and less stressed. However, employees can also pay a small part because they choose where to live. For example, the employer could give a monthly travel card. That would be fair for both sides.

2026年2月1日第4套

You are working at a film festival sponsored by your university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the festival. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Films are shown daily in the screening rooms.

2. You can buy individual tickets here.

3. Grab something to eat or drink from one of the food vendors.

4. You can select merchandise like shirts, bags, and posters.

5. Staff are available to help you with maps and schedules.

6. Take a behind the scenes tour to learn interesting and unusual facts.

7. The events map lists all relevant times and locations if you need help navigating.

You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about digital device usage. You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your use of digital devices. First, how many hours a day do you typically spend using electronics like smartphones, tablets, or computers?

9. Thank you! What types of activities do you usually do on your digital devices? For example, do you use them for work, entertainment, or socializing?

10. Interesting. Can you tell me about a time when you needed to take a break from using digital tools? How did it affect you?

11. Great! Some people believe that spending too much time on personal technology can negatively impact face to face social interactions. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Question 8

I probably spend about 8 hours a day using digital devices. Most of that time is for studying and doing homework on my computer. I also use my smartphone to chat with friends or check information. Sometimes I watch short videos to relax. I know it’s a lot, but it's necessary for my school life and daily communication.

Question 9

l use digital devices mainly for study, entertainment, and socializing. I do research, write papers, and attend online classes. In my free time, I watch videos, listen to music, or play simple games. I also chat with friends and share my life on social media. They help me study efficiently and stay connected with others.

Question 10

Once I tried taking a one-day break from all digital devices. At first, I felt bored and uncomfortable. But later, I read a book and spent time talking with my family. I felt more relaxed and less distracted. My mind became clearer, and I slept better that night. It was a good chance to enjoy real life.

Question 11

I agree that too much screen time can hurt face-to-face communication. When people are always on phones, they don't talk or listen to each other carefully. Real conversations become less meaningful. However, digital tools also help us stay in touch. The key is to balance online and offline life to keep good relationships.

2026年2月1日第5套

You are working at a concert hall at your university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors there. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says

1. The main stage hosts live music performances.
2.The view of the stage from here is amazing.
3.You can purchase tickets directly from the box office.
4.The refreshment area offers snacks and beverages.
5. Restrooms are conveniently located near the main entrance.
6. Guided tours are available to explore the halls, architecture, and history.
7. To find the best tickets for your price range, check the concert hall map for seat locations and costs.

You have volunteered for a research study about people's vacation preferences. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask

8. Thank you for taking the time to speak with us today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your vacation preferences. First, if you have the choice, would you prefer to take a vacation during the summer or winter? Why?

9. Great! If you were planning a vacation, what types of activities would you choose? For example, do you enjoy going to museums, relaxing on the beach, or eating local foods?

10. Got it, Given the opportunity, would you prefer to take a vacation that you or your friends planned or a vacation plan by a travel company, why?

11.Okay,last one. Some people believe that taking multiple shorter vacations is more beneficial than taking one long vacation. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why or why not?

Question 8

I prefer to take a vacation in summer rather than winter. Summer has warm weather and longer days, so I can enjoy outdoor activities more. I love going to the beach, hiking, or exploring new places. In winter, the weather is often cold and gloomy, which limits what I can do. Summer vacations just feel more relaxing and energetic for me.

【简单版】I prefer summer vacation. Why? Because the weather is warm and sunny.I can go outside, wear light clothes, and do many activities like swimming or walking. Winter is too cold for me. I don’t like snow or wearing heavy coats. Also, summer days are longer, so I have more time to enjoy myself. Summer just makes me feel happy and free.

Question 9

On vacation, I really enjoy trying local food and walking around small towns. I also like visiting museums to learn about local history and culture. I'm not the kind of person who likes staying still, so I prefer active but relaxing trips. These activities help me experience the local life and create great memories.

【简单版】I would choose relaxing on the beach. I like to lie down, listen to the waves, and read a book. It helps me forget about school and stress. I also enjoy eating local foods Trying new dishes is fun and delicious. Museums are okay, but I prefer outdoor activities. So my top choices are t h e b e a c h and food. That's a perfect vacation for me.

Question 10

I prefer trips planned by myself or my friends instead of travel companies. When we plan our own trip, we can decide where to go and when to leave. We can change plans freely if we want to trips with friends feel more comfortable and fun. Although travel agencies are convenient, self-planned trips are more special and personal.

【简单版】I prefer a vacation planned by me and my friends. Because we know what we like. We can choose the places, times, and activities freely. A travel company may save time, but it's less flexible. Also, planning together with friends is fun. We talk, share ideas, and get excited. It makes the vacation more personal and memorable.

Question 11

I agree that several shorter vacations are better than one long vacation. Short trips help me relax and recharge many times a year, so I don’t feel too stressed from studying. After a long vacation, I often find it hard to get back to my daily life. With short breaks, I can keep a balanced life and stay in a good mood all year.

【简单版】I agree. With multiple short vacations, I can rest more often. After a few weeks of study, a short break helps me feel fresh again. One long vacation is nice, but I may get bored or tired. Also, short vacations are easier to plan and cost less. So for me, two or three short trips a year are better than one long trip.

2026年2月2日第1套

You are being trained to assist customers at a university tech store. Listen to your trainer and repeat what she says. Repeat only once.

1. Laptops are located in this aisle.
2. We have a wide assortment of headphones.
3. To pick up an online order, go to the checkout counter.
4. Get a phone case for free if you purchase a smartphone from us.
5. Sign up for a membership to receive member-only discounts.
6. You can return unused products for a full refund within 1 week of purchase.
7. We are here to help if you need advice on which model is most suitable for your needs.

You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about personal finance. You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal finance habits. First, How often do you review your money management, such as tracking your expenses or budgeting? Do you do this weekly, monthly, or less often

9 When you know use to manage your finances. For example, do you use budgeting apps or keep a written record

10. Interesting. Tell me about a financial goal you have achieved recently. What motivated you to achieve this goal?

11. Great. Some people believe that fiscal responsibility education should be mandatory in schools to help students manage money effectively as adults. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

Question 8

l usually check my finances and budget once a month. At the end of each month, I look at how much I spent on food, transportation, and other daily things. I try to see where I can save more money. I don't do it every week because I'm busy with school, but a monthly check helps me stay in control of my spending.

Question 9

I mostly use a simple budgeting app on my phone to manage my money. It automatically records my spending and shows clear charts. Sometimes I also write down important costs in a small notebook. Using an app is easier and faster for me, and it helps me avoid overspending without too much effort.

Question 10

Recently, I saved up enough money to buy a new laptop for my studies. I set a small saving goal each month and avoided buying unnecessary things. What motivated me most was that my old computer was slow and affected my studies. Achieving this goal made me feel proud and more responsible with money.

Question 11

I completely agree that money management should be taught in schools. Many students graduate without knowing how to budget, save, or avoid debt. Basic financial skills are necessary for adult life. Teaching these skills early can help young people make better decisions and feel more confident about their future finances.

2026年2月4日同2月8日

2026年2月3日重复1月28日

2026年2月2日第2套

You are being trained to help students use the university's online learning platform. Listen to your trainer and repeat what she says. Repeat only once.

1. Log in to the dashboard with your credentials
2.Check the assignments tab for homework due dates.
3.Access your course materials to read and download them.
4. Participate in discussion boards to engage with peers.
5.Track your progress by viewing your grades regularly online.
6. Set up your daily notifications to stay updated on any new posts.
7.Please use the help section we provided if you feel the need to resolve any issues.

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about remote working. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.I'd like to ask about your experience with remote working. First, have you ever considered working remotely? If you could, how many days per week would you work from h o m e , and why?
9. Thank you. Can you describe some potential challenges you might face if you were to work remotely?
10. Interesting. Some jobs can be done remotely, while others c a n n o t . Do you think it is fair for a company to offer some employees the opportunity to work remotely while other employees cannot? Why.
11. Great. Some people believe that remote working is the future of work. It will become more common. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

Question 8

Yes, I have often thought about working remotely. If I could choose, I would work from home three days a week and go to the office two days. Working from home gives me a quiet environment to focus better on my tasks. I can also save time I would spend commuting. Going to the office a couple of days a week helps me communicate with my team and stay connected. This balance works best for both my work efficiency and my mood.

Question 9

There are a few potential challenges with remote work. First, it's easy to get distracted by things at home, like my phone or household chores. Second, communication with teammates can be slower than in person—sometimes I have to wait for replies instead of talking face-to-face. Also, I might feel isolated if I don't interact with others for a long time, which can affect my mood.

Question 10

I think it's fair for companies to offer remote work to some employees but not others. Some jobs, like design or writing, can be done well from home. But other jobs, like customer service or factory work, need people to be on-site. It's not about favoritism; it's about what the job requires. As long as the company is fair based on job needs, this arrangement makes sense and is reasonable.

Question 11

I agree that remote working will become more common in the future. It's convenient for both employees and companies—employees save time on commuting, and companies can save money on office space. Many jobs now only need a computer and the internet, which makes remote work possible. While not all jobs can be remote, more and more companies will adopt mixed or full remote schedules as technology improves.

2026年2月8日口语1

A. You are working at the university gym. Your manager is teaching you how to assist students there. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Soccer matches and practice take place here.

2.You can play basketball or play games.

3.Be sure to reserve a court in advance to play tennis.

4.Enjoy your swim or unwind in the water with your friends.

5.Various exercise equipment is available here.

6.Personal trainers are available for individual guidance for a small price.

7.If you need help getting around, check the map for specific areas and facilities.

B. As part of a university project, you have agreed to take part in a short research interview about public transportation. A graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions online.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your use of public transportation. First, how often do you use public transportation like buses or trains? Give details to explain your answer.

9. Thank you. Can you describe any benefits or disadvantages you might experience from using public transportation?

10. Interesting. Would you consider moving in order to have better access to public transportation? Why or why not?

11. Great. Some people believe that cities should invest more in public transportation to reduce traffic congestion, commuting time, and pollution. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

Question 8

I use public transportation almost every day. I take the subway to go to school and back home. On weekends, I sometimes take buses when I hang out with friends. I don't have a car, so buses and subways are my main ways to travel around the city. They are cheap and convenient for me, so I rely on them very often.

Question 9

Public transportation has both good and bad sides. It is cheap, eco-friendly, and helps me avoid traffic jams. However, during rush hours, it can be very crowded and uncomfortable. Sometimes I have to wait a long time, and the schedule may not always be on time. Overall, I think the advantages are bigger than the disadvantages.

Question 10

I would consider moving to an area with better public transportation. Good access to subways or buses saves a lot of time and makes daily life much easier. I wouldn't want to move very far, but if the location is convenient and the housing is reasonable, I would definitely do it. It would improve my quality of life a lot.

Question 11

I completely agree that cities should invest more in public transportation. Better public transportation can reduce traffic jams, shorten commuting time, and lower air pollution. It also helps people save money and makes the city more comfortable to live in. Strong public transportation is really important for a modern and healthy city

2026年2月8日口语2

A. You are working a summer internship for the city. Your supervisor is teaching you how to provide tourists with information about city landmarks. Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says. Repeat only once.

1. This castle is famous for its towers.
2. The statue celebrates important events.
3. Visit the market to buy local goods and fresh produce.
4. The park is perfect for relaxing and outdoor activities.
5. See art displays and historical relics at the museum.
6. Guided City Tours can provide detailed information about each landmark.
7. We need to check out the city map for directions and transportation options.

B. You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating shopping habits. You will have a short video interview with one of the researchers. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. I'd like to ask you some questions about your shopping habits. When was your last shopping trip, and what did you buy? Did you have a good shopping experience?
9. I see. When you shop, which do you like better, shopping for yourself or shopping for others? Why?
10. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion in recent years, people shopping preferences have shifted in various ways. Do you think that in the future, people will continue to change how and where they shop, why or why not?
11. Good points. I just have one more question. Some people believe that buying too many products you do not need harms the environment. Do you agree with this idea? Why or why not?

Question 8

My last shopping trip was last weekend. I went to a nearby store to buy some school supplies and daily necessities, like notebooks and snacks. The store was clean, and the service was friendly. I found everything I needed quickly and didn't spend too much time. Overall, it was a simple and pleasant shopping experience.

Question 9

I actually prefer shopping for others more than for myself. Choosing gifts for family or friends makes me feel happy and thoughtful. I enjoy seeing them smile when they get something nice. Shopping for myself often feels more like a task. Buying for others feels more meaningful and fun to me.

Question 10

I believe people's shopping habits will keep changing in the future. Online shopping is already very popular, and new technology will make it even more convenient. Maybe more people will shop using apps or smart devices. Stores will also offer new services to attract customers. As technology develops, the way we shop will definitely continue to change.

Question 11

I completely agree that buying unnecessary things harms the environment. Producing and throwing away products creates a lot of waste and pollution. Many items are thrown away quickly after being used. This wastes natural resources and increases rubbish. We should buy only what we really need to protect the environment and live a simpler life.

2026年2月8日第3套

A. You are working at a botanical garden at your university. Your manager is training you to help visitors at the garden. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. Check the map for specific collections.
2. Tropical plants are housed in the greenhouse.
3. Water features like ponds and fountains add tranquility.
4. The visitor center also sells souvenirs and some snacks.
5. The herb garden includes culinary and medicinal plants.
6. The garden features many varieties of roses that are only cultivated here.
7. If you are interested in a deeper understanding, guided tours are offered hourly.

B. As part of a university project, you have agreed to take part in a short research interview about online learning experiences. A graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions online.

8. I'd like to ask you some questions about your online learning experiences. First, have you or someone ever taken an online course? If so, what was the subject?
9. Thank you. Can you describe what you think of some of the advantages or disadvantages of an online course over and in person course?
10. Interesting. Online courses often let students work at their own pace. How do you feel about learning when there is no set class time?
11. Great. One of the concerns with online learning is online assessment. Some people believe that you cannot trust the results of an online test. What do you think about that issue?

Question 8

Yes, I have taken several online courses before. The most recent one was an English speaking course for my TOEFL preparation. I also took an online psychology class last semester. I enjoyed them because I could learn from great teachers without going to a physical classroom. It was really convenient for my busy schedule.

Question 9

Online courses have both advantages and disadvantages. They are flexible and save time on commuting. I can study anywhere and review the lectures anytime. However, online learning lacks face-to-face interaction. Sometimes it's harder to focus, and I can't ask teachers questions immediately. In-person classes feel more lively and engaging.

Question 10

I like learning without a set class time because it gives me more freedom. I can study when I feel most energetic and productive. It helps me balance study and other activities. But sometimes I feel less motivated and may put off work. Overall, the flexibility is helpful as long as I can manage my time well.

Question 11

I understand the concern about online assessments. It's easier for students to cheat without teachers watching them in person. However, many online tests now use time limits, cameras, or special software to prevent cheating. I think if the system is well-designed, online test results can still be trusted. Technology can help make online assessments fairer.

2026年2月9日第1套

1－7. You are working at a music festival sponsored by your university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the festival. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. The main stage hosts live performances.
2. Vendors offer a variety of foods.
3.You can use credit cards or cash at the merchandise stalls.
4. Restrooms are conveniently located throughout the grounds.
5. The Information booth provides event details and help.
6. Schedules of guided tours in multiple languages can be found at the Information booth to find specific locations and amenities.
7. Check the digital festival map.

8－11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's daily routines. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for taking the time to speak with me. I'd like to ask you some questions about your daily routines. First, do you usually follow a strict daily routine? Or is your schedule more flexible,
9.understood. Now, can you describe a typical day for you? What are some activities you typically do in the morning or in the evening?
10. How do you manage unexpected changes in your daily routine? Can you share an example of a time when you had to adjust your plans? Very good.
11. Last question. Some people believe that having a strict daily routine helps them be more productive and organized, while others think that flexibility is key to handling life's unpredictability, which approach do you think is more effective? And why?

Question 8

My daily schedule is mostly flexible, but I do have some basic rules. I don’t follow a very strict plan every minute. However, I make sure I get up and go to bed at similar times. This keeps me healthy and energetic. I like having some free time to do things I enjoy, so a strict routine would feel too stressful for me.

Question 9

On a typical day, I get up early, have breakfast, and then study or attend classes. In the afternoon, I sometimes exercise or read. In the evening, I finish my homework, relax by listening to music, and chat with my family. I also try to take a short walk before going to bed. This simple routine keeps my life balanced.

Question 10

I try to stay calm when my routine changes unexpectedly. I just change my plans and focus on the most important things first. Once, I had to finish an important assignment at night, so I had to delay my usual exercise time. I just did my work first and adjusted my other activities later. Being flexible helps me stay relaxed.

Question 11

I believe flexibility is much more effective than a strict routine. Life is full of unexpected events, and rigid plans often fail when things go wrong. A strict schedule can cause stress and frustration if we can't follow it perfectly. Flexibility allows us to adapt quickly and stay calm. It also makes daily life more enjoyable and less stressful. In my opinion, flexibility is the real key to long-term productivity.

2026年2月9日第2套

1－7. You are working at a university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the university's cultural festival. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says Repeat only once.

1.Dance acts are featured throughout the day

2. Try different cuisines from around the world, 3.discover creative works by international artists,

4. Join a session to learn about various traditions firsthand.

5.Friendly staff are ready to answer any questions you might have.

6.Use the map to find a specific event or to help you prioritize.

7.For a deeper look at the exhibits, join a walk led by a certified Guide.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study about grocery shopping habits. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for taking part in our study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your grocery shopping habits. First, how often do you go grocery shopping each week? Why that often?

9.Great.Thank you. Can you tell me what types of items you usually buy when you go grocery shopping? For example, do you buy fresh produce, dairy products, or packaged foods?

10. Got it. When you are grocery shopping, how often do you impulse buy? In other words, buy things you did not plan on buying. What types of items do you? Or might you impulse buy? Great, that's helpful.

11. Last question. Some people believe that shopping at local farmers' markets is better than shopping at large grocery stores. Do you agree or disagree with this opinion?

Question 8

I usually go grocery shopping twice a week. I go once on weekdays to buy daily necessities, and once on weekends to stock up for the whole week. I don’t shop every day because I'm busy with school. Shopping twice a week saves time and also keeps food fresh at home.

Question 9

I mainly buy fresh produce like vegetables and fruits. I also get dairy products such as milk and eggs. Sometimes, I buy some frozen food or bread for quick meals. I try to avoid too many packaged snacks. I focus on healthy and fresh food for my daily diet.

Question 10

I sometimes impulse buy when go grocery shopping, but not very often. I usually buy snacks, drinks, or small desserts that I didn’t plan for. I might also pick up some ready-to-eat food if I feel hungry. I try to stick to my list, but tasty treats are hard to resist.

Question 11

I completely agree that shopping at local farmers' markets is better. The food is fresher and tastier because it comes directly from local farms. It also supports local farmers and is more environmentally friendly. Farmers' markets have a nicer atmosphere too. I think they are much better than big supermarkets.

2026年2月9日第3套

1 – 7. You are working at a science fair at your university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors there. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. The robotics section is popular,
2.chemistry experiments can be brilliant.
3. Physics demonstrations explain fundamental principles.
4. Guided tours of the exhibits are available hourly.
5. The information booth provides schedules and assistance.
6. Biology exhibits include interactive displays on living organisms to find your favorite science topic.
7. Check the fair layout map for locations and event details.

8 – 11 You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with movies and cinema. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks in advance for your time today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with movies and cinema. First, do you enjoy watching movies? How often do you watch them?
9. Thanks, that's useful. Now can you describe a movie you recently watched that you enjoyed? What was it about, and why did you like it?
10. Gotcha. Do you prefer watching newer movies or older movies? Why?
11. Great. One last question. Some people believe that movies are always more enjoyable in a theater than they are at home. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why or why not?

Question 8

Yes, I really enjoy watching movies. I usually watch one or two movies every week. Sometimes I watch them at home on weekends, and I go to the cinema when a new movie I'm interested in comes out. Watching movies helps me relax after studying, so I try to make time for it regularly.

Question 9

Recently, I watched a warm comedy movie. It was about a group of friends who went on a funny trip and learned to support each other. I liked it because the story was light and interesting, and the characters were very friendly. It made me laugh and also feel warm inside. It was a great way to relax.

Question 10

I prefer newer movies to older ones. New movies usually have better visual effects and sound, which make the story more exciting. They also talk about modern life and topics I can relate to more easily. Although some old movies are classics, I still enjoy new releases more because they feel fresh and up-to-date.

Question 11

I agree that movies are more enjoyable in a theater than at home. The big screen and powerful sound create a strong and immersive experience. Watching with other people also makes the film feel more fun and lively. Even though watching at home is comfortable, the cinema offers a special feeling that cannot be replaced.

2026年2月9日第4套

You are working at a university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at a university open house event. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. Visitors should check in when they arrive.
2. There are informational sessions scheduled.
3. Student-led tours highlight what typical campus housing is like.
4.Meals and snacks are available for purchase for visitors.
5.Guests are welcome to make use of the study areas though the campus is large.
6. The printed map includes every session and location.
7.If you are free this afternoon, you can join one of the scheduled campus tours.

You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating travel habits. You will have a short video interview with one of the researchers. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for participating in this study. Today, I'd like to ask you some questions about your travel habits. First, can you tell me about a recent trip you or a friend took and what you or the friend enjoyed most about it?

9. I see. One important part of traveling is deciding to go alone or with a group, thinking about a place you would like to visit. Would you prefer to go there alone or with a group? Why?

10. Interesting. For many people, one of the most exciting parts of travel is choosing a destination. If you are going to select a place to travel to, how would you go about making a list of potential places? Please describe your process.

11. Good points. Finally, one major issue with travel today is overcrowding. Popular places have so many tourists visiting at one time that the sites are unable to allow all the people who want to visit. As a result, virtual travel experiences are becoming more common compared to real life travel. Do you think a virtual travel experience is worthwhile? Why or why not?

Question 8

Last month, I took a short trip to a nearby mountain town with my friend. We walked around the old streets, tried local food, and enjoyed the peaceful countryside. What I enjoyed most was escaping from busy school life and relaxing with my friend. It was a great break and made me feel refreshed.

Question 9

For my ideal trip, I would prefer to go with a small group of close friends. Traveling with friends is more fun and makes the trip more memorable. We can take photos, share experiences, and look after each other. Traveling alone feels a bit lonely to me, so going with friends is always better.

Question 10

When choosing a travel place, I first look for safe and comfortable destinations. Then I check online reviews and photos from other travelers. I also think about the weather and transportation. I make a short list of 2-3 places and discuss with friends before deciding. This way, I can pick the best choice easily.

Question 11

I don't think virtual travel is as worthwhile as real travel. Virtual trips can show you pictures or videos, but they can't give you the real feelings, like the fresh air, local food, or the fun of being there. Real travel creates real memories. Virtual experiences can never fully replace actual trips.

2026年2月10日第1套

1.The computer lab has free Wi-Fi access.
2.The reading room is a quiet space for patrons.
3.The children's section has books and activities for kids.
4.The reference desk can provide assistance for research projects.
5.Study rooms can be reserved for group work and other meetings.
6.Library staff are available to help find resources here or at other locations.
7.If you are looking for other specific locations and services, please use our guide.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your environmental practices. First, do you take any specific actions to reduce your environmental impact? Such as recycling or conserving energy give details in your answer.
9.Thank you. Can you describe one or two steps your community or neighborhood takes to be environmentally friendly? For example, are there solar panels on buildings or rainwater barrels available where you live?
10.Interesting.If you had the chance to participate in an ecological or nature based activity, such as a community cleanup effort or tree planting event, what would you do, and why?
11.Great.Some people believe that individual actions are not enough to address conservation issues, and that significant changes must come from government policies. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

Question 8
Yes, I try to take simple but consistent environmental actions .I recycle paper, plastic, and glass every day instead of throwing them away. I also turn off lights and electronic devices when I don't use them to save energy. I bring my own reusable bag when shopping to cut down on plastic waste. These small habits help me reduce my environmental impact.
Question 9
My neighborhood has several eco-friendly practices. We have clearly labeled recycling bins on almost every street, so it's easy for people to recycle properly. The community also organizes a monthly park clean-up day. Some public buildings use energy-saving lights, and there are more green spaces and trees to improve air quality.
Question 10
If I had the chance, I would join a tree-planting activity.I think planting trees is really helpful for the environment—it can clean the air, provide shade ,and make the city greener.I also enjoy working outdoors with other people. It would make me feel proud to contribute directly to protecting nature.
Question 11
I agree that individual actions are not enough, and strong government policies are necessary. Problems like pollution and climate change are too big for people to solve alone. Governments can make laws, support clean energy, and control industrial waste. However, Individual efforts still matter. Real change needs both policy and people working together.

2026年2月10日第2套

1－7. You are working a part-time job at a home improvement store near campus. Your manager is training you to assist customers at the store. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Lighting is located near the entrance.

2. Flooring includes tile, wood, and carpet.

3.A wide variety of paint colors are available.

4. The tool area has everything from hammers to drills.

5. Garden supplies are available at the back of the store.

6. Anyone returning an item should be directed to the service counter.

7. Customers may need help in many sections, so move around the store to assist as needed.

8-11. You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating volunteering and community service. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with volunteering and community service. First, have you ever participated in any volunteer activities? And if you do, how often do you volunteer?

9. Thank you. Can you tell me about a charity effort or a donation drive that you have heard about that made an impact on where you live?

10. Interesting. Can you describe a public service project that you have been involved in or would like to participate in if you had the time?

11. Great. Some people believe that volunteering should be a mandatory part of the school curriculum to help students develop a sense of community. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

Question 8

Yes, I have taken part in volunteer activities before. I usually volunteer once or twice a semester, often on weekends. I've joined community clean-ups and activities for elderly people. It makes me feel good to help others and connect with the community around me.

Question 9

I know about a local food donation drive that helped families in need. People donated rice, snacks, and daily goods, and volunteers delivered them to poorer households. It really touched me because it showed how people can support each other and make a real difference in the community.

Question 10

If I had more time, I would love to join a student tutoring program. I want to help younger kids with their studies, especially those who don’t have enough family support. I think helping children learn is meaningful and would give me a strong sense of achievement.

Question 11

I completely agree that volunteering should be mandatory in school. It teaches students responsibility, empathy, and teamwork. Many students wouldn’t volunteer on their own, so schools can encourage them to care about others. It helps build a stronger community and makes students better people.

2026年2月10日第3套

1－7. You are working a part-time job at a pet store near campus. Your manager is training you to assist customers at the store. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.We sell food for all types of animals.

2.Our toys section offers fun items to play with.

3. Grooming supplies include shampoos, brushes, and nail clippers.

4.There are habitats for fish, reptiles and many other pets.

5.The checkout is conveniently located near the store exit.

6. Related near the store exit. Ask any associate for assistance with locating our fine products.

7.A s always, visit our store website for a list of specific products and sections.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about work experience. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. I'd like to ask you some questions about your work experience. First, can you tell me about the type of work you are currently doing or have done in the past.

9. Thank you. Can you describe some of your regular responsibilities or particular tasks that you do in your job?

10.Interesting.Tell me about a challenging project or task you have worked on. How did you handle it?

11.Great.Some people believe that gaining diverse work experiences by often changing jobs and companies is more valuable than staying in one job or one company for a long time. What is your opinion on this? Why?

Question 8

l used to work as a part-time office assistant at a small company near my university.My job was simple but helpful, and it gave me my first real taste of professional work. It was a great chance for me to learn basic office skills and understand how real workplaces operate.

Question 9

My main responsibilities included organizing files, answering phone calls, and helping with simple paperwork. I also helped schedule meetings and took notes during discussions. These tasks were not difficult, but they required attention to detail and good time management.

Question 10

Once, I had to finish a large data-entry task within a tight deadline. I felt stressed at first, but I stayed calm and made a clear plan. I worked step by step and focused on one part at a time. I also asked a colleague for help when I needed it. Finally, I finished the task on time successfully.

Question 11

I disagree with that idea. I believe staying in one company for a longer time is more valuable. It allows you to build deep skills, strong relationships, and real trust with your team. Changing jobs too often only gives surface-level experience. Long-term experience helps you grow into a responsible and reliable professional.

2026年2月10日第4套

1-7.You are working a part-time job at the university's planetarium. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors there. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.The star theater shows films about planets.

2. Interactive exhibits promote learning

3. Our gift shop has many fun and smart items with a space theme.

4.The cafe is near the entrance and offers snacks and drinks.

5. An information desk provides assistance and event details.

6. As you head in, be sure to check out the map for specific areas and show times.

7. Take a guided tour if you want to learn more about the planetarium displays.

8-11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about personal development. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about personal development. First, what skills or qualities would you like to develop in the future? Why?

9. Thank you. When you think about improving yourself, what inspires you to take action? Is it someone, an experience you've had, or something you've read or seen?

10. Do you think personal development necessarily is something you do by yourself? Or is it okay to receive help from others? Why?

11. Great. Do you think self-improvement is easier now than in the past? Why?

Question 8

I' d really like to improve my communication and leadership skills. I think they are important for both my studies and my future career. Being able to express myself clearly and work well with others will help me become more confident and successful. That's why I want to develop these skills.

Question 9

My family and friends inspire me the most. When I see them working hard and improving themselves, I feel motivated too. Sometimes I also get inspired by successful people's stories online. Their positive energy pushes me to take action and become a better version of myself.

Question 10

I think it's completely okay to receive help from others. Personal development doesn't have to be done alone. Friends, teachers, or family can give useful advice and support. Learning from others' experience is often faster and more effective than trying by oneself.

Question 11

I definitely think self-improvement is easier now than in the past. We can find online courses, videos, and tips on the Internet easily. There are many tools and apps to help us learn new skills. In the past, people had fewer resources. So, today, improving ourselves is much more convenient.

2026年2月11日第1套

1－7. You are learning how to give the weather report for the university radio station. Listen to the speaker and repeat what she says. Repeat only once.

1. Today will be sunny and clear.
2. Expect cloudy conditions in the afternoon.
3. Rain showers are predicted for the evening.
4. Temperatures will range from 15 to 20 degrees Celsius.
5. Winds will be light around 10 km per hour.
6. Keep an umbrella handy for possible evening rain.
7. When you need a weather update, check out our new online app now available.

8-11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about sports participation. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate.I'd like to ask you some questions about your participation in sports. First, do you currently play any sports or engage regularly in any physical activities?
9. Thank you. If you were able to. What sport that you do not currently play would you like to be really good at? Why that particular sport
10. Interesting. Tell me about an experience you had while playing a sport or engaging in physical activity that you remember well. What made it memorable?
11.Great.Some people believe that children should not participate in contact sports like rugby or hockey,Because they could get hurt,While others believe that these sports teach awareness and teamwork.What do you think, and why?

Question 8

Yes,I exercise regularly.I usually go jogging three or four times a week and sometimes play basketball with my friends.I do these activities to stay healthy and relieve stress from schoolwork.Being active helps me feel more energetic every day.

Question 9

If I could,I would love to be good at swimming.It is a very useful life skill and a great full-body workout.Swimming is also gentle on the body and helps me relax.I think it would be cool to swim confidently and efficiently in the water.

Question 10

I remember a basketball game with my classmates last semester.We were behind for most of the game,but we kept supporting each other.In the end,we scored the winning point.The excitement and team spirit made it unforgettable.It taught me the importance of teamwork and never giving up.

Question 11

I believe children can participate in contact sports if proper safety rules are followed.These sports really teach teamwork,courage,and discipline.Of course,injuries are possible,but good coaching and protective gear can reduce risks.Overall,the benefits are more important than the possible dangers.

2026年2月11日第2套【参考3月10日第1套】

1－7. You are learning to assist visitors at a university open house.Listen to the speaker and repeat what she says.Repeat only once.

1. Welcome to our campus tour.
2. The enrollment office is straight ahead.
3. Next door,you will see the library.
4.The Cafeteria has many meal options available.
5.The university lecture halls are located over here.
6.If you have any questions,please stop by the information desk.
7. Lastly, please also remember to check the event at the entrance.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about hobbies. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies to begin with. Do you have a hobby or interest that you regularly spend time doing?
9. Thank you. If you were to select a new hobby, what would you choose and why?
10. Interesting. Now tell me what might prevent you from starting this new pastime.
11. Great. Some people believe it is better to have one interest outside of work or school. Did you dedicate yourself to rather than multiple smaller ones? What do you think about that, and why?

Question 8

Yes, I have a hobby I do regularly: listening to music. I spend time every day enjoying different kinds of music, especially when I walk, study, or relax before bed. It helps me calm down and feel less stressed. It's simple, but it's an important part of my daily life.

Question 9

If I could choose a new hobby, I would pick photography. I love capturing nice moments in daily life, like sunsets, streets, or small details in nature. It would let me see the world more carefully and create something meaningful. It also seems relaxing and creative.

Question 10

The main things that prevent me from starting photography are time and money. Good cameras and equipment can be expensive, and I'm already busy with schoolwork. I also worry that I won't have enough time to practice and improve my skills regularly.

Question 11

I disagree with that idea.I think having several small hobbies is better.Trying different things keeps life interesting and fun.It also helps me relax in different ways.Focusing on only one hobby can feel tiring or boring sometimes.Having multiple interests gives me more joy and balance.

2026年2月11日第3套

1－7. You are learning to guide new students on how to use tools in a woodworking class. Listen to the speaker and repeat what she says. Repeat only once.

1.Welcome to the wood shop.

2.This toolbox contains everything you should need.

3.You will learn to use your soul in our classes.

4.Your screwdriver can be used with all of our carpentry machines.

5.All wood will need to be smooth,so use the sandpaper provided.

6.Use only what is needed so that your supplies last all quarter.

7.Before you leave the classroom be sure you put all your tools back into the toolbox.

8-11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about dining preferences. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate,I'd like to ask you some questions about your dining preferences first.How often do you eat out at restaurants? Do you do this daily,weekly, monthly or less often?

9. Thank you.If you were going to eat out, what types of cuisine do you prefer? For example, do you like savory foods or desserts?

10.Interesting.Can you tell me about a memorable dining experience or meal you or a friend have had recently that made it special or stand out?

11.Great.Some people believe that the atmosphere and service at a restaurant are just as important as the food quality.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Question 8

l I usually eat out about once a week. I'm often busy with schoolwork,so I eat most meals at home or in the school cafeteria.But on weekends,I like to go to restaurants with friends to relax and enjoy a change.Eating out once a week feels just right for me.

Question 9

I prefer savory foods much more than desserts.I enjoy different kinds of cuisine,like Chinese dishes,noodles,and simple grilled food.I like meals that are filling and full of flavor.I sometimes eat dessert after a meal,but savory food is always my main choice.

Question 10

Last week,I had dinner with friends at a small local restaurant.The food was delicious,but what made it special was the time we spent talking and laughing together.It was a relaxing evening after a long week of studying.That warm and happy feeling made the meal really memorable.

Question 11

I completely agree that atmosphere and service are just as important as food quality. Good service makes guests feel welcome and comfortable.A nice atmosphere helps people relax and enjoy their time together.Even if the food is good,bad service or an uncomfortable environment can ruin the whole dining experience.

2026年2月11日第4套

1－7. You are working a part-time job at a clothing store near campus.Your manager is training you to assist customers at the store.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1. The women's clothing section is this way.
2.Our Men's Corner has shirts,trousers and jackets.
3.Our accessories are on display near the entrance.
4. Fitting rooms are available here for trying on clothes.
5.The checkout is by the exit when you're ready to pay.
6.Ask our store associates if you need help finding specific items.
7.If you get lost,check the store map for the layout and locations of the departments.

8-11. You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating people's experiences with books and reading. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for your participation. I'd like to learn about your experiences with books and reading. Was there a time in your life when you read more or less than you do now? What changed?
9. Great. In your opinion, is reading for pleasure a popular way people spend their free time where you live? Why do you think that is?
10. Interesting. Do you think reading different types of books helps people understand each other and get along better? Why or why not?
11. One more question. Looking ahead, some people believe that future generations will read less than today's generation. Do you agree or disagree? Why?

Question 8

Yes, I used to read much more when I was in high school than I do now. Back then, I had more free time and often read novels before sleeping. Now, with heavier schoolwork and more online materials, I spend less time reading long books. I still read, but mostly short articles or digital content.

Question 9

I don’t think reading for pleasure is very popular where I live. Most people prefer watching videos, using social media, or playing games in their free time. These activities are more relaxing and require less effort. People are often busy and feel that reading books takes too much energy and time.

Question 10

I definitely believe reading different kinds of books helps people understand each other better.Books introduce different cultures,lives,and opinions.When we read,we can see the world from others’ viewpoints.This helps us become more open-minded and respectful toward people around us.

Question 11

I agree that future generations will read less than today.More entertainment tools will be developed,and people will choose easier activities over reading.Even though information will be everywhere,deep reading will become less common.Most people will prefer short, quick content instead of long books.

2026年1月28日第1套

1.Enter your name and student ID number.

2.Browse the course catalog to choose your classes.

3.You can use the schedule planner tool to avoid time conflicts.

4.If a class is already full,a pop up message will appear.

5. Contact the instructor to see if more seats can be added.

6.You can still add or drop classes up until the second week of the new semester.

7.For your records print out a list of your classes or e m a i l a copy to yourself.

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about hobbies.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies to b e g i n w i t h . Do you have a hobby or interest that you regularly spend time doing?

9.Thank you.If you were to select a new hobby,what would you choose and why?

10.Interesting.Now tell me what might prevent you from starting this new pastime.

11. Great. Some people believe it is better to have one interest outside of work or school. Did you dedicate yourself to rather than multiple smaller ones? What do you think about that, and why?

Question 8

Yes, I have a hobby I do regularly: listening to music. I spend about one hour each day enjoying different kinds of music, especially pop and light jazz. It helps me relax after a long day of studying. Sometimes I also use music to focus better when I read or do homework. It's a simple hobby, but it really makes my life more enjoyable and less stressful.

Question 9

If I could choose a new hobby, I would pick photography. I love taking pictures of nature, streets, and small beautiful moments in daily life. It would let me explore new places and see the world differently. I also think it's a creative way to record memories. It seems fun and not too difficult to start with just a phone.

Question 10

The main thing stopping me is probably time. With schoolwork and other responsibilities, I'm often busy and don't have much free time. I also worry that I might not be very good at it at first. Sometimes I just feel too tired to start something new after a busy day. These are the biggest challenges for me right now.

Question 11

I think both ways are fine, but I prefer having several small hobbies. Focusing on one interest can make you very skilled, but it might also feel tiring. Having different hobbies lets me relax in different ways and keeps life more interesting. I can choose what I feel like doing each day. It helps me stay balanced and enjoy my free time more.

2026年2月23日第1套

1-7. You are learning how to give the weather report for the university radio station. Listen to the speaker and repeat what she says. Repeat only once.

1. Today will be sunny and clear.
2. Expect cloudy conditions in the afternoon.
3. Rain showers are predicted for the evening.
4. Temperatures will range from 15 to 20 degrees Celsius.
5. Winds will be light, around 10 km per hour.
6. Keep an umbrella handy for possible evening rain.
7. When you need a weather update, check out our new online a p p , now available all day.

8 – 11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with learning new hobbies. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks for being involved in this research. I'd like to ask you some questions about learning new hobbies. First, what kinds of hobbies do your friends or family have? Why do you think they enjoy doing them?
9. Thanks for that. Now, if your school or workplace were to organize after-work hobby clubs, which clubs do you think would interest the most people?
10. Great. That's helpful. Next, do you think hobbies should mostly be relaxing or is it better if they challenge you? Why?
11. Got it. Now, last question. How important do you think it is for people to keep exploring new hobbies as they grow o l d e r ? W h y ?

Question 8

Many of my friends enjoy sports like basketball and jogging. They do these to stay healthy and relax after studying. My family likes gardening and cooking. They find these activities calming and satisfying. These hobbies help them relieve stress and enjoy their free time.

Question 9

I think sports clubs and art clubs would attract the most people. Many students want to exercise to stay fit, so sports clubs are very popular. Art clubs like photography or drawing are also loved because they let people be creative. These clubs fit students' interests and help them relax.

Question 10

I believe hobbies should be mostly relaxing.The main reason people have hobbies is to reduce pressure from school or work.If a hobby is too challenging,it can become tiring instead of enjoyable.A little challenge is okay,but the main goal should be comfort and fun.

Question 11

I think it's very important for people to try new hobbies as they get older.Learning new things keeps the mind active and life interesting.It helps people meet new friends and stay positive.Exploring new hobbies also makes people more open-minded and fulfilled throughout their lives.

2026年2月24日第重复2月4/8日

2026年2月23日第2套

1－7. You are learning how to give a tutorial on the video equipment for faculty to use in the classroom.Listen to the speaker and repeat what he says.Repeat only once.

1. Your equipment is ready.
2. You can use this station for projection.
3. This computer connects to the monitor.
4. We also provide a microphone for use in presentations.
5. You should check your connections before you start to present.
6. Remember to upload your slides so you can display them with ease.
7. If you find yourself needing assistance,call us on the helpline, and we will assist you.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with social gatherings.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for being part of the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with social gatherings.First,do you enjoy large social gatherings or do you prefer smaller,more private gatherings? Why is that?
9. Thank you.Can you describe a memorable social gathering you attended recently? What made it special?
10. Very good.How do you usually prepare for a social gathering? What do you focus on most?
11. Some people believe that social gatherings are important opportunities for building and maintaining professional relationships.Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why or why not?

Question 8

I definitely prefer smaller,private gatherings over large ones.In small groups,I can have real,meaningful conversations with friends instead of just making small talk.Large parties often feel loud and overwhelming,and find it hard to connect with people there.Small gatherings feel more relaxed and genuine to me.

Question 9

Recently,I attended a small birthday dinner for a close friend at his apartment.What made it special was that it was just our small circle of friends.We cooked together,shared stories,and laughed a lot.There were no distractions,just good food and great company. It felt warm and intimate,which I really valued.

Question 10

Before a social gathering,I usually decide what to wear to feel comfortable and appropriate.Most importantly,I try to relax and clear my mind.I also think of a few simple topics to talk about,like recent movies or weekend plans,to avoid awkward silences.Being in a good mood is key for me.

Question 11

I completely agree that social gatherings are important for professional relationships. They let you talk to colleagues in a casual setting,which builds trust and friendship.You can learn about others' work and even find new opportunities.These personal connections often make working together easier and more effective.

2026年2月25日第1套

1－7. You are working in the university library.Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the library.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1. The library books are located here.
2.Study rooms can be reserved for group work.
3. Our computer lab has work stations with internet access.
4. Seek help at the Reference Desk for any research assistance.
5. Find the tasty refreshments and healthy snacks at the Basement Cafe.
6. For your convenience, we have a map with a list of sections and resources.
7. If you have general or specific questions, our staff are here to meet your needs.

8-11. You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating spending habits and budgeting. You will have a short video interview with one of the researchers. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for participating in this study. Today, I'd like to ask you some questions about your spending habits. First, can you tell me about a recent purchase you or someone in your family made and why you decided to buy it?
9. I see. When you make a purchase, do you usually plan ahead or do you buy things spontaneously?
10. Interesting. Some people believe that creating a monthly or weekly budget is essential for managing finances effectively. When budgeting your time or money for your next purchase, which is more important, quality for the money or spending less overall? Why?
11. Good points for my final question: I'd like to ask about using apps or online tools for managing spending habits. Do you think people will increasingly rely on financial apps and tools to manage their money? Or will people prefer to hire personal financial managers? Explain your thoughts.

Question 8

Recently, I bought a new backpack for school. My old one was worn out and too small for my books and laptop. I chose a strong, comfortable one that would last a long time. It was a necessary purchase to help me carry my school things more easily.

Question 9

I almost always plan ahead before buying anything.I usually make a shopping list and think about whether I really need the item.I rarely buy things spontaneously.Planning helps me save money and avoid wasting it on things I don’t need.

Question 10

I think quality for the money is more important.I'd rather pay a little more for something that lasts a long time and works well.Spending less upfront but replacing items often ends up costing more.Good value is better than just a low price.

Question 11

I believe people will rely more on financial apps in the future.They are easy to use,cheap, and convenient for daily use.Most people don't need expensive personal managers. Apps can track spending and budgets quickly.They fit the modern lifestyle better.

2026年2月25日第2套

1－7. You are working at your university's visitor center.Your manager is training you to give campus tours to university students.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.The tour begins at the main entrance.

2.Our first stop is the campus library.

3. Next, we will visit the cafeteria for a brief lunch.

4. The Picture Hall is used for many physical classes.

5.This story complex is where most first year students live.

6.The Union Building has many events for everyone on weekday evenings.

7.If you have any questions after the tour,visit the information booth.

8-11. You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with financial planning.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for joining us today to help with the study,I'd like to ask you some questions about your experience with financial planning.Do you currently have a financial plan or budget that you follow?

9.Thank you.If you design the ideal way of managing your money,what does it look like?

10. I see.In your opinion,what are the most common obstacles people run into with financial planning?

11. Some people believe detailed visual planning is crucial for a team's long-term financial stability and goals.Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not?

Question 8

Yes,I do follow a simple monthly budget.I write down how much I spend on food,study materials,and daily things.I also try to save a small amount every month.This helps me control my spending and avoid running out of money before the end of the month.

Question 9

My ideal money management system would be simple and clear.I would set aside money for daily needs,some for savings,and a little for fun.I would use an app to track my spending automatically.It would be easy to follow and not stressful at all.

Question 10

I think the biggest obstacles are unexpected costs and impulse buying.Many people want to buy things immediately without thinking.Also,some people find budgeting boring or difficult to stick to.Lack of self-control and unclear plans often make people fail. Question 11

I completely agree.Detailed planning helps people see their goals clearly and stay on track.When you write down your goals, you are more likely to achieve them.It helps people avoid overspending and prepare for the future. It is truly important for long-term financial stability.

2026年2月25日第3套

复试和面试两部分题都在别的套题里面都考过

You are working at a university's computer lab.Your manager is training you to assist new students.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Use your email address to log in.

2.You can print all your documents here.

3.You can also access the scanners in this corner free of charge.

4. Visit the help desk to solve any technical problems

5. Check to make sure the Wi-Fi connection is stable and secure.

6. Remember to save your work frequently to avoid data loss or corruption.

7. If you are unsure when the lab is open, you can check the weekly schedule here.

8－11. You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about holiday celebrations. You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about holiday celebrations. First, do you celebrate holidays with your family, friends, or both? How often do you participate with them?

9. Thank you. Can you describe one of your favorite holiday celebrations or festivals? What do you do to mark the occasion?

10. Interesting. Tell me about a special event that was particularly memorable for you. What made it meaningful?

11. Great. Some people believe that traditional cultural observances are becoming less important in modern society. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Question 8

I usually celebrate holidays with both my family and close friends. I spend major traditional holidays with my family, and smaller holidays or short breaks with friends. I take part in these gatherings every holiday season. Being together with people I love makes holidays special and meaningful.

Question 9

My favorite holiday is the Spring Festival. I enjoy the warm family atmosphere the most. We have a big family dinner, watch TV together, and chat happily. We also visit relatives and exchange greetings and small gifts. It's a time for relaxation, reunion, and new hope.

Question 10

Last year's Spring Festival was especially memorable.The whole family gathered together after a long time.We cooked,laughed,and shared stories from the whole year.I felt deep love and connection with my family.The warmth and happiness made that holiday truly meaningful.

Question 11

I disagree with this opinion.Traditional cultural celebrations are still very important.They help us remember our history and values,and strengthen family and community bonds. Many young people still enjoy and respect traditions.Modern life is busy,but cultural traditions will always play a key role in our lives.

2026年3月1日新1套

You are learning to help students navigate the university's dining hall.Listen to the speaker and repeat what she says.Repeat only once.

1.Let's tour the dining hall.

2. Food stations are located here.

3.Our seating area is very roomy.

4. The beverage machines provide students with drinks and refreshments.

5.The cashier will take your payment for your food and drinks over here.

6.Remember to clean up after you eat and throw away your trash.

7.If you want to know what is being offered,just check the daily menu for special dishes.

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about sports participation. You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your participation in sports first.Do you currently play any sports or engage regularly in any physical activities?

9. Thank you.If you were able to,what sport that you do not currently play, would you like to be really good at?

10.Interesting.Tell me about an experience you had while playing a sport or engaging in physical activity that you remember well.What made it memorable?

11.Great.Some people believe that children should not participate in contact sports like rugby or hockey because they could get hurt,while others believe that these sports teach awareness and teamwork.What do you think and why?

Question 8

Yes,I exercise regularly.I usually go jogging three or four times a week and sometimes play badminton with my friends.I do these activities to stay healthy and relax after studying.Being physically active helps me stay energetic and focused in daily life.

Question 9

If I could,I would love to be good at basketball.It looks fun and exciting,and it involves a lot of teamwork.I also think playing basketball helps build strength and confidence.I enjoy team sports,and I want to play with friends and improve my skills.

Question 10

I remember a morning jog last month.I ran in a park and saw a beautiful sunrise.The air was fresh,and I felt really peaceful.It was not about speed or competition; it was just enjoying the moment.That calm and happy feeling made the experience really memorable.

Question 11

I think children can do contact sports if safety rules are followed.These sports teach teamwork,courage,and responsibility.Of course,injuries are possible,but good coaches and proper equipment can reduce risks.The life skills they learn are more valuable than the small danger involved.

2026年3月4日重复之前的拼盘

2026年3月3日第重复2月10日

2026年3月2日第重复2月11日

2026年3月2日新1套

1－7. You are volunteering at a historical castle near campus.Your supervisor is training you to assist visitors to the castle.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1. This courtyard is where events are held.
2. We showcase vintage portraits in the main hall.
3. The towers offer a stunning view of the surroundings
4. Our gardens are filled with beautiful flowers and walking paths.
5. The gift shop sells enticing souvenirs to bring back home.
6. Guided tours provide detailed information about the history of the area.
7. Upon arriving, check the map for specific locations and visitor amenities.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about online shopping. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your online shopping habits. First, how often do you shop online? Do you do it weekly, monthly, or less often?
9. Thank you. If you were to shop online, what types of products would you be most likely to buy? For example, would you buy clothing, electronics or groceries?
10. Interesting. Some people believe that online shopping is more convenient than shopping in physical stores, while others think it's a worse experience because it lacks the human interaction of in-person shopping. What is your opinion on this? Why?
11. Great. Some people believe physical stores might one day disappear because of online shopping. What is your opinion on this? Why?

Question 8

I shop online about once a week. I' m usually busy with schoolwork, so I don’t have much time to go to physical stores. I buy many daily items online because it's fast and easy. Shopping once a week fits my schedule well and helps me get everything I need without wasting time.

Question 9

I mostly buy clothing, school supplies, and small electronics online. Sometimes I also buy snacks and daily necessities. I rarely buy groceries online because I prefer to choose fresh food in person. Clothing and small items are simple to order and return if needed, so they are my top choices.

Question 10

I think online shopping is more convenient overall.I can shop anytime and compare prices easily.However,I understand that it lacks face-to-face interaction.For me, convenience is more important in daily life.But I still enjoy going to physical stores occasionally for the shopping atmosphere.

Question 11

I don't think physical stores will disappear completely.Many people still like to see,try, and touch products before buying them,especially clothes,shoes,and furniture.Physical stores also offer immediate experience and social interaction.Online shopping is convenient,but physical stores will still exist in their own way.

2026年3月1日新2套

1 – 7. You are being trained to show students how to use the campus library's printing services.Listen to the speaker and repeat what he says.Repeat only once.

1 Welcome to the help desk.

2 First, select the printer from your computer.

3 Check the paper tray supply before you start.

4 You can use your student I D for any other services.

5 You can pay at the payment kiosk if you prefer that method.

6 The help desk is available if you need assistance.

7 When you are ready simply select print from your computer and retrieve your document.

8 Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your music preferences first.How often do you listen to music? Do you listen daily, weekly, or less often?

9 Thank you.What genres or types of music do you usually enjoy listening to,for example,do you prefer classical rock or Jazz music give details to explain your answer?

10 Interesting.Can you tell me about a concert or live music event you would like to attend?Why would you make that particular choice?

11 Great.Some people believe that music can have a powerful effect on our emotions and moods.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Question 8

I listen to music just about every day.I usually put on songs while I study,walk between classes,or before I go to bed.Music helps me relax and stay focused.It has become a daily habit for me,so I almost never go a day without listening to some kind of music.

Question 9

I mostly listen to pop music and light rock.They have catchy melodies and positive lyrics that cheer me up.Sometimes I also enjoy soft jazz when I want to calm down.I don’t really like music that is too loud or sad.I prefer songs that are easy to listen to and make me feel good.

Question 10

I would love to attend a pop music concert by my favorite singer. I've only heard their songs online,so seeing them perform live would be really exciting.I also want to experience the energy of the crowd and sing along with other fans.It would be a fun and unforgettable experience.

Question 11

I completely agree that music strongly affects our emotions.Upbeat songs can make me feel happy and active,while soft music helps me relax when I'm stressed.Music can express feelings that are hard to put into words.It can really change our mood quickly and strongly.

2026年3月8日第1套

You are volunteering at a botanical garden near your university.Listen to your trainer and repeat what he says.Repeat only once.

1.You can buy tickets at the entrance.

2.The Rose Garden is beautiful this season.

3. The pond is a popular spot for sitting and relaxing.

4. Visit the greenhouse for a variety of exotic plants.

5.Check the bulletin board for information about guided tours.

6.The gift shop offers souvenirs and gardening books at reasonable prices.

7.Enjoy your lunch at our cafe,which has outdoor seating overlooking the grounds.

8－11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with hobbies.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thanks for being involved in this research.I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies.First,what kinds of hobbies do you think are especially popular today?Why do you think that is?

9. Do you think friends,family or community play a role in encouraging someone to take up a hobby.

10.Noted now,many people start hobbies but don't continue with them.What do you think leads people to give up on their hobbies?

11.OK,thanks.Last one.Some people believe spending time on hobbies is essential,while others see it as a luxury.What is your opinion?

【范文1】

8.I think fitness-related hobbies are especially popular today,like running,yoga,or going to the gym.I believe this is because people are much more aware of health and wellness now.Social media also plays a big role;people see fitness influencers and want to try those activities themselves.Plus,after the pandemic,many people realized that taking care of their physical and mental health is really important,and these hobbies are a great way to do both.

9. I definitely think friends and family play a huge role.If your friends are really into something,like playing tennis or baking,they'll often invite you to join them,which makes it easy to start.Family can also introduce you to hobbies when you're young,like camping or fishing.A community is important too,because being part of a group,like a book club or a running team,gives you a sense of belonging and encouragement to keep doing the activity.

10. I think the main reason people give up on hobbies is simply a lack of time.Life gets really busy with work,school,or family responsibilities,and hobbies become a low priority.Another reason might be that they lose interest if the hobby is too difficult at first and they don't see quick progress.If it stops being fun and starts feeling like a chore, it's easy to just quit and move on to something else.

11.In my opinion,spending time on hobbies is essential,not just a luxury.Hobbies are so important for reducing stress and giving our minds a break from daily pressures.They also help us grow as people by learning new skills and expressing ourselves creatively. While I understand that some people are very busy,making time for a hobby improves your overall happiness,which actually helps you perform better in other areas of life.

【范文2】

8. I think creative hobbies like painting,photography,and playing musical instruments are really popular these days.People seem to want a way to express themselves and escape from their screens for a while.Another reason is that these hobbies are very "Instagrammable"—people enjoy sharing their artwork or photos online and getting positive feedback from others.It's a nice way to feel productive and creative at the same time,without the pressure of work.

9. Family definitely plays the biggest role, in my opinion.When I was a child,my parents signed me up for swimming lessons and piano classes,which became lifelong interests. Friends are also important because peer pressure can be positive—if all your friends are playing basketball, you'll want to join them.Community centers and local clubs matter too, because they provide affordable access to equipment and spaces where people can try new things together.

10. I believe money is a big factor why people stop their hobbies.Some hobbies, like skiing,photography,or playing guitar can get really expensive once you need better equipment or lessons.When people realize how much it costs to continue,they might give up.Also,some hobbies become boring after the initial excitement wears off.The first few lessons are fun,but practicing regularly feels like work,so people lose motivation and move on to something new and exciting.

11. I see hobbies as essential for maintaining good mental health.Life shouldn't just be about working and fulfilling responsibilities—we need things that bring us joy.Hobbies give us something to look forward to after a long day.They also help us build confidence when we improve at something we love.While some people view hobbies as a luxury because they're busy surviving,I think even small,low-cost hobbies like reading or jogging can make a huge difference in someone's happiness.

2026年3月8日第2套

1 – 7. You are learning how to give new students a tutorial on how to register for classes at the university.Listen to the speaker and repeat what she says.Repeat only once.

1.It's time for us to begin our lesson.

2.First,please click on the course catalog.

3. Update your student profile information in the system.

4.You can then check your timetable to avoid scheduling conflicts.

5. To enroll in a class,select the registration button.

6.Be sure to review your schedule before your classes officially start.

7.If you have questions,please refer to the help section for quick and easy answers.

8 – 11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about cultural festivals. You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. First, cultural festivals are events that celebrate traditions like food, music, art or clothing from a certain culture. Have you ever been to one or would you like to go to one? Why?

9. Thank you. If you were to go to a cultural festival, what would you like to see or do there?

10. Interesting. If you were to participate in a cultural festival for your own culture, what would you want to share with other people, and why?

11. Great. Some people think cultural festivals are mainly just for fun, while others think that they serve an important purpose, like helping to keep traditions alive. What do you think?

8. Yes, I've been to a few cultural festivals, and I really enjoyed them. Last year, I went to a local Asian food festival where they had dishes from different countries, like Thailand, Japan, and Vietnam. I loved trying new foods I'd never had before. I'd definitely like to go to more festivals because they're such a fun way to experience another culture without traveling far. You get to see, taste, and hear things that are completely different from your everyday life.

9. If I went to a cultural festival, I would love to watch traditional music and dance performances. I think seeing people perform dances that have been passed down for generations is really special. I'd also want to try authentic food from that culture, not just the version we get in regular restaurants. And maybe I'd like to try a simple craft activity, like learning how to make a traditional decoration. It would be great to learn by actually doing something with my hands.

10.If I were representing my own culture,I would want to share traditional food, specifically dishes that my grandmother used to make.Food tells so much about a culture's history and values—like which ingredients are important and how families celebrate together. I'd bring samples for people to taste and also share the stories behind each dish.I think when people taste something delicious and hear a personal story,they remember it much better than just seeing objects or photos.

11. I think cultural festivals serve both purposes equally well.They are definitely fun—the music,food,and atmosphere make them exciting events.But underneath all that fun, they play a really important role in keeping traditions alive.When younger generations see their culture celebrated publicly and joyfully,they feel proud and want to learn more. Also,festivals help different communities understand each other better.So I'd say the fun part is what attracts people,but the cultural preservation happens naturally through that experience.

2026年3月8日第3套

1－7 You are working at a school as part of an internship.Your supervisor is training you to help students prepare for their science project presentations.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1.Start by setting up the projector screen.

2.Use the whiteboard to highlight key points.

3.Arrange your project materials neatly on the table.

4.Check all the equipment to ensure it works properly.

5. Make sure your computer is set up with your presentation.

6. It's a good idea to practice delivering your speech in front of some friends.

7. Take time to review notes thoroughly.So you'll feel confident when prepared.

8－11. As part of a university project, you have agreed to take part in a short research interview about personal goals and achievements. A graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions online.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate in the debate. I'd like to ask some questions about your personal goals and achievements. First, do you currently have any specific personal goals you are working towards? Give details to explain your answer.

9. Thank you. Can you describe some steps you can take to achieve these goals, or to achieve goals in general? What are the challenges you face when taking these steps?

10. Interesting. Can you describe an accomplishment that holds special meaning for you? What did you achieve, and why is it significant to you?

11. Great. Some people believe that setting and working toward individual goals is crucial for self-improvement and personal growth. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

8. Yes, I'm currently working on improving my physical fitness. I've set a goal to run five kilometers without stopping by the end of this semester. I used to get tired very quickly, so this is challenging for me. I've been following a training plan that gradually increases my running distance each week. This goal is important because I want to build healthy habits while I'm still young, and running makes me feel stronger and more energetic throughout the day.

9. To achieve my running goal, I take small steps, like running three times a week and tracking my progress on my phone. The main challenge is staying consistent when I feel tired or when the weather is bad. Sometimes, I lack motivation and want to stay in bed instead. To overcome this, I found a friend who runs with me. Having someone expect me to show up makes a huge difference and helps me keep going even on difficult days.

10.An accomplishment that means a lot to me is learning to cook my first complete meal by myself.It was just simple fried rice,but I had never cooked anything before.I followed a recipe online and was so proud when it actually tasted good.This is significant because it made me feel more independent and capable.It also started my interest in cooking, and now I can make several dishes.Small achievements like this build confidence for bigger challenges.

11.I completely agree that individual goals are essential for personal growth.When we set goals,we give ourselves direction and something meaningful to work toward.Even if we don't fully achieve them,the process of trying teaches us discipline and patience. Goals also help us measure our progress,which feels really satisfying.Without goals,it's easy to just go through the motions of life without improving.However,I think goals should be realistic so we don't get discouraged and give up.

2026年3月8日第4套

1－7 You are working at your university's visitor center.Your manager is training you to give campus tours to university students.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Use your email address to log in.

2.You can print all your documents here.

3.You can also access the scanners in this corner free of charge.

4. Visit the help desk to solve any technical problems.

5.Check to make sure the Wi-Fi connection is stable and secure.

6.Remember to save your work frequently to avoid data loss or corruption.

7.If you are unsure when the lab is open,you can check the weekly schedule here.

8. Thank you for helping with our study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your job satisfaction.First,what do you think are the most important things to consider when looking for a job?

9. Got it.That's helpful.Now,can you describe a job that either you or one of your friends has had.What kind of work was involved?

10. Moving on,what kinds of things do you think can lead people to feel unhappy in their work?Can you tell me about one or two of them?

11.Great.And finally,some people believe that working for a large company offers more advantages than working for a small company,while others prefer the opposite.What do you think and why?

Question 8

I think the most important things when looking for a job are a friendly work environment, reasonable work hours,and fair pay. I also care about whether the job matches my interests and helps me learn new skills.These factors make me feel satisfied and motivated at work.

Question 9

l once worked as a library assistant at my university.My main job was to help students find books,organize shelves,and check books in and out.I also helped with simple computer tasks and kept the reading area clean.It was quiet and not difficult,and I enjoyed helping others.

Question 10

Heavy workload and unfair treatment can easily make people unhappy at work.When employees have too much work and not enough time,they feel stressed and tired.Also,if they are not respected or rewarded fairly,they will lose motivation and become unhappy with their job.

Question 11

I prefer working for a small company.In a small company,you can build closer relationships with colleagues and take on more different tasks.You can be more independent and see the results of your work clearly.Large companies may offer more benefits,but small companies feel more flexible and personal.

2026年3月10日【同2月11日第2套】

1－7. You are learning to assist visitors at a university open house.Listen to the speaker and repeat what she says.Repeat only once.

1.Welcome to our campus tour.

2.The enrollment office is straight ahead.

3. Next door,you will see the library.

4.The Cafeteria has many meal options available.

5.The university lecture halls are located over here.

6.If you have any questions,please stop by the information desk.

7.Lastly,please also remember to check the event at the entrance.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about hobbies.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate.I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies to b e g i n w i t h . Do you have a hobby or interest that you regularly spend time doing?

9.Thank you.If you were to select a new hobby,what would you choose and why?

10.Interesting.Now tell me what might prevent you from starting this new pastime.

11.Great.Some people believe it is better to have one interest outside of work or school. Did you dedicate yourself to rather than multiple smaller ones. What do you think about that and why?

Question 8

Yes,I have a hobby I do regularly:listening to music.I spend time every day enjoying different kinds of music,especially when I walk,study,or relax before bed.It helps me calm down and feel less stressed.Music can also lift my mood when I feel tired. It's simple,but it's an important part of my daily life.

Question 9

If I could choose a new hobby,I would pick photography.I love capturing nice moments in daily life,like sunsets,streets,or small details in nature.It would let me see the world more carefully and create something meaningful.It also seems relaxing and creative,and a great way to express feelings without words.

Question 10

The main things that prevent me from starting photography are time and money.Good cameras and equipment can be expensive,and I’m already busy with schoolwork.I also worry that I won’t have enough time to practice and improve my skills regularly. Without proper gear or time,it's hard to begin seriously.

Question 11

I disagree with that idea.I think having several small hobbies is better.Trying different things keeps life interesting and fun.It also helps me relax in different ways.Focusing on only one hobby can feel tiring or boring sometimes.Having multiple interests gives me more joy and balance,and allows me to explore new sides of myself.

2026年3月11日第1套

1－7. You are working in a maritime museum as part of an internship.Your manager is training you to be a tour guide at the museum.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.This area shows early sailing ships.

2.Some older style boats used steam for power.

3.These very accurate ship models show how designs have changed.

4.Before satellites,these tools helped sailors navigate the oceans.

5.Let me explain how trade routes shaped global shipping over time.

6.Feel Free to ask questions if you want to know more about anything you've seen.

7. For non-fiction books and novels about ships,be sure to visit the gift shop.

You have volunteered for a research study about personal organization habits.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks for taking the time to speak with us today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal organization habits.First,do you feel more comfortable when things are o r g a n i z e d ? D o e s it not matter much to you? Why?

9.Fair enough.Now,what is one habit or routine you think can be helpful for people who want to be more organized?

10.Good.Moving on.Do you think organization is something people are born with or something they can learn? Why?

11.Great.Last one,in your opinion,is organization as important in one's personal life as it is in one's work or school life.Why?

Question 8

Yes,I definitely feel more comfortable when things are organized.If my room or desk is messy,I easily get distracted and stressed.But when everything is in order,I can think clearly and work more efficiently.Being organized helps me stay calm and focused in my daily life.

Question 9

I think making a daily to-do list is really helpful.Writing down tasks helps people remember what they need to do and plan their time better.It also gives a clear sense of progress when tasks are completed.This simple habit can greatly improve organization and productivity.

Question 10

I believe organization is a skill that people can learn,not something they're born with. Everyone can develop good habits like tidying up regularly or planning ahead.With practice and patience,even messy people can become more organized.It's more about discipline than natural talent.

Question 11

I think organization is equally important in personal life and in work or school.At work or school,it helps us meet deadlines and perform well.In personal life,it reduces stress and saves time.Being organized makes both areas of life smoother and more enjoyable.

2026年3月11日第2套

1－7. You are working in a rock-climbing gym at a university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the gym. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. You can rent climbing shoes at the front desk.
2. Always wear a helmet when in the gym.
3. The shorter walls can be used without ropes or a harness.
4. Just follow the colored marks to stay on the same climbing path.
5. Also, make sure to check out our special Strength Training Zone.
6. Use the hang and chin-up bars to increase the power of your upper body.
7. If you need help, trained instructors are always nearby to guide and advise you.

8-11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about childhood education. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your thoughts on childhood education. First, did you enjoy your school experience as a child? Why?
9. Thank you! Tell me about a school project or activity you participated in. What made that project or activity special?
10. Interesting. Tell me a little about the technology you use during your childhood education. Do you feel like that technology prepared you for life after school? Why or why not?
11. Great! Some people believe that the current education system needs significant changes to better prepare children for the future, focusing more on skills like problem-solving and teamwork, instead of mainly teaching facts. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【范文】8. Yes, I really enjoyed my elementary school. My teachers were kind and made learning fun. I especially loved art class and recess with my friends. Looking back, I felt safe and happy at school. It was a positive experience that made me want to learn new things.

9. In fifth grade, we did a big science project about volcanoes. My group built a model that actually erupted using baking soda and vinegar. What made it special was working closely with my friends. We were so proud when it worked in front of the class. It felt like real teamwork.

10. We mainly used computers in the library for research and typed our papers. We also played some educational games for math. I think this basic technology helped a little. It taught me typing and how to find information online. But honestly, life after school required learning much more advanced tech skills

11. Yes, I completely agree. Memorizing facts is less useful now since we can search for information online. Schools should definitely focus more on problem-solving and teamwork. These are real-life skills needed for most jobs today. Teaching children how to think and work together makes much more sense for the future.

2026年3月11日第3套

1－7. You are working at your university's fitness center.Your manager is training you to assist customers at the center.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. Cardio machines and bikes are over here.
2. The weight room provides dumbbells and benches.
3.Our yoga studio offers classes for all fitness levels.
4. Locker rooms contain storage bins and changing facilities.
5. Enjoy our smoothie bar and sample nutritious drinks and snacks.
6. Personal trainers are available for individual guidance.
7. Before you leave,check the gym floor plan for specific areas and equipment.

8-11.You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating education experiences.You will have a short video interview with one of the researchers.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for joining the study today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your educational experiences.First,which do you think is more important for a college offering a wide variety of courses or having small class sizes.Why?
9. You're preparing for a test.Would you prefer to study by yourself or with a group? What would make you choose one over the other?
10.Interesting.Some people believe that online courses offer more flexibility and accessibility compared to those offered in traditional classroom settings and are, therefore,superior.What are your thoughts on this? Do you agree or disagree? Why?
11.Good points.Lastly,online courses are becoming increasingly popular and there are now full degree programs offered by universities where every class is available online only. Do you think online learning will someday completely replace in-person learning? Explain your thoughts.

【范文】8.I think small class sizes are more important.When classes are small,teachers can give each student personal attention.It's easier to ask questions and join discussions. You really get to know your professor and classmates.A wide variety of courses sounds nice,but a good learning experience matters most to me.

9. It depends on the subject.For math or science,I prefer studying in a group.We can explain things to each other and solve problems together.But for history or memorizing facts,I like studying alone.I can focus better and go at my own speed without distractions from other people.

10. I agree that online courses offer flexibility,which is great for people with jobs or families.You can learn anytime and anywhere.However,I don't think they are completely superior.In-person classes offer real connections with people.Sometimes it's harder to stay motivated when watching lectures alone at home.

11.No,I don't think online learning will completely replace in-person learning.Both have value.In-person classes offer experiences you cannot get online,like lab work,group activities,and meeting people face to face.Online learning is a good option,but many students will always want the traditional classroom experience.

2026年3月15日第1套

You are explaining how to use the university's gym equipment.Listen to the speaker and repeat what he says.Repeat only once.

1.Let's begin our gym tour.

2.You can start with a warm up on the treadmill.

3.We have a weights area for strength training.

4. Our rowing machines are best if you want a full-body workout.

5.These stationary bikes can help improve your endurance.

6.We also have a water fountain for guests to use when they want.

7.If you find a need for assistance in any way,please ask at the help desk.

8－11 You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with movies and cinema.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks in advance for your time today.I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with movies and cinema.First,do you enjoy watching movies?How often do you watch them?

9.Thanks,that's useful.Now can you describe a movie you recently watched that you enjoyed?What was it about and why did you like it?

10.Gotcha.Do you prefer watching newer movies or older movies?Why?

11.Great.One last question. Some people believe that movies are always more enjoyable in a theater than they are at home.Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why or why not?

【范文】8.Yes,I really enjoy watching movies.For me,it is a great way to relax after a long day of work or school.I probably watch about two or three movies a week.Sometimes I go to the cinema with friends on weekends,but most of the time I just watch them at home on my laptop.I also like discussing movies with my friends afterward to see if they noticed the same details I did.It has become one of my favorite hobbies over the years.

9.Recently,I watched a fun adventure movie called "Everything Everywhere All at Once." It was about a family who travels through different universes.I really liked it because it was creative and funny,but also made me think.The actors were great and the story was unlike anything I had seen before.

10.I think I prefer watching newer movies.The picture and sound quality are much better, which makes the experience more enjoyable.However,I do love some older classics.My dad showed me movies from the 80s and 90s when I was growing up,so I have a soft spot for those too.

11.I partially agree with that.Action movies and big adventures are definitely more fun in a theater because the screen is huge and the sound is amazing.But for smaller dramas or comedies,I actually prefer watching at home.I can be more comfortable on my couch and pause the movie whenever I want.

2026年3月15日第2套

You are working at the university gym.Your manager is teaching you how to assist students there.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Soccer matches and practice take place here.

2.You can play basketball or play games.

3.Be sure to reserve a court in advance to play tennis.

4.Enjoy your swim or unwind in the water with your friends.

5.Various exercise equipment is available here.

6.Personal trainers are available for individual guidance for a small price.

7.If you need help getting around,check the map for specific areas and facilities.

8－11. You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about social media.You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8. Thanks so much for joining us today. I'd like to ask you a few questions about social media.To start,how often do you use social media platforms and for what purposes, or if you don't use them,why not?

9.Great.Next question.In your opinion,what makes social media either enjoyable or difficult to deal with?

10. Thanks for sharing that.OK.Now,what kinds of things do you think are appropriate to share on social media and why?

11.Understood.And finally,some people believe that social media has more negative effects than positive ones on society in general.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint?Explain why.

【范文】8.I use social media pretty much every day,probably around an hour or two total.

I mainly use Instagram and TikTok.I use them to keep in touch with friends,share photos from my life,and watch funny videos.I also follow some news accounts to stay updated, but I try not to spend too much time scrolling.

9. I think the best part of social media is staying connected with people.I can see what my friends from high school are doing now,even if we live far apart.The difficult part is comparing myself to others.Sometimes I see perfect photos and feel like my life isn't as exciting,even though I know people only post their best moments.

10. I think it's appropriate to share happy moments,like achievements,trips,or time with friends and family.These things spread positive energy.I also think it's okay to share useful information or hobbies.However,I believe very personal or private things should be kept offline because once something is posted,you cannot really take it back.

11.I partially agree.Social media does have negative effects,like spreading misinformation and making people feel anxious.However,I think it also has many positives.It helps people find communities with similar interests and gives a voice to important causes.For me,it depends on how people use it.With balance,the positives can outweigh the negatives.

2026年3月16日考的都是往期题目拼盘（不同套题interview 和复述拼）

2026年3月15日第3套

1.Dance acts are featured throughout the day

2. Try different cuisines from around the world, 3.discover creative works by international artists,

4. Join a session to learn about various traditions firsthand.

5.Friendly staff are ready to answer any questions you might have.

6.Use the map to find a specific event or to help you prioritize.

7.For a deeper look at the exhibits,join a walk led by a certified guide.

You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with recycling and waste management.You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher willask you some questions.

8.Thank you for taking the time to speak with us today.I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with recycling and waste management.First,do you regularly recycle items such as paper,plastic,and glass? Why or why not?

9.Thanks.Can you describe the recycling practices in your household or community? Great.

10.That's helpful.What challenges or difficulties do you face when trying to recycle? How do you overcome them?

11.Some people believe that effective recycling programs are crucial for reducing pollution and conserving natural resources,and therefore should be mandatory.Do you agree or disagree with this belief?Why or why not?

【范文】8.Yes,I do recycle regularly.At home,we have separate bins for plastic,paper, and glass.I think it is important because it helps reduce waste and protect the environment.Honestly,it has become a habit for me now.It only takes a few extra seconds,so I do not see any reason not to do it.

9. In my household,recycling is taken pretty seriously.We have a small container in the kitchen where we collect recyclable items,and then we transfer them to larger outdoor bins.My city collects recycling every two weeks.In my community,most neighbors seem to participate,and there are public recycling bins around town too.

10. The biggest challenge for me is sometimes not knowing if an item can actually be recycled.Things like pizza boxes or certain plastics are confusing.To overcome this,I try to check the labels and I have a list on my fridge showing what is accepted.I also rinse out containers so they do not attract bugs while waiting for collection day.

11. I agree that recycling programs are very important for reducing pollution and saving resources.However,I am not sure if they should be completely mandatory.I think education and providing easy access are better first steps.If people understand why recycling matters and have convenient ways to do it,most will participate willingly. Punishing people might create negative feelings.

2026年3月17日新题第1套

You are volunteering at a zoo near campus.Your supervisor is teaching you how to assist visitors at the zoo.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1. Mammals are found in the first section.

2.Parrots and eagles live in this habitat.

3.Reptiles are now located next to the large pavilion.

4. Visit the aquarium to see various kinds of sea life.

5.Our cafeteria offers meals and snacks at good prices.

6.Guided tours are available through the day for a modest fee.

7.For a detailed layout of other amazing exhibits at the zoo,use the map

As part of a university project.You have agreed to take part in a short research interview about work-life balance.A graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions online.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your work-life balance.First,do you feel that you currently have a good balance between your work and personal life?Give details to explain your answer.

9. Thank you.Can you describe some strategies you use or want to use to maintain a balanced lifestyle?

10.Interesting.Tell me about a time when you might have felt overwhelmed by work or personal responsibilities.How did you handle the situation?

11.Great.Some people believe that employers should offer more flexible working arrangements to help employees better achieve a healthy work life balance.Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

【范文】8.I think my work-life balance is pretty good right now,but it took time to get here.I usually finish my work by early evening,so I still have time to cook dinner,watch shows,or call friends.However,sometimes deadlines make things stressful.On those days,work takes over,and I feel a bit unbalanced.Overall though,I am satisfied.

9. One strategy I use is setting clear boundaries.I try not to check work emails after a certain time at night.I also plan fun activities on weekends so I have something to look forward to.Exercise helps too.Even just a short walk after work clears my head and helps me switch from work mode to personal time.

10. Last year,I had a big project due at the same time as my family was dealing with some issues.I felt really overwhelmed and tired.I handled it by talking to my manager,who gave me a little more time.I also made a simple to-do list and focused on one thing at a time.Asking for help made a huge difference.

11.Yes,I completely agree.Flexible working arrangements can really help people manage their lives better.Things like working from home or choosing start times allow employees to handle personal matters without stress.When employers offer this flexibility,workers are often happier and more productive.It shows the company trusts them,which builds loyalty.

2026年3月17日新题第2套

You are working an off campus job at a city information booth.Your manager is teaching you how to provide information for tourists.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.museum contains some famous art.

2.The park is ideal for family picnics.

3.The historical site offers free daily guided tours,

4. Explore the shopping district for unique stores and cafes.

5. The theater hosts live performances every weekend.

6.Tourist maps and brochures are available for purchase at the Information booth.

7.If you need help check the map for directions and travel options to other locations.

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about movie-watching habits. You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your movie watching habits.First,how often do you watch movies? Do you watch them weekly, monthly or less often?

9.Thank you.What genres of movies do you usually prefer to watch?For example,do you enjoy action, comedy, or drama?

10.Interesting.Can you tell me about a movie that you have seen and what you thought about it? Great.

11. Some people believe that watching films at home is more enjoyable than going to a movie theater.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【范文】8.I watch movies quite often,probably about two or three times a week.

Sometimes, I watch new releases,but other times, I rewatch old favorites when I need to relax.On weekends,I might watch even more if I have free time.It is one of my main ways to unwind after a busy week of classes and homework.

9. I usually prefer watching comedies and action movies.Comedies make me laugh and help me forget about stress.Action movies are exciting and keep me entertained with great visuals.Sometimes I watch dramas too,but only if the story sounds really interesting.I am not a big fan of horror movies because they scare me too much.

10. Recently I watched "The Batman" and really enjoyed it.It was darker than other Batman movies and focused more on his detective skills.The acting was great, and the music made everything feel intense.I liked that it felt different from typical superhero films.It kept me interested for the whole three hours.

11. I think both have good points,but I slightly prefer watching at home.At home, I can pause for bathroom breaks,eat my own snacks,and be comfortable on my couch. However,big action movies are still better in theaters because of the huge screen and powerful sound.For most regular movies though,home is just more convenient.

2026年3月18日新题第1套

You are an art student assisting your professor in a community woodworking class.Your professor is training you to show others how to complete simple woodworking steps. Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says,repeat only once,

1. Measure carefully to avoid mistakes,

2. Draw a line with a pencil before cutting,

3. Hammer the nails gently,so the wood does not split apart.

4. Hold your work firmly in place to avoid accidents while cutting

5. Sand the surface evenly until the board feels smooth to the touch.

6. When drilling into wood,keep the tool straight,so the hole remains neat and smooth.

7.When sawing or using heavy equipment wear safety glasses for protection.

You received an Email from your university inviting you to join a research study about time management.You have scheduled a short online interview with the researcher to answer a few questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate.I'd like to ask him questions about my management habits.First,do you use any tools or techniques to manage your time effectively?Please give some examples.Thank you.

9.Can you describe a typical day's events for you and how you organize your time?

10.Interesting.Tell me about a time when you had to manage multiple tasks or responsibilities at once,how do you handle it?

11.Great.Some people believe that managing your time wisely can lead to higher productivity, while others think it can cause unnecessary stress and prefer a loose schedule.What is your opinion on this?Why?

【范文】8. Yes,I use a few tools to manage my time.I rely on my phone's calendar to schedule classes,deadlines,and social plans.I also keep a simple to-do list each morning. Writing things down helps me remember what needs to be done and reduces stress. Without these tools,I would probably forget important tasks and feel more chaotic.

9. My typical day starts with checking my schedule for the day.I attend classes in the morning and early afternoon.After classes,I review my to-do list and decide what homework to finish first.I usually study for a few hours,take a dinner break,and then do any remaining tasks.I try to finish everything before bedtime so I can relax.

10. Last semester,I had three exams in one week while also working on a group project.It felt like a lot.I handled it by making a detailed plan.I listed everything that needed to be done and set small daily goals.I also communicated with my group to divide the work fairly.Focusing on one task at a time really helped me stay calm.

11. I think both sides have truth.Managing time wisely usually helps me get more done and feel in control.However,I understand why some people find strict schedules stressful. For me,a balance works best.I plan my important tasks but leave some free time for unexpected things.This way,I am productive without feeling too much pressure.

2026年3月18日新题第2套

You are working at your university's bookstore.Your supervisor is training you to assist customers in the bookstore.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says. Repeat only once.

1.All our books are located on these shelves,

2. Bring your purchases to the cash register,

3. Use the inventory to search for available items.

4.Our staff provides a monthly list of recommendations.

5.Information about membership benefits is displayed here.

6. We have many interesting store events that we recommend you attend.

7. We value customer feedback,so please consider leaving a store review.

You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about digital device usage.You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate.I'd like to ask you some questions about your use of digital devices.First,how many hours a day do you typically spend using electronics like smartphones,tablets,or computers?

9. Thank you.What types of activities do you usually do on your digital devices? For example,do you use them for work,entertainment,or socializing?

10.Interesting.Can you tell me about a time when you needed to take a break from using digital tools? How did it affect you?

11.Great.Some people believe that spending too much time on personal technology can negatively impact face-to-face social interactions.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint?Why?

【范文】8.I probably spend around four or five hours a day using digital devices.My phone and laptop are the main ones.On weekdays,it is mostly for schoolwork and communication.On weekends,it might be more because I watch videos or scroll through social media.I try not to think about the exact hours too much,but I know it is quite a lot.

9. I use my devices for a mix of things.For school,I write papers,do research,and attend online classes.For fun,I watch shows on streaming services and play games sometimes.I also use social media to talk with friends and see what they are doing.So really,my devices cover almost everything in my daily life.

10. Last summer,I went camping with my family where there was no internet signal.At first,I felt a little bored and kept reaching for my phone.But after a day,I started talking more with my family and reading a book.It felt really peaceful.When I returned home, I actually tried to use my phone less because I remembered how nice the break felt.

11.Yes,I agree with this viewpoint.When people are always looking at their phones,they miss what is happening around them.I have seen friends at dinner all scrolling instead of talking to each other.Face-to-face interaction needs eye contact and attention.If devices are always present,those moments become weaker.However,I think it is about balance, not blaming the technology completely.

2026年3月18日新题第3套

You are working at a university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at a university career fair.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once,

1. Visit employers to learn about jobs,

2. career workshops,offer tools and guidance,

3. Use this space to build relationships and exchange information. 4. Get feedback from specialists on how to write your resume,

5. Feel free to take a break and recharge with some refreshments

6.If you're unsure where to begin,follow the group tour that explores key areas.

7.If you are trying to make the most of your time,consult the map in advance.

You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about holiday celebrations.You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about holiday celebrations.First,do you celebrate holidays with your family, friends, or both? How often do you participate with them?

9. Thank you.Can you describe one of your favorite holiday celebrations or festivals? What do you do to Mark the occasion?

10.Interesting.Tell me about a special event that was particularly memorable for you. What made it meaningful?

11.Great.Some people believe that traditional cultural observances are becoming less important in modern society.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【范文1】8.I usually celebrate holidays with my family.We are pretty close,so we try to gather for most major holidays like Thanksgiving and Chinese New Year.Sometimes I also celebrate with friends,like for Halloween or New Year's Eve.Throughout the year,I probably participate in holiday activities around once or twice a month.It is always something I look forward to.

【简单版】I celebrate holidays with both my family and friends.For example,during Spring

Festivals. I stay with my family.But for New Year's Eve,I sometimes meet my friends.I celebrate about three or four times a year,like during big holidays.It's always a happy time for me because we eat together and talk a lot.

9. My favorite holiday is definitely the winter holidays,especially Christmas.My family puts up a tree together and decorates the house with lights.On Christmas Eve,we cook a big dinner and exchange gifts.The whole atmosphere feels warm and cozy.I love the music, the food,and just spending quality time with everyone without any stress.

【简单版】My favorite is the Spring Festival.Before it comes,we clean the house and buy new clothes.On the evening,we have a big dinner together.I get red envelopes with money inside.We also watch fireworks and stay up late.It's fun because the whole family is together.I really look forward to it every year.

10. One really memorable event was my grandmother's seventy-first birthday party.The whole family surprised her with a party at a restaurant.She cried happy tears when she saw everyone.What made it meaningful was seeing three generations together,laughing and sharing stories.It reminded me how important family is and how quickly time passes.
I still smile thinking about that night.

【简单版】Last year's Mid-Autumn Festival was very special for me.My parents were both busy working,but they came home early that day.We made mooncakes together and sat outside looking at the moon.It was meaningful because we rarely do things as a family. That night,I felt warm and loved.I still remember it clearly

11. I partially disagree with this viewpoint.While some traditions have changed,I think many cultural observances remain important.Young people still celebrate them, sometimes in new ways.For example,my friends and I still follow traditional holiday customs,but we might also add modern elements.The core meaning of family and togetherness during holidays has not disappeared.It just looks a little different now.

【简单版】I disagree.I think traditional holidays are still important.Maybe young people don’t follow all the old rules,but we still celebrate together.For example,during the Spring Festival,everyone tries to go home.These holidays help us remember our culture and stay close to family.So I believe they are not losing their importance.

2026年3月18日新题第4套

You have a part-time job working at a bicycle repair workshop near campus.The technician is showing you how to train people to fix a flat tire.Listen to the technician and repeat what the technician says,repeat only once

1.First select the right tool to remove the wheel.

2. Next, inflate the tire completely

3. Carefully locate the puncture hole and mark it with a pen, 4. Select a patch from the repair kit and apply it firmly,

5. Use the pump to inflate the tire to the correct pressure.

6.Check for additional leaks by submerging the tube in a bucket of water.

7.If there are no new problems,reattach the wheel tightly back on the bicycle.

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about people's experiences with home decoration.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks for participating in the study.I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with home decoration.First,do you enjoy decorating your living space? Or do you find it challenging?Why do you think that is?

9.Interesting.Thank you.Can you describe a recent home decoration project you or someone worked on.What changes were made?

10. OK. What kinds of living spaces do you find inviting or comfortable? Why do you think that is?

11.Some people believe that a well decorated living space can significantly improve one's mood and productivity.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

【范文】8.Yes,I actually really enjoy decorating my living space.It feels creative and personal.I like choosing colors and arranging things to make my room feel like my own. However,sometimes it can be challenging because good decoration costs money, and I have a student budget.Also,I sometimes struggle to make decisions about what looks best together.But overall,the process is fun for me.

9.Recently,I helped my friend redecorate their bedroom.We painted one wall a dark blue color to create a focal point.We also moved the furniture around to make the room feel bigger.My friend bought some new plants and string lights too.The changes were simple but made a huge difference.The room felt completely fresh and much cozier afterward.

10. I find spaces with natural light very inviting.Rooms with big windows just feel warmer and happier to me.I also love spaces that have soft textures like cozy blankets and comfortable cushions.Plants make a room feel alive too.When a space has these elements,I instantly want to sit down and relax there.It feels like a peaceful escape from the outside world.

11. I completely agree with this viewpoint.When my room is messy or plain,I feel less motivated to do anything.But after I clean and arrange things nicely,I actually want to spend time there and get work done.A nice environment affects how we feel.If you are surrounded by colors and objects you love,it naturally lifts your mood and helps you focus better.

【第二个版本答案】8.What kinds of hobbies do your friends or family have?Why do you think they enjoy doing them?

My mom loves gardening.She grows flowers and vegetables in our backyard.I think she enjoys it because it's relaxing and she feels proud when plants grow.My best friend likes playing basketball.He plays every weekend with his classmates.He enjoys it because it's fun and keeps him healthy.Another friend likes drawing.She says it helps her forget about stress.So different people enjoy different hobbies,but most of them do it because it makes them feel happy and relaxed.

9. If your school or workplace were to organize after-work hobby clubs,which clubs do you think would interest the most people?

I think a sports club,like basketball or badminton,would interest most people.Many people want to exercise after work or school, but don't know how to start.A sports club is easy and fun.Another popular choice might be a cooking club.A lot of people enjoy eating and learning to make simple dishes.Also,a music or singing club could be popular because music makes people feel good. So, overall,active and social clubs would probably attract the most people.

10. Do you think hobbies should mostly be relaxing,or is it better if they challenge you? Why?

I think a good hobby should be both relaxing and a little challenging.If a hobby is too easy,it might get boring.But if it's too hard,it can cause stress.For example,learning to play the guitar is challenging at first,but when you slowly improve,it feels great.The challenge gives you a sense of achievement,and the relaxing part helps you forget about work.So balance is important.A hobby should make you feel good,not tired or frustrated.

11. How important do you think it is for people to keep exploring new hobbies as they grow older? Why?

I think it's very important for people to keep exploring new hobbies as they grow older. When people get older,they may retire or have more free time.New hobbies keep their mind active and prevent boredom.For example,an older person can learn painting, gardening,or even using a computer.It also helps them meet new people and stay connected.Without new hobbies,life can feel empty.So exploring new hobbies is good for both mental health and happiness at any age.

2026年3月25日第1套口语

1.Use a drop cloth on the floor to prevent stains.

2.Apply painters tape to edges for clean lines.

3.Pour the paint directly into the tray for easy access.

4.Use a roller for even coverage on large areas.

5. Started painting at the t o p of the wall and work steadily downward.

6. You might need to use an extension ladder to reach very high spots and corners.

7. For the best results,remember to remove the tape before the paint fully dries.

8..Thank you for taking the time to speak with me. I'd like to ask you some questions about your shopping habits.When was your last shopping trip and what did you buy did you have a good shopping experience?

9. I see when you shop which do you like better, shopping for yourself or shopping for others?Why?

10.Interesting that I'd like to get your opinion in recent years,people's shopping preferences have shifted in various ways.Do you think that in the future people will continue to change how and where they shop?Why or why not?

11. Good points.I just have one more question.Some people believe that buying too many products you do not need harms the environment.Do you agree with this idea why or why not?

【文】8.My last shopping trip was last weekend at a local supermarket.I bought fruits like apples and bananas,some vegetables,bread,and a few snacks.It was a good experience because the store was clean,the staff were friendly,and I found everything quickly.I didn’t have to wait long in line,so I felt satisfied.(76 words)

9.I prefer shopping for myself because I know my own style and needs.When I shop for others,I feel nervous about picking the wrong color or size,and I worry they might not like it.Shopping for myself is more relaxing and fun since I can take my time and choose exactly what I want.(74 words)

10.Yes,I think people will continue to change how and where they shop.Online shopping is becoming more convenient with faster delivery and easy returns.Also,more people care about the environment,so they may choose eco-friendly brands or second-hand stores.Technology like virtual reality might also create new shopping experiences in the future.(78 words)

11.Yes,I agree that buying too many unnecessary products harms the environment. When people buy things they don’t need,it creates more waste and uses up natural resources.Factories also produce more,which causes pollution and increases carbon emissions.If we buy only what we truly need,we can help protect the planet.(75 words)

2026年3月25日第2套口语

1. Begin by mixing the butter and sugar.
2. Spread the dough. So the cookies bake evenly.
3. Preheat the oven to the appropriate temperature.
4. Evenly spaced the cookie shapes onto the baking sheet.
5. Insert the tray and bake until the cookie edges are golden.
6. After baking time is complete,cool the cookies on the rack for five minutes.
7.Pour yourself a glass of milk and enjoy warm cookies fresh out of the oven.

8.Thank you for joining us today to help with the study.I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with financial planning. First, do you currently have a financial plan or budget that you follow?
9. Thank you.If you could design the ideal way of managing your money,what would it look like?
10.I see in your opinion, what are the most common obstacles people run into with financial planning?
11. Some people believe that detailed financial planning is crucial for achieving long-term financial stability and goals.Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not?

【文】8. Yes,I do have a budget.I use a simple app to track my income and expenses each month.I set aside money for rent,food,and transportation first,then save a fixed amount. It helps me avoid overspending and gives me peace of mind knowing I'm in control.(75 words)

9.My ideal way would be mostly automatic.A portion of my income would go directly into savings and investments without me having to think about it.I'd have enough for daily needs and emergencies,plus some money for travel and hobbies,all without stress or worry.(74 words)

10. I think the biggest obstacles are irregular income and impulse spending.Many people don’t have a steady paycheck,so planning becomes hard.Also,it's easy to spend on small things like eating out or online deals.Without clear goals,people lose motivation and give up on their budget.(77 words)

11. I agree that detailed financial planning is important.When you have a clear plan,you can set specific goals like buying a house or retiring comfortably.It helps you track your progress and stay disciplined.Without planning,money can easily be wasted,and long-term goals become harder to achieve.(80 words)

2026年3月25日第3套口语

1－7 You are working at your university's visitor center.Your manager is training you to give campus tours to university students.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Use your email address to log in.

2.You can print all your documents here.

3.You can also access the scanners in this corner free of charge.

4. Visit the help desk to solve any technical problems.

5.Check to make sure the Wi-Fi connection is stable and secure.

6.Remember to save your work frequently to avoid data loss or corruption.

7.If you are unsure when the lab is open,you can check the weekly schedule here.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about hobbies.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies to begin. Do you have a hobby or interest that you regularly spend time doing?

9.Thank you.If you were to select a new hobby,what would you choose and why?

10.Interesting.Now tell me what might prevent you from starting this new pastime.

11.Great.Some people believe it is better to have one interest outside of work or school. Did you dedicate yourself to rather than multiple smaller ones. What do you think about that and why?

【文】8.Yes, I regularly spend time reading novels and practicing photography.Reading helps me relax,and photography lets me capture interesting moments.I usually do these activities on weekends or after class.They give me a good balance between being creative and staying calm.(71 words)

9. I would choose learning to play the guitar. I've always loved music,and playing an instrument seems both fun and rewarding.It would allow me to express myself creatively, and I could eventually play songs for friends or family.Plus,it's a skill I can enjoy for life. (78 words)

10. The main things that might prevent me are time and cost.I have a busy schedule with classes and assignments,so finding regular practice time could be hard.Also,buying a guitar and paying for lessons can be expensive.I would need to plan carefully to make it work.(76 words)

11.I think it depends on the person.Having one deep interest allows you to become really skilled and fully enjoy it.However,having multiple smaller hobbies keeps life varied and prevents boredom.For me,a balance works best—one main hobby plus a few lighter ones to stay flexible.(80 words)

2026年3月25日第4套口语

1.Measure each piece carefully before you cut.

2.Saw slowly to keep the line smooth and straight.

3.Lightly sand the edges until they all feel smooth and clean.

4.Make a round hole that the bird will use as the entrance to the house.

5.Glue each side of the house together and give it some time to dry.

6.To attach the roof, hammer the nails in gently,so the wood doesn't split or crack.

7.To protect the birdhouse from t h e w e a t h e r ,seal it well so it will last for years.

8..Thank you for your participation. I'd like to learn about your experiences with books and reading.Was there a time in your life when you read more or less than you do now? What c h a n g e d ?

9. Great in your opinion is reading for pleasure a popular way people spend their Free time where you live.Why do you think that is?

10.Interesting.Do you think reading different types of books helps people understand each other and get along better why or why not?

11. Good points.I just have one more question.Looking ahead.Some people believe that future generations will read less than today's generation.Do you agree or disagree? Why?

【文】8.Yes,I read much less now than I did in high school.Back then I had more free time and enjoyed novels.Now university keeps me busy with textbooks and assignments, so I rarely read for fun.I miss it and hope to get back to reading regularly after graduation.(75 words)

9.I think reading for pleasure is somewhat popular but not as much as watching shows or using social media.Many people say they are too busy,or they prefer quick entertainment.Still,book clubs and online reading communities are growing,especially among younger people who enjoy sharing recommendations.(75 words)

10.Yes, I think reading different types of books helps people understand each other. When you read stories about different cultures or experiences,you see life from another person's view.It builds empathy and opens your mind.Even fiction can help you relate to feelings and situations you haven't experienced yourself.(79 words)

11. I partly agree.With so many digital distractions like short videos and games,future generations might read less traditional books.However,audiobooks and online stories are becoming popular,so reading in different formats may continue.I think reading habits will change,but people will still seek stories and knowledge.(79 words)

2026年3月29日第1套口语

You are volunteering at a community center near campus.Beginners through simple yoga routines,listen to the instructor,and repeat what the instructor says. Repeat only once.

1.Find a good place to roll out your mat.

2.Keep some water handy to drink when needed.

3.Focus on slow breathing to stay relaxed through each movement.

4. Pay attention to the instructor's words to learn proper form.

5.A block can help you maintain your balance while holding poses.

6. During meditation,use a cushion to help relax and support your body.

7.If you have questions about the positions speak with the teacher after class.

8-11.You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with friendship you will have a short online interview with a researcher the researcher will ask you some questions

8. Thank you for signing up for the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with friendship. First, do you have a large group of friends or do you prefer to have a smaller group of friends?

9. Very good.Now describe a time when a friendship taught you something valuable or helped you see something from a new perspective.

10.Great.Next question.In your opinion,what makes a friendship last a long time?

11. OK, last one.Some people believe that maintaining friendships is essential for emotional well-being and life satisfaction.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

【文】8.I prefer to have a smaller group of close friends rather than a large group. With a

A few close friends,I can share my true feelings and trust them deeply.It's easier to maintain meaningful connections when the group is small,and I feel more supported that way.(74 words)

9. One friendship taught me to be more open-minded.I used to be very careful about making decisions,but my friend encouraged me to take risks.She showed me that failure is not the end,but a chance to learn.That changed how I face challenges today.(75 words)

10. I think trust and communication make a friendship last a long time.Friends need to be honest with each other and listen without judgment.Also,making time for each other, even when life gets busy, is important.Small gestures and being there during hard times really strengthen the bond.(78 words)

11.I agree that maintaining friendships is essential for emotional well-being. Friends provide support during tough times and share joy during good times.Having someone to talk to reduces stress and makes life more satisfying.Without close friends,people may feel lonely and less connected.(76 words)

2026年3月29日第2套口语

1－7. You are volunteering at a community workshop near campus.The leader is training you to guide participants in arranging flowers.Listen to the leader and repeat what the leader says.Repeat only once.

1.Cut stems at an angle using shears.

2.Place pebbles in the bottom for support.

3.Begin by placing the taller flowers in the center.

4. Fill in gaps with smaller flowers to maintain visual balance.

5.Add some greenery to enhance the overall fullness.

6.You need to change the water regularly to keep everything looking fresh.

7. Once you are happy with your arrangement,decorate it with a pretty ribbon.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study about grocery shopping habits.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8..Thank you for taking part in our study.I'd like to ask you some questions about your grocery shopping habits first.How often do you go grocery shopping each week? Why is that?

9.Great,thank you.Can you tell me what types of items you usually buy when you go grocery shopping? For example, do you buy fresh produce, dairy products, or packaged foods?

10. When you are grocery shopping,how often do you impulse buy,in other words,buy things you did not plan on buying? What types of items do you or might you impulse buy?

11. Great. That's the helpful last question.Some people believe that shopping at local farmers' markets is better than shopping at large grocery stores.Do you agree or disagree with this opinion?Why.

【文】8.I go grocery shopping about twice a week.I prefer going more often so I can buy fresh vegetables and fruits without them going bad.Also,it helps me plan meals better and avoid wasting food.Shopping twice a week keeps my fridge organized and my meals healthy.(75 words)

9. I usually buy fresh produce like tomatoes,lettuce,and apples.I also get dairy products such as milk,yogurt,and cheese. Sometimes, I buy packaged foods like pasta or canned beans for convenience.I try to focus on fresh ingredients and limit processed items for healthier eating.(76 words)

10. I impulse buy occasionally,especially when I see snacks on sale or new products that look interesting.Chips,cookies,or flavored drinks often catch my eye at the checkout counter.I try to stick to my list,but sometimes I give in,especially if I'm hungry while shopping.(78 words)

11.I agree that f a r m e r s ' markets are better in some ways.The produce is usually fresher and locally grown,which supports small farmers.However,large grocery stores are more convenient and have a wider variety.If I have time,I prefer f a r m e r s ' markets,but for quick shopping,grocery stores work well.(80 words)

2026年3月29日第3套口语

1－7. You are working at a travel agency as part of an internship.Your manager is teaching you how to assist customers with booking vacation packages.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1. Start with the customers' travel dates.

2. Suggest flights that match their traveling times.

3. Propose lodgings that fit their budget and are close to attractions.

4. Offer travel insurance options to give clients peace of mind.

5. Recommend guided tours that highlight the local culture.

6. Before booking, the reservation goes over the details with the client.

7.When customers are ready to pay process the payment to confirm their booking.

8－11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with nature and the outdoors.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks for being willing to help us out.I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with nature and the outdoors.First,if you had the chance to spend more time outdoors,what would you want to do?

9.Great,thanks.And now can you tell me how you usually feel while you're outdoors compared to when you are indoors?

10. Got it, and in your view,do you think avoiding spending time outdoors in nature makes a difference to people's health and well-being? Why or why not?

11. OK, last question.Do you think outdoor spaces should be free for everyone to use,or is it acceptable to charge fees? Why?

【文】8.If I had more time outdoors,I would love to go hiking in the mountains and walk through forests. I'd also enjoy having a small garden or just sitting in a park reading. Being outside helps me relax,so I'd spend time doing peaceful activities that let me enjoy fresh air.(76 words)

9. When I'm outdoors,I usually feel more relaxed and free.The fresh air and natural light make me feel energized.Indoors,I feel comfortable but sometimes a bit trapped or sleepy,especially if I've been inside too long. Being outdoors lifts my mood and clears my mind.(75 words)

10. Yes,I think avoiding time outdoors can harm your health.Without nature,people may miss out on physical activity,sunlight,and stress relief.Spending time in green spaces helps reduce anxiety and improve focus.If people stay indoors too much,they might feel tired, unhappy,or less healthy overall.(78 words)

11. I believe outdoor spaces should be mostly free for everyone to enjoy.Nature belongs to all people,and charging fees might prevent some from accessing it.However,small fees for parking or maintenance are acceptable if the money helps keep the spaces clean and safe for everyone.(77 words)

2026年3月29日第4套口语

1－7. You are an art student assisting your professor in a community arts program.Your professor is showing you how to guide schoolchildren in watercolor painting.Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says.Repeat only once.

1. Lightly wet your brush before starting to paint.

2.Add a small amount of color to your brush.

3.Mix two or more colors to create additional colors.

4. Apply thin layers first to keep the paper from tearing.

5. Use a smaller brush to add fine details to the picture.

6. If a section looks too wet,blot it gently to pick up any excess paint.

7. When the painting is finished blow warm air on it before moving or storing it.

8－11. You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about entertainment preferences.You have scheduled a short online interview

8..Thank you for your participation today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your entertainment preferences.What kind of movies do your family or friends generally like to watch? For example,do they prefer action,movies,comedies, dramas, or other types?

9. I see when you watch a movie, do you prefer to watch after work or school on weekdays or do you like to watch during the weekends?Why?

10.Interesting.Next I'd like to get your opinion in the past people mostly watched movies in theaters. Today, many people watch movies at home.Do you think that movie theatres will continue to exist in the future? Why or why not?

11. Good points. I just have one more question. Some people believe that movies can be a powerful tool for educating people and raising awareness about important issues. Do you agree with this idea or do you think there are other more effective ways to educate people? Explain why you think so.

8.My family generally prefers comedies because they are light and fun to watch together. My friends, however, enjoy action movies with exciting scenes and suspense. Sometimes we watch dramas too, but comedies and action are the most popular choices because they help everyone relax and have a good time.(77 words)

9.I prefer watching movies on weekends rather than weekdays. After work or school, I'm often too tired to focus on a full movie. On weekends, I have more free time and can relax without worrying about the next day. Watching a movie then feels like a special treat.(77 words)

10.Yes, I think movie theaters will continue to exist, but maybe not as many. Watching a movie on a big screen with great sound is a unique experience that people still enjoy. Also, going to the theater is a social activity. However, home streaming is convenient, so theaters may become smaller or more specialized. (80 words)

11. I agree that movies can be powerful tools for education. They tell stories in an emotional and visual way that makes people remember important issues. However, other methods like documentaries, books, or classroom discussions can be more detailed. I think combining movies with other formats works best for effective learning.(80 words)

2026年3月29日第5套口语

1－7. You are working at your university's botanical garden. Your manager is training you on how to instruct new workers about their responsibilities. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. Water the trees daily to help them grow.

2. Add nutrients to the flower bed dirt.

3.Manage temperature and humidity inside the greenhouse.

4. Do not use chemicals near the pond to protect the creatures there.

5. Recycle waste in the compost pile to create rich soil.

6. After you finish gardening, put the tools in the shed so others can use them.

7. When guests arrive, show them to the visitor center to learn about the garden.

8－11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with hobbies. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8..Thanks for being involved in this research. I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies first,what kinds of hobbies do you think are especially popular today?Why do you think that is?

9.Sounds good.Next what role do you think friends,family or community play in encouraging someone to take up a hobby?

10.Noted now many people start hobbies but don't continue with them.What do you think leads people to give up on their hobbies?

11. OK, thanks. Last one. Some people believe spending time on hobbies is essential, while others see it as a luxury what is your opinion?

【文】8.I think creative hobbies like painting,photography,and DIY crafts are very popular today.Many people enjoy sharing their work on social media,which makes these hobbies more visible.Also,fitness activities like yoga and running are popular because people care more about health and stress relief.(77 words)

9.Friends,family,and community play a big role in encouraging hobbies.When someone close to you enjoys an activity,it inspires you to try it too.Community groups or clubs also provide support and make hobbies more fun.Having others to share the experience with helps people stay motivated and engaged.(76 words)

10. I think people give up on hobbies mainly due to lack of time and loss of interest.Busy schedules with work or school make it hard to practice regularly.Also,when progress feels slow or the hobby becomes too difficult,people may feel discouraged and stop. Without motivation,it's easy to quit.(78 words)

11. I believe hobbies are essential,not a luxury.They provide a break from stress and help maintain mental well-being.Spending time on something you enjoy improves happiness and gives a sense of accomplishment.Even with a busy life,making time for a hobby is important for balance and overall health.(79 words)

2026年3月31日重复3月11日

2026年3月30日第1套口语

You are working a part time job at a grocery store near campus.Your manager is training you to assist customers at the store.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Produce is located near the entrance.

2. Dairy products include milk,cheese,and yogurt.

3.Freshly baked bread and pastries are available every day.

4.The back aisle is where you can find the frozen food section.

5.There are cashiers at the checkout counters near the exit.

6.Our weekly discounts are posted throughout the store and updated regularly

7. If you are unsure where to direct people refer to this floor plan of the store.

8. Today, I'd like to ask you some questions about public parks and recreational spaces. First,can you tell me about a memorable visit you or a friend made to a park or recreational space?What made it special?

9.I see.Do you think public parks and recreational spaces are more important for adults or for children.Why?

10.Interesting.Some people believe that public parks play a crucial role in promoting community health and wellbeing by offering outdoor areas for relaxing and exercising or playing.Therefore,local governments should spend more money on such places.What are your thoughts on this?Do you agree or disagree?Why?

11. Good points? Finally, in many large cities,there is a tension between building more public parks for residents to relax and play versus using the space to build more housing. Do you think the need for more housing is more or less important than the need for public parks and recreational spaces?Why?

【文】8. Last spring, I visited a large public park with my friends for a picnic.We brought blankets,snacks,and a speaker for music.What made it special was just lying on the grass,laughing,and playing frisbee without any worries.The weather was perfect and there were no crowds.It felt like a mini vacation even though we were still in the city.I still remember that day clearly.

9.I think public parks are equally important for both adults and children,but for different reasons.Children need parks to run,play,and develop social skills.Adults need parks to relieve stress,exercise,and take a break from work.Without parks,adults might stay indoors too much,which is bad for mental health. So, both groups benefit a lot,just in different ways.

10.I completely agree.Public parks give people free access to fresh air and physical activity. Not everyone can afford a gym membership or a private garden.When governments spend money on parks,they invest in public health.People can walk,jog,do yoga,or just sit and relax.This reduces stress and prevents health problems.So yes,parks are worth the money.

11.This is a difficult question.I think both housing and parks are very important. However,housing is a basic need.People must have a place to live. So, if a city has a serious housing shortage,building homes might be more urgent.But completely removing parks is bad too.A good solution is to design buildings with rooftop gardens or small public spaces nearby.Balance is possible.

2026年3月30日第2套口语

1. Use keywords when you look for books.

2. Download materials to read offline.

3. There are digital textbooks available to borrow.

4. Access scholarly articles through the research databases.

5. Use citation tools to format your references correctly.

6.Contact a librarian through the chat for any help you need.

7.For the smoothest access,make sure your internet connection is fully stable.

8. Thanks for volunteering to help us with this research today.I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal organization habits.Do you consider yourself to be an organized person? Why or why not?

9. Got it now.Would you say that your organization habits have changed or stayed the same over time?Why do you think that is?

10.Very good next question.Do you think organizational skills should be taught in schools? Why or why not?

11. Sounds good.And my final question,some people believe that being organized can significantly reduce stress.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【文】8.I think I am somewhat organized,but not perfectly.I always keep my study desk clean and I use a calendar for deadlines.However,my closet is often messy and l sometimes lose small items like keys or headphones.So I would say I am organized in important areas but less so in others.I am trying to improve every day.

9. My organizational habits have definitely changed over time.When I was younger,I was very messy and never planned ahead.Now that I have more responsibilities, like school and part-time work,I have learned to use lists and reminders.Getting older made me realize that being organized saves time and reduces last-minute panic. So, experience has changed me a lot.

10.Yes, I think organizational skills should be taught in schools.Many students struggle with managing homework,projects,and deadlines.A short class or workshop on using planners,making to-do lists,and keeping notes organized would help everyone.These skills are useful not just in school but in future jobs and daily life.Schools teach math and science,so why not teach organization too?

11. I completely agree with this viewpoint.When my room is messy and my schedule is unclear,I feel anxious and overwhelmed.But after I clean up and make a plan,I immediately feel calmer.Knowing what needs to be done and where things are gives me a sense of control.Being organized does not solve every problem,but it certainly reduces unnecessary stress.

2026年3月30日第3套口语

1.Start by browsing the catalog for classes.

2. Check your registration details often.

3.Use the schedule planner to organize your selections.

4.Payment options are listed under the finance section.

5.Contact the help desk if you encounter any issues.

6.Review all your selected courses before making any final decisions.

7. Once everything is complete,be sure to download your registration summary.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your health and wellness habits.First,do you have any specific routines or practices you use to maintain your physical well-being? If so,what are they?

9. Thank you.Can you describe any dietary choices or habits that you follow to stay healthy, and give details to explain your answer?

10.Interesting.If you could make one significant change to your diet or exercise routine to stay healthy,what would it be?Why would you make that particular choice?

11.Great.Some people believe that mental health is just as important as physical health and should be given equal attention.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint?Why?

【文】8.Yes,I have a few routines for my physical well-being.I try to walk for about twenty minutes every day,even if t is just to get coffee or go to class.I also stretch in the morning to wake up my body.On weekends,I sometimes go for a longer run or do simple exercises at home.Nothing too intense,but staying active makes me feel better overall.

9.I try to eat vegetables with every meal,even if it is just a smallsalad.I also drink a lot of water instead of sugary drinks like soda.For breakfast,I usually have oatmeal or eggs because they keep me full longer.I do not follow a strict diet,but I avoid eating too much fried food or snacks late at night.

10. If I could make one significant change,I would add strength training to my routine two or three times a week.Right now, I only do cardio like walking or running.I know that building muscle is important for long-term health and metabolism.Also,being stronger would help me with everyday activities like carrying groceries.It is a change I have been thinking about for a while.

11. I completely agree.Mental health affects everything,including physical health.When someone is stressed or depressed,they might sleep poorly or eat badly.Both kinds of health are connected.Schools and workplaces should pay equal attention to both.For example,taking breaks,talking about feelings,and getting enough rest are just as important as exercising and eating well.You cannot have one without the other.

2026年4月1日第1套口语

1－7. You are working in a maritime museum as part of an internship.Your manager is training you to be a tour guide at the museum.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.This area shows early sailing ships.

2.Some older style boats used steam for power.

3.These very accurate ship models show how designs have changed.

4.Before satellites,these tools h e l p e d sailors navigate oceans.

5.Let me explain how trade routes shaped global shipping over time.

6.Feel Free to ask questions if you want to know more about anything you've seen

7. For non-fiction books and novels about ships,be sure to visit the gift shop.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about childhood education.You w i l l h a v e a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your thoughts on childhood education.First,did you enjoy your school experience as a child? Why?

9. Thank you! Tell me about a school project or activity you participated in.What made that project or activity special?

10.Interesting.Tell me a little about the technology you use during your childhood education.Do you feel like that technology prepared you for life after school? Why or why not?

11.Great!Some people believe that the current education system needs significant changes to better prepare children for the future,focusing more on skills like problem-solving and teamwork instead of mainly teaching facts.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【文】8. Yes,I really enjoyed my school experience as a child.My teachers were kind and made learning fun.I loved art class and playing with friends during recess.The environment felt safe and supportive.Of course,there were some difficult subjects like math,but overall,I looked forward to going to school every day.Those happy memories still make me smile today.

9. In fourth grade,we did a science project where we grew plants from seeds.Each student had their own small pot.What made it special was watching my plant slowly grow taller over several weeks.I felt so proud when it finally produced flowers.It taught me patience and responsibility.Also,comparing plants with my classmates made learning feel like a fun competition.

10. During my childhood,we mainly used desktop computers in the school library.We played educational games for math and typing.I think this technology prepared me somewhat,but not completely.It taught me basic computer skills like using a keyboard and mouse.However,life after school required much more advanced technology.I had to learn things like online collaboration tools on my own later.

11.I completely agree with this viewpoint.Memorizing facts is less useful now because we can search for anything online.Schools should focus more on problem-solving and teamwork.These are real skills needed for most jobs today.Teaching children how to think critically and work with others makes much more sense for the future.Facts can be looked up,but knowing how to solve problems stays with you forever

2026年4月1日第2套口语

You work as a barista at your university's coffee shop.Your manager is training you on how to teach new staff,how to make a latte.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once,

1. Make a shot of espresso with the machine,

2.steam the milk until it's hot and bubbling,

3.pour the coffee into the appropriately sized cup.

4. Slowly add the milk until the cup is about halfway full.

5.Use a spoon to create latte art if you know how to do it,

6. Ask the customer if they want sugar or honey before serving

7. Place a small chocolate on the saucer next to the cup.

8－11 You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with movies and cinema.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks in advance for your time today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with movies and cinema.First,do you enjoy watching movies? How often do you watch them?

9.Thanks,that's useful.Now can you describe a movie you recently watched that you enjoyed?What was it about and why did you like it?

10.Gotcha.Do you prefer watching newer movies or older movies? Why?

11.Great.One last question. Some people believe that movies are always more enjoyable in a theater than they are at home.Do you agree or disagree with this idea?Why or why not?

【文】8. Yes,I really enjoy watching movies.For me,it is a great way to relax and escape from daily stress.I watch about two or three movies a week.Sometimes I go to the cinema with friends on weekends,but most of the time I watch at home on my laptop or TV.It is one of my favorite hobbies.

9. Recently, I watched "The Super Mario Bros. Movie" and really enjoyed it.The story was about Mario trying to save his brother Luigi from Bowser.I liked it because the animation was beautiful and colorful.It also made me feel nostalgic since I played Mario games as a child.The humor was funny for both kids and adults,so it was a lot of fun.

10. I slightly prefer newer movies because the special effects and sound quality are much better.Modern films look more realistic and exciting.However,I also love some older classics like those from the 1990s.My parents showed me movies from their childhood, so I have a soft spot for those too.But overall,I watch more new releases than old ones.

11.I disagree with this idea.While action movies are more fun in a theater because of the big screen and loud sound,many other movies are actually better at home.At home, I can pause for bathroom breaks,eat my own snacks,and be comfortable on my couch. Also,I can watch alone or with friends without paying high ticket prices. So, both places have their benefits.

2026年4月1日第3套口语

You are an art student assisting your professor in a community arts program.Your professor is showing you how to teach children to make a cable,listen to your professor, and repeat what your professor says. Repeat only once,

1. First, wet your hands to keep the clay moist.

2.You will be using the center of the wheel,

3. Use your thumbs to gently open the clay in the middle,

4. Smooth the surface every few minutes with a damp sponge, 5. Remove any excess clay to give the bowl a clean shape.

6.Once everything looks good,let the finished piece dry on a rack for a full day.

7.Remember that practice is key to mastering pottery,so keep at it.

8. Thank you for helping with our study.I'd like to ask you some questions about your job satisfaction.First,what do you think are the most important things to consider when looking for a job?

9. Got it.That's helpful.Now,can you describe a job that either you or one of your friends has had.What kind of work was involved?

10. Moving on,what kinds of things do you think can lead people to feel unhappy in their work?Can you tell me about one or two of them?

11.Great.And finally,some people believe that working for a large company offers more advantages than working for a small company,while others prefer the opposite.What do you think and why?

【文】8.I think the most important things are salary,work-life balance,and growth opportunities.A job needs to pay enough to live comfortably.But money is not everything.I also want reasonable hours so I have time for family and hobbies.Finally, I want a chance to learn new skills and get promoted.Without these,a job can feel like a trap.

9. My friend worked as a server at a small restaurant.Her job involved taking orders, serving food,cleaning tables,and handling customer complaints.It was very busy during lunch and dinner hours.She had to stand for long shifts and stay polite even when customers were rude.It taught her patience and how to work under pressure,but it was also tiring.

10. Two things can make people unhappy at work.First,bad management.When a boss is unfair or never listens,employees feel frustrated.Second,doing the same boring tasks every day without any challenge.People want to feel useful and growing.If a job has no variety or recognition,it becomes soul-crushing.These problems lead to low motivation and burnout.

11. I think both have advantages.Large companies usually offer better salaries,benefits, and job security.They also have clear career paths.However,small companies allow you to wear many hats and learn different skills.You can have more impact and closer relationships with coworkers.Personally,I prefer small companies for the experience and flexibility,but large ones are good for stability.

2026年4月5日口语

1－7. You are going to guide some students through an amusement park.The student activities director is teaching you how to assist students there.Listen to the director and repeat what the director says.Repeat only once.

1. The roller coasters offer a thrilling time.

2. Water rides provided a chance to cool off.

3. There are special opportunities for all young guests.

4. Over here is the food court with many dining options.

5. The souvenir store sells park-themed merchandise for your shopping needs.

6. For more Information,park maps and schedules are available at the entrance.

7. If you are looking for more,check the map for ride locations and visitor amenities.

8-11.You have volunteered for a research study about people's experiences with friendship.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for signing up for the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with friendship first. Do you have a large group of friends or do you prefer to have a smaller group of friends?

9. Very good.Now describe a time when a friendship taught you something valuable,or helped you see something from a new perspective?

10.Great.Next question.In your opinion,what makes a friendship last a long time?

11. OK, last one.Some people believe that maintaining friendships is essential for emotional well-being and life satisfaction.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

【文】8. I prefer having a smaller group of close friends rather than a large group.With a small group,I can trust them deeply and share personal things without worry.Large groups can be fun for parties,but it is hard to maintain real connections with everyone. Quality matters more than quantity to me.My few close friends really know me,and that feels valuable.

9. A friendship once taught me to be more open-minded.My friend had very different political views from mine.Instead of arguing,we listened to each other respectfully.Over time,I learned why she thought that way.It helped me see that people can disagree and still be friends.That experience taught me empathy and the importance of understanding different perspectives.

10. I think trust and honest communication make a friendship last.Friends need to feel safe sharing their true feelings without fear of judgment.Also,putting in effort matters. Staying in touch,celebrating successes,and being there during hard times build a strong bond.If both people are willing to forgive small mistakes and grow together,the friendship can survive many years.

11. I completely agree.Friendships are essential for emotional well-being. When I feel sad or stressed,talking to a friend makes me feel understood and less alone.Friends also celebrate my happy moments,which increases life satisfaction.Without friends,people can feel isolated and depressed.Of course,family and hobbies matter too,but good friendships provide unique support and joy that greatly improve the quality of life.

2026年4月6日口语1

You are volunteering at the local community center near campus.One of the leaders is showing you how to teach children to sew a button onto fabric.Listen to the leader and repeat what the leader says.Repeat only once.

1.First thread the needle and tie a knot.

2. Position the button on the fabric.

3. Push the needle gently through the fabric and button.

4.So tightly through each of the holes between three and five times.

5.Tie a strong knot at the back to firmly secure your work.

6. Cut any extra thread,then repeat the same steps if there are other buttons.

7.If your fingers are sensitive,use a thimble for protection while sewing.

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about personal development.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate. I' d like to ask you some questions about personal development.First,what skills or qualities would you like to develop in the future?Why?

9. Thank you.When you think about improving yourself, what inspires you to take action? Is it someone you know,an experience you've had, or something you've read or seen?

10. Do you think personal development is necessarily something you do by yourself,or is it ok to receive help from others? Why?

11.Great.Do you think self-improvement is easier now than it was in the past? Why or why not?

【文】8.I would like to develop better public speaking skills and time management.Public Speaking is important for school presentations and future jobs,but I get nervous talking in front of people.Time management would help me finish tasks without last-minute stress.Both skills would make my life easier and help me succeed professionally.I know I need to practice them regularly.

9. What inspires me most is watching people I admire,like successful friends or online creators.Seeing them work hard and improve makes me want to do the same.Also, failing at something sometimes inspires me.For example,when I did badly on a presentation,it pushed me to practice more.Bad experiences can be powerful motivation to change.

10. I think personal development can involve both yourself and others.You must have your own motivation and discipline.Nobody can force you to change.However,receiving help from others is completely okay and often helpful.Friends can give advice,teachers can teach skills,and family can offer support.There is no shame in asking for help.It actually makes improvement faster.

11.Yes,I think self-improvement is easier now than in the past because of technology. We have free tutorials on YouTube,online courses,and apps for almost any skill.In the past,people had to find books or teachers,which was harder and more expensive. However,having so many choices can also be overwhelming.But overall,the internet has made learning new things much more accessible.

2026年4月6日口语2

1. Measure carefully before starting to mix.
2. Add yeast to a small amount of warm water.
3. Stir the wet and dry ingredients into a soft dough.
4. Press and fold repeatedly until the texture feels elastic.
5. Let the dough rest in a warm place until it doubles in size.
6. After the loaf rises bake until the top is browned and the center is firm.
7. When the bread is done place it on a raised stand, so airflow beneath can cool it down.

You received an email from your university, inviting you to join a research study about personal finance.You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal finance habits first. How often do you review your money management, such as tracking your expenses or budgeting? Do you do this weekly, monthly, or less often?

9.Thank you. Can you describe one or two methods you or someone you know uses to manage your finances, for example, do you use budgeting apps or keep a written record?

10.Interesting. Tell me about a financial goal. You have achieved recently what motivated you to achieve this goal.

11.Great. Some people believe that fiscal responsibility education should be mandatory in schools to help students manage money effectively as adults. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

【文】8. I try to review my spending about once a month, usually near the end of each month. I check my bank account and see where my money went. I do not track every single expense weekly because that feels too strict. However, if I notice I spent too much, I try to be more careful the next month. Monthly checking works well for me.

9.I use a simple mobile banking app that shows all my transactions automatically. It helps me see exactly how much I spend on food, transportation, and entertainment. My friend, on the other hand, keeps a written notebook where she writes down everything she buys. Both methods work, but I prefer digital because it is faster and harder to forget.

10. Recently, I saved enough money to buy a new laptop for school. My old one was very slow and crashed often. What motivated me was knowing that a better laptop would help me study more efficiently and finish assignments faster. I set aside a small amount of money each week for three months. Reaching that goal felt really satisfying and showed me that saving works.

11. I completely agree. Many young people graduate without knowing how to budget, save, or avoid debt. Schools teach math and history, but not how to manage real money. A simple class on things like credit cards, saving for goals, and avoiding unnecessary spending would help students greatly. These skills are essential for adult life. Learning them early can prevent serious financial problems later.

2026年4月6日口语3

You are volunteering at a community center near campus.The leader is showing you how to help school children learn how to make a salad, listen to the leader, and repeat what the leader says. Repeat only once.

1. Begin by washing the vegetables.

2. Carefully chop the salad ingredients.

3. Collect the chopped vegetables and place them together.

4. Slowly add the dressing, so the salad does not get soggy.

5. Toss everything together thoroughly, so the flavors are mixed.

6. Put any leftovers in a food container and place in the fridge for later.

7. When you have finished be sure to clean up so the kitchen stays neat and clean.

You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating travel habits. You will have a short video interview with one of the researchers. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for participating in this study today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your travel habits first. Can you tell me about a recent trip you or a friend took and what you or the friend enjoyed most about it.

9. I see one important part of traveling is deciding to go alone or with a group thinking about a place you would like to visit. Would you prefer to go there alone or with a group? Why?

10. Interesting for many people, one of the most exciting parts of travel is choosing a destination. If you are going to select a place to travel to, how would you go about making a list of potential places? Please describe your process.

11. Good points. Finally, one major issue with travel today is overcrowding. Popular places have so many tourists visiting at one time that the sites are unable to allow all the people to visit who want to. As a result virtual travel experiences are becoming more common compared to real life travel. Do you think a virtual travel experience is worthwhile? Why or why not?

【文】8. Last summer, I took a short trip to a beach town with two friends. We stayed for three days. What I enjoyed most was just walking along the shore at sunset without looking at my phone. We also tried local seafood at small restaurants. There was no strict schedule. The relaxed pace and good company made it really special and memorable for me.

9. For a place I really want to explore deeply, like a museum or a historical city, I would prefer to go alone. That way I can set my own pace and spend as much time as I want on things that interest me. But for a relaxing beach trip or a fun amusement park, I would prefer a group because sharing laughs and memories makes it more enjoyable. It depends on the destination.

10. First, I would think about my budget and how much time I have. Then I would go online and search for destinations that fit. I would read travel blogs and watch short videos on social media to see what each place looks like. I would also ask friends for recommendations. Finally, I would make a short list of three or four places and compare things like flight costs and weather before choosing one.

11. I think virtual travel can be worthwhile, but only as a supplement, not a replacement. For example, a virtual tour of a museum can help you plan what to see in real life. It is also good for people who cannot travel due to money or health reasons. However,virtual travel cannot give you the real feelings like fresh air, local food, or unexpected adventures. So it is useful, but not the same.

2026年4月8日口语唯一新题

1 – 7. You are working at a museum. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the museum. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Ancient artifacts are in the first section.

2.Modern art is displayed in this location.

3.Our learning labs are known to be engaging for all ages.

4.Visit the café for tasty refreshments during your tour.

5.The gift shop has unique souvenirs for affordable prices.

6.Guided tours are only available by reservation each weekend.

7.If you are interested in special events, check the map for more details.

8 – 11. As part of a university project, you have agreed to take part in a short research interview about health and wellness habits, a graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions online.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your health and wellness habits. First, do you have any specific routines or practices you use to maintain your physical well-being? If so, what are they?

9. Thank you. Can you describe any dietary choices or habits that you follow to stay healthy, and give details to explain your answer?

10. Interesting. If you could make one significant change to your diet or exercise routine to stay healthy, what would it be? Why would you make that particular choice?

11. Great. Some people believe that mental health is just as important as physical health and should be given equal attention. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【文】8.Yes, I have a few simple routines. I try to walk for at least 20 minutes every day, even if it is just to go to the store or walk around my neighborhood. I also stretch for five minutes every morning to wake up my body. On weekends, I sometimes do a short workout at home using videos online. Nothing too hard, but it keeps me feeling active.

9. I try to eat vegetables with every meal, even if it is just a small salad on the side. I also drink mostly water and avoid sugary drinks like soda. For breakfast, I usually have oatmeal or eggs because they keep me full longer. I do not follow a strict diet, but I avoid eating too much fried food or snacking late at night.

10. If I could make one change, I would add strength training to my routine two or three times a week. Right now,I only do walking and stretching. I know that building muscle is important for long-term health, especially as I get older. It would also help me with everyday things like carrying groceries or climbing stairs. I just need to start doing it.

11. I completely agree. Mental health affects everything, including physical health. When someone is very stressed or sad, they might sleep badly or eat unhealthy food. Both kinds of health are connected. Schools and workplaces should give them equal attention. Taking breaks, talking about feelings, and getting enough rest are just as important as exercising and eating well. You cannot have one without the other.

2026年4月14日口语1

1 – 7. You are working at a national park as part of an internship. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the park. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Our hiking trails offer scenic routes.

2. Make a stop at the visitor center.

3. Many outdoor campsites are available for overnight stays.

4. Picnic areas are great for family gatherings.

5. Wildlife viewing spots are ideal for observing animals.

6. Guided tours and educational programs are available by request.

7. As always be sure to take the map with you on your nature walks and adventures.

8 – 11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with music. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to take part in the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with music. First, how important is music in your life? Why?

9. Great, that's interesting. Now, if you had to choose, would you rather create music yourself or listen to music created by others? Why?

10. Noted. Do you think music should be a required part of children's education? Why or why not?

11. Fair enough. Final question. Some people believe that live music has a stronger impact than recorded music. Do you agree or disagree with that? Why or why not?

【文】8.Music is very important in my life. I listen to it almost every day, whether I am studying, exercising, or just relaxing. It helps me focus when I work and cheers me up when I feel down. Different songs can match different moods. Without music, my daily routines would feel boring and empty. So yes, music plays a big role in my happiness.

9.I would rather listen to music created by others. I am not very talented at singing or playing instruments, so making my own music would be frustrating. Listening to professional musicians allows me to enjoy high-quality sounds and emotional expressions that I cannot create myself. Also, discovering new songs from different artists is always exciting. Creating music is great, but listening fits me better.

10. Yes, I think music should be a required part of children's education. Learning music helps develop creativity, patience, and teamwork, especially if children play in a band or choir. It also gives kids a way to express feelings that words cannot. Even if a child does not become a musician, the skills and joy from music education stay with them. It is just as valuable as art or sports.

11. I mostly agree that live music has a stronger impact. At a concert, you feel the energy of the crowd, see the performers' emotions, and hear the sound in a shared space. That creates a memorable experience that recorded music cannot copy. However,recorded music is more convenient and allows you to enjoy high-quality sound anytime. Both have value, but for emotional impact, live music wins.

2026年4月14日口语2

1 – 7. You work at a university's media production studio. Your supervisor is training you to teach new employees how to use the equipment. Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says. Repeat only once.

1. Set the camera to record video.
2. The lighting rig eliminates shadows.
3. Position the microphone for clear audio capture.
4. Edit your photos easily using the latest advanced software.
5. The green screen can help you create any background you want.
6. The master control panel is used to manage all studio equipment.
7. If you need to record with no outside noise, you should use the soundproof room.

8 – 11. You are participating in a research study conducted by your university's Department of Environmental Science about environmental practices. You will meet online with a researcher who will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your environmental practices. First, do you take any specific actions to reduce your environmental impact, such as recycling or conserving energy? Give details in your answer.

9.Thank you. Can you describe one or two steps your community or neighborhood takes to be environmentally friendly? For example, are there solar panels on buildings or rainwater barrels available where you live?

10.Interesting. If you had the chance to participate in an ecological or nature-based activity, such as a community cleanup effort or tree planting event, what would you do? And why?

11.Great. Some people believe that individual actions are not enough to address conservation issues, and that significant changes must come from government policies. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

【文】8.Yes, I try to reduce my environmental impact in small ways. I always turn off lights when I leave a room and unplug chargers when not in use. I also recycle plastic bottles, paper, and glass at home. When I go shopping, I bring my own reusable bag instead of taking plastic ones. These actions are simple, but they have become habits that make me feel like I am helping a little.

9. In my neighborhood, we have recycling bins for different materials like plastic, glass, and paper. Many neighbors use them correctly. Also,some buildings have started using energy-saving LED lights in hallways. A few people have installed solar panels on their roofs, though not many. There are no rainwater barrels yet, but I have seen community garden plots where people grow their own vegetables without chemicals.

10. I would love to join a tree-planting event. Trees provide shade, clean the air, and help reduce heat in cities. Planting trees is a hands-on activity that makes a visible difference. I could see the trees grow over the years and feel proud. Also, it is a fun way to meet other people who care about nature. Compared to just talking about problems, tree planting feels active and positive.

11. I agree that government policies are very important because individual actions alone cannot solve big problems like pollution or climate change. One person recycling does little if factories keep polluting. However, I do not think individual actions are useless. They create good habits and show leaders that citizens care. The best approach is both: people should do their part, but governments must make laws that force big changes. Both sides are needed.

2026年4月14日口语3

1. Store documents to prevent damage.

2. Temperature controls help protect papers.

3. Use the catalog system to organize records expertly.

4. Carefully use restoration tools to repair damaged items.

5. We provide a quiet reading area for researchers.

6. Security cameras are used to monitor sensitive materials.

7. If long-term storage is needed, use the special storage boxes over here.

8. Thank you for signing up for the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with technology in daily life. How important is technology in your day-to-day activities?

9. Noted, thank you. Have you ever felt frustrated while using technology what happened?

10. Fair enough next question. Some people believe technology will replace many jobs while others think it will create more opportunities. What is your opinion and why?

11. OK, last question. Some people believe that reliance on technology is reducing our ability to think independently and solve problems. Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not?

【文】8. Technology is extremely important in my daily life. I use my phone as an alarm, calendar, and communication tool. My laptop is essential for schoolwork, research, and attending online classes. I also use apps for banking, shopping, and navigation. Without technology, even simple tasks would take much longer. It has become a basic part of how I live, study, and stay connected with others.

9. Yes, I have felt frustrated many times. One example was when my laptop suddenly froze while I was writing a long paper. I had not saved it for an hour.I lost almost everything I wrote. Another time, a slow internet connection made my video call cut out repeatedly during an important group project meeting. Both situations made me feel angry and helpless. Now I save my work constantly.

10. I think technology will both replace some jobs and create new ones. For example, self-checkout machines have replaced some cashier jobs. However, technology has also created jobs like app developers, data analysts, and social media managers. The problem is that people who lose jobs may not have the skills for new ones. So overall, opportunities will change, but not everyone will benefit equally without proper training.

11. I partially agree. Sometimes I rely too much on my phone for simple math or directions. When my GPS stopped working once, I realized I did not know how to get home without it. That shows technology can weaken basic skills. However, technology also helps us solve complex problems faster by giving us information. The key is balance. Using technology as a tool, not a crutch, is important for maintaining independent thinking.

2026年4月14日口语4

1. Protect your hands while working in the garden.

2. Put tools away after using them.

3. Follow the posted rules, so everyone can stay safe.

4. Use safe lifting methods whenever you move large garden items, 5. Put yard scraps in the compost pile to maintain a tidy garden.

6. After watering the plants, store the hose properly. So no one will trip over it.

7. During hot weather, drink water, because hydration is important for good health.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal goals and achievements. First, do you currently have any specific personal goals you are working towards? Give details to explain your answer.

9. Thank you. Can you describe some steps you can take to achieve these goals or to achieve goals? In general. What are the challenges you face when taking these steps?

10. Interesting. Can you describe an accomplishment that holds special meaning for you? What did you achieve? And why is it significant to you?

11. Great. Some people believe that setting and working towards individual goals is crucial for self improvement and personal growth. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

【文】8. Yes, I have a few personal goals right now. My main goal is to exercise at least three times a week because I want to feel healthier and have more energy. I also want to read one book per month. I used to read a lot as a child but stopped. These goals are small but realistic, and they help me feel like I am improving little by little.

9. To achieve my exercise goal, I schedule workout times on my calendar and prepare my clothes the night before. For reading, I keep a book on my nightstand so remember to read before sleep. The biggest challenge is laziness and distractions, like my phone. Sometimes I feel too tired after work. To overcome this,I remind myself that even ten minutes of effort is better than nothing.

10. One accomplishment that means a lot to me was learning to cook a few simple meals from scratch. I used to only heat up frozen food. Last year,I taught myself to make fried rice, pasta, and soup using online videos. This is significant because cooking saves me money and is healthier. Also, I feel proud when I share food I made with friends. It gave me confidence in the kitchen.

11. I completely agree. Setting individual goals gives you a clear direction and a reason to get better each day. Without goals, it is easy to stay in the same place and never grow. Working toward a goal teaches you patience, discipline,and how to handle failure. Even if you do not achieve everything, the journey itself helps you improve. So, yes, goals are very important for personal growth.

2026年4月14日口语5

1.Class details are on the course home page.

2.Use the forum to exchange thoughts with classmates.

3. Upload assignments to the platform for evaluation.

4.The video lectures will help you learn the material.

5.The online grade book shows your scores for all class assignments.

6. Turn on notifications so you never miss messages from your instructors.

7. If you face technical issues, contact, support to resolve the problem.

8. Thank you for helping with our study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with exercise. First, if you were to have a regular exercise routine, when during the day would it occur? Why is that

9. Great. If you were to design an exercise plan for yourself, what kinds of activities would you consider, including? And why

10. That's interesting. Do you think exercising alone or with others makes a difference in motivation or enjoyment?

11. Some people believe that too much regular exercise can be detrimental to maintaining both physical and mental health. Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not 【文】8.I would prefer to exercise in the morning, right after waking up. Morning exercise helps me feel energized for the whole day. Also, there are fewer distractions early in the day. If I wait until the evening, I often feel too tired or find other things to do. Exercising in the morning makes it easier to build a consistent habit without interruptions from work or social plans.

9. I would include a mix of cardio and strength activities. For cardio, I would choose jogging or brisk walking because they are simple and need no equipment. For strength, I would do basic exercises like squats, push-ups, and planks at home. I would also add stretching for flexibility. This combination improves heart health, builds muscle, and prevents injury. It is balanced and does not require a gym.

10. Yes, I think exercising with others can increase motivation and enjoyment. When I run with a friend, I push myself harder and we chat to make time pass faster. Group classes also create a sense of shared effort. However, some people prefer exercising alone to focus without pressure. For me, a mix works best: sometimes alone for concentration, sometimes with others for fun and accountability.

11. I disagree that too much regular exercise is generally detrimental. For most people, regular exercise is very beneficial. However, I understand that extreme amounts without rest can lead to injuries, exhaustion, or mental burnout. So the key is balance and listening to your body. Too little exercise is harmful, but so is excessive training without recovery. Moderate, consistent exercise is healthy. Only extreme cases cause problems, not normal, regular routines.

2026年4月15日口语1

1 – 7. You are working in a maritime museum as part of an internship. Your manager is training you to be a tour guide at the museum. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. This area shows early sailing ships.
2. Some older style boats used steam for power.
3. These very accurate ship models show how designs have changed.
4. Before satellites, these tools helped sailors navigate the oceans.
5. Let me explain how trade routes shaped global shipping over time.
6. Feel free to ask questions if you want to know more about anything you've seen.
7. For nonfiction books and novels about ships, be sure to visit the gift shop.

8 – 11. You have volunteered for a research study at your university about dining preferences. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your dining preferences first. How often do you eat out at restaurants? Do you do this daily, weekly, monthly, or less often?
9. Thank you. If you were going to eat out, what types of cuisine do you prefer? For example, do you like savory foods or desserts?
10. Interesting. Can you tell me about a memorable dining experience or meal you or a friend have had recently. What made it special or stand out?
11. Great. Some people believe that the atmosphere and service at a restaurant are just as important as the food quality. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【文】8. I eat out at restaurants about once or twice a week, usually on weekends. During the week, I am busy with work and school, so I cook simple meals at home or eat leftovers. But on Friday or Saturday nights, I like to go out with friends or family. It feels like a nice break from cooking and cleaning. Sometimes I also order takeout if I am too tired to cook.

9. I usually prefer savory foods over desserts. I love Italian food like pasta and pizza, and also Asian cuisines such as Chinese or Japanese. Savory dishes feel more satisfying as a main meal. Desserts are nice sometimes, but I would rather have a small sweet treat after a good savory meal. For example, I might share a piece of cake with friends,but the main course is what I look forward to most.

10. Recently, I went to a small family-owned Italian restaurant with my friends. The food was delicious, but what made it special was the owner. He came to our table, talked to us like old friends, and even gave us free dessert because it was my friend's birthday. The warm and personal service made us feel welcome. It was not just a meal, but a really nice evening.

11. I agree that atmosphere and service are just as important as food quality. Good food can be ruined by rude staff or an uncomfortable setting. For example, if a restaurant is too loud or dirty, I cannot enjoy my meal even if the food tastes great. Friendly service and a pleasant atmosphere make the whole experience better. The best restaurants have all three: good food, a nice environment, and kind service.

2026年4月15日口语2

1 – 7. You are volunteering at the local community center near campus. One of the leaders is showing you how to teach children to sew a button onto fabric. Listen to the leader and repeat what the leader says. Repeat only once.

First thread the needle and tie a knot.

2. Position the button on the fabric.

3. Push the needle gently through the fabric and button.

4. So tightly through each of the holes between three and five times.

5. Tie a strong knot at the back to firmly secure your work.

6. Cut any extra thread, then repeat the same steps if there are other buttons.

7. If your fingers are sensitive, use a thimble for protection while sewing.

8 – 11 You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with nature and the outdoors. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks for being willing to help us out. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with nature and the outdoors. First, if you had the chance to spend more time outdoors, what would you want to do?

9. Great, thanks. And now can you tell me how you usually feel while you're outdoors compared to when you're indoors?

10. Got it and in your view, do you think avoiding spending time outdoors in nature makes a difference in people's health and well-being? Why or why not?

11. OK, last question. Do you think outdoor spaces should be free for everyone to use,or is it acceptable to charge fees? Why?

【文】8.If I had more time outdoors, I would love to go hiking on weekends. I enjoy walking through forests and along hills. It would also be nice to have picnics by a lake or just sit and read under a tree. I am not very adventurous, so simple activities like bird watching or taking photos of flowers appeal to me. Mostly, I just want to breathe fresh air and enjoy the quiet away from the city.

9. When I am outdoors, I usually feel more relaxed and calm. The fresh air and natural light improve my mood. Indoors, I sometimes feel stressed or stuck, especially if I have been studying for hours. Outdoors,my mind feels clearer, and my energy is better. Even a short walk makes a difference. Indoors, it feels safe, but sometimes boring, while outdoors, it feels refreshing and freeing.

10. Yes, I think avoiding nature can negatively affect health. People who stay indoors all the time may miss sunlight, which provides vitamin D. They might also feel more stressed or sad because nature has a calming effect. Studies show that spending time outdoors improves mental health and reduces anxiety. Without it, people may become tired, irritable, or less creative. So, regular time in nature is important for both the body and the mind.

11. I think basic outdoor spaces like public parks, trails, and playgrounds should be free for everyone. Nature is a shared resource, and everyone should have access to it, regardless of income. However, for special places like national parks with maintained facilities and ranger services, small fees are acceptable. Those fees help protect the environment and keep the area clean. But fees should be low so that nobody is excluded. Free access to everyday spaces is best.

2026年4月15日口语3

1.Start with the customer's travel dates.

2.Suggest flights that match their travel times.

3. Propose lodgings that fit their budget and are close to attractions.

4. Offer travel insurance options to give clients peace of mind.

5. Recommend guided tours that highlight the local culture.

6. Before booking the reservation go over the details with the client.

7. When customers are ready to pay process the payment to confirm their booking.

8. Thank you for signing up for the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with fashion and clothing. First, do you enjoy shopping for clothes or is it something you find tedious? Why?

9. Great notes. Now what types of clothes do you usually prefer to wear? Do you have a particular style you enjoy?

10. Fair enough. How do you decide what to wear each day? Do you choose your clothes in the morning or the night before?

11. Got it. And finally, some people believe that fashion trends change too quickly and that spending money on new fashions is wasteful. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

【文】8. I enjoy shopping for clothes sometimes, but it depends on my mood. When I find something I really like, it feels exciting. However, shopping can become tedious if I have to try on many items or wait in long lines. I prefer shopping online because it is faster and less tiring. Overall, I like it occasionally but not too often.

9. I usually prefer comfortable and casual clothes like jeans, t-shirts, and hoodies. I do not follow strict fashion trends. My style is simple and neutral colors like black, gray, and blue. I like clothes that are easy to mix and match without thinking too much. Comfort is more important to me than looking fancy, but I still try to look neat and clean.

10. I usually decide what to wear in the morning based on the weather and my plans. If it is cold, I grab a sweater. If I have a presentation, I might choose something a bit nicer. I do not plan the night before because my mood changes. However, for important events, I prepare ahead. For normal days, five minutes in the morning is enough.

11. I agree that fashion trends change too quickly, and spending a lot of money on them can be wasteful. Clothes that are only stylish for a few months end up in the back of the closet. Instead of following every trend, I think it is better to buy classic, high-quality pieces that last longer. However, if someone enjoys fashion as a hobby, that is fine too. But for most people, chasing trends is unnecessary and expensive.

2026年4月26日口语1

You are volunteering at a community center near campus. Beginners through simple yoga routines, listen to the instructor, and repeat what the instructor says. Repeat only once.

1. Find a good place to roll out your mat.

2. Keep some water handy to drink when needed.

3. Focus on slow breathing to stay relaxed through each movement.

4. Pay attention to the instructor's words to learn proper form.

5. A block can help you maintain your balance while holding poses.

6. During meditation, use a cushion to help relax and support your body.

7. If you have questions about the positions speak with the teacher after class.

8.Thanks for your participation. I'd like to discuss your views on renewable energy to start how important the issue of renewable energy, such as wind and solar power to you personally? Why would you say you feel that way?

9. Now, describe a time when you or someone tried to reduce energy use. What actions were taken ,and what made it easy or difficult?

10. Great. In your daily life, have you noticed any renewable energy initiatives in your community? If so, what have you seen? And how do they impact your area? If not,what's an initiative that might be beneficial for your community?

11. Thought-provoking. Many believe transitioning to renewable energy is crucial for environmental sustainability, while others worry about the costs involved, do you think the benefits of renewable energy outweigh the drawbacks? Why or why not?

问题8: How important is the issue of renewable energy, such as wind and solar power, to you personally?Why would you say you feel that way?

答案：Renewable energy is quite important to me because I care about the environment and I want to have clean air and water for the future. For example, when I use solar power or wind power, they don't produce pollution like coal or oil. Also, I feel worried when I hear about climate change. So, I think using more renewable energy can help solve this problem.

问题9: Describe a time when you or someone tried to reduce energy use. What actions were taken, and what made it easy or difficult?

答案：Let me tell you about my mother. She always tries to save electricity at home. For instance, she turns off the lights when nobody is in the room. What makes it easy for her is that she got into the habit of checking every room before going to bed. However, sometimes it was difficult because my little brother forgets to turn off his computer. So, my mom has to remind him again and again.

问题10: In your daily life,have you noticed any renewable energy initiatives in your community?If so,what have you seen?And how do they impact your area? If not,what's an initiative that might be beneficial for your community?

答案：I haven't noticed any in my community yet. But I think one good idea would be to install solar panels on the roofs of public buildings, like schools or libraries, because solar panels can produce clean electricity. As a result, we could lower our electricity bills and also reduce pollution. Besides, it would set a good example for local people to learn about green energy.

问题11: Many believe transitioning to renewable energy is crucial for environmental sustainability, while others worry about the costs involved. Do you think the benefits of renewable energy outweigh the drawbacks? Why or why not?

答案：The benefits of renewable energy definitely outweigh the drawbacks. First of all, renewable energy, like wind and solar, is much better for the environment because it doesn't release harmful gases. This helps fight climate change. Secondly, even though the initial cost is high, in the long run we can save money since the sun and wind are free. For example, once solar panels are installed, the electricity costs go down.

2026年4月26日口语2

1 – 7. You are working at a university. Your manager is teaching you how to explain the online learning platform to students. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Class details are on the course home page.

2. Use the forum to exchange thoughts with classmates.

3. Upload assignments to the platform for evaluation.

4. The video lectures will help you learn the material.

5. The online grade book shows your scores for all class assignments.

6. Turn on notifications, so you never miss messages from your instructors.

7. If you face technical issues, contact support to resolve the problem.

8 – 11. You have volunteered for a research study about shopping habits. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for participating in our study. I'd like to learn more about your shopping habits. Do you shop more frequently online or in physical stores and why?

9. Thanks for sharing. Can you tell me about one or two factors that most influence your decision to purchase a product? For example, do you consider price, brand, or quality? Why?

10. I appreciate your insights now, thinking back to a recent shopping experience. Can you describe a product you bought that you were particularly satisfied with and explain why?

11. As online shopping continues to grow, some people believe that physical stores will become obsolete. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

问题8: Do you shop more frequently online or in physical stores and why?

答案：I shop more frequently online. This is because online shopping is very convenient and saves time. For example, I can look for products on my phone at any hour, even late at night. Also, there are more choices online, and I can easily compare prices between different sellers. On the other hand, physical stores often require me to travel and wait in long lines.

问题9：Can you tell me about one or two factors that most influence your decision to purchase a product, for example, do you consider price, brand or quality? Why?

答案：I care about price and quality. First of all, I have a limited budget, so I always look for a reasonable price. But I don’t just buy the cheapest item. I also care about quality because I want the product to last a long time. For instance, when I buy a pair of shoes, I would rather pay a little more for better material so that I don't have to replace them often.

问题10: Thinking back to a recent shopping experience, can you describe a product you bought that you were particularly satisfied with and explain why?

答案：Recently I bought a pair of wireless earphones online. The sound quality is great, and they feel comfortable in my ears. Second, the battery lasts a long time, so I don't need to charge them every day. Also, the price was quite affordable compared to famous brands. What made me even happier is that the delivery was fast and the packaging was nice.

问题11:As online shopping continues to grow, some people believe that physical stores will become obsolete. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

答案：I disagree that physical stores will become completely obsolete. Although online shopping is growing fast, physical stores still have their own advantages. For example, when you buy clothes or shoes, you can try them on in a physical store to make sure they fit properly. Also, some people enjoy the experience of going out and browsing in a real shop. Another point is that when you need something immediately, like food or medicine, it's easier to go to a local store than to wait for delivery.

2026年4月26日口语3

1 – 7. You are working at a museum near campus. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the museum. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1. Ancient artifacts are in the first section.
2. Modern art is displayed in this location.
3. Our learning labs are known to be engaging for all ages.
4. Visit the café for tasty refreshments during a tour.
5. The gift shop has unique souvenirs for affordable prices.
6. Guided tours are only available by reservation each weekend.
7. If you are interested in special events, check the map for more details

8 – 11. You have volunteered for a research study about sleep habits. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for your time. I would like to ask you some questions about your sleep habits. Usually go to bed early or late.
9. Okay, thanks. What is your typical routine before bedtime? What do you usually do before going to bed?
10. Great. Now some people have trouble sleeping when they stay overnight at a hotel or at a friend's house.Are you able to sleep well in unfamiliar places? Why or why not?
11. Many parents worry about their teenage children getting enough sleep. Some high schools have considered starting later in the morning to allow teenage students more time to sleep each night. What do you think of this idea? Explain why?

问题8: Do you usually go to bed early or late?

答案:

l usually go to bed quite late, around midnight or even later. This is because I have a lot of homework and sometimes I also watch videos or chat with friends online. I know sleeping early is healthier, but it's hard for me to change my habit. On weekends, I go to bed even later. So,I would say I am more of a night owl than an early bird.

问题9:What is your typical routine before bedtime?What do you usually do before going to bed?

答案:

First, I finish my homework or study for a while. Then I take a shower and brush my teeth. After that, I usually lie on my bed and look at my phone for about 20 or 30 minutes. For example, I check social media or watch short videos. I know that looking at a phone before sleeping is not good, but it's a habit. Finally,I turn off the light and try to fall asleep

问题10: Are you able to sleep well in unfamiliar places?Why or why not?

答案:

To be honest, I often have trouble sleeping in unfamiliar places. For example, when I stay at a hotel or at a friend's house, I find it hard to fall asleep. This is because the bed and pillows feel different, and the noise or light level is not what I'm used to. Also, I feel a little nervous or excited in a new environment. As a result, I often wake up several times during the night.

问题11:Some high schools have considered starting later in the morning to allow teenage students more time to sleep each night. What do you think of this idea?Explain why.

答案:

I think this is a great idea. First of all, many teenagers, including me, don't get enough sleep because they have to wake up very early for school. Starting later would allow them to sleep longer, which is good for their health and concentration in class. For example, if school started at 9:00 instead of 8:00, students would feel less tired and learn better. Secondly, studies show that teenagers' natural sleep cycle is different from adults—they tend to fall asleep later.

2026年4月26日口语4

1－7. You are working at a national park as part of an internship. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the park. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Our hiking trails offer scenic routes.

2. Make a stop at the visitor center.

3. Many outdoor campsites are available for overnight stays.

4. Picnic areas are great for family gatherings.

5. Wildlife viewing spots are ideal for observing animals.

6. Guided tours and educational programs are available by request.

7. As always, be sure to take the map with you on your nature walks and adventures.

8—11. A researcher is studying people's views on environmental awareness and lifestyle choices. You will be asked a few questions related to this topic.

Thanks for taking part in this study. Here's my first question. What if any environmentally friendly practices such as recycling do you employ in your daily life?

Great. Can you share a specific example of how you reduce your environmental impact at home at school or at work?

Interesting. If you were to make one change to help the environment, what would it be and why.

10.Many believe that individual actions alone are not enough to address environmental problems. Do you agree or disagree with this statement? Why?

问题8:What environmentally friendly practices, such as recycling, do you employ in your daily life?

答案:

I do several small things to help the environment. First, I always separate my waste into recyclables like plastic bottles and paper, and general trash. Second, I try to reuse plastic bags when I go shopping instead of taking new ones. Also, I turn off lights and the TV when I leave a room to save electricity. These habits are easy to follow, so I do them every day.

问题9:Can you share a specific example of how you reduce your environmental impact at home,at school, or at work?

答案:

Yes, at home I have a good example. I bring my own water bottle everywhere instead of buying bottled water. This reduces plastic waste. Also,at school, I print on both sides of the paper when I need to print something for my homework. That way, I use less paper. These small actions may seem simple, but they help reduce my environmental impact 问题10: If you were to make one change to help the environment, what would it be and why?

答案:

If I could make just one change, I would start taking public transport or cycling more often instead of asking my parents to drive me. This is because cars produce a lot of pollution. By taking a bus or riding a bike, I could reduce carbon emissions and also get some exercise. I know it might take more time, but I think it's worth it for a cleaner environment.

问题11: Many believe that individual actions alone are not enough to address environmental problems. Do you agree or disagree with this statement?Why?

答案:

I partly agree and partly disagree. On the one hand, individual actions like recycling or saving water are important because they raise awareness and reduce waste little by little. On the other hand ,I agree that individual actions alone are not enough. Big problems like climate change also need governments and big companies to take action,f or example by reducing factory pollution or investing in clean energy.

2026年4月29日口语1

1. Begin by mixing the butter and sugar.
2. Spread the dough so the cookies bake evenly.
3. Preheat the oven to the appropriate temperature.
4. Evenly space the cookie shapes onto the baking sheet.
5. Insert the tray and bake until the cookie edges are golden.
6. After baking time is complete, cool the cookies on the rack for five minutes.
7. Pour yourself a glass of milk and enjoy warm cookies fresh out of the oven.

8 – 11. You are participating in a research study about musical experiences. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thanks for participating. I'd like to ask you some questions about your musical experiences. First, do you play a musical instrument or sing if not, which would you choose to learn how to do if you had the chance?

9. Thank you. Can you describe one memorable experience you had while either listening to or making music, and what made it special?

10.I see now that when you listen to music, do you prefer to listen to yourself or with others why?

11. Fascinating. Some people believe that music education should be a compulsory part of the school curriculum. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Please explain your reasons.

问题8:Do you play a musical instrument or sing? If not,which would you choose to learn?

答案:

I do not play any musical instruments or sing right now, but if I had the chance,I would choose to learn the guitar. I think the guitar sounds beautiful and it is very popular in many songs. I would like to play my favorite pop songs for my friends and family. Another reason is that a guitar is portable, so I could take it anywhere.I also believe learning an instrument would help me relax and feel proud of myself. Singing is not for me because I feel shy. So, the guitar is my clear choice.

问题9: Can you describe one memorable experience you had while either listening to or making music? What made it special?

答案:

One memorable experience happened last year when I was feeling very sad about an exam result. I put on my headphones and listened to a soft, slow song by a singer I like. The lyrics talked about not giving up, and somehow it made me cry but also feel better. After listening to that song three times, I felt hopeful again. What made it special was how the music understood my feelings without saying a word. It felt like the song was written just for me. That experience showed me how powerful music can be.

问题10: Do you prefer to listen to music by yourself or with others?Why?

答案:

I strongly prefer to listen to music by myself. When I am alone, I can fully focus on the music without any distractions. I can close my eyes and really feel the emotions of the song. Also, I don't have to worry about whether other people like my choice of music. When I listen to others, they might want to talk or change the song, which ruins my experience. Listening alone allows me to relax completely and enjoy every note. So, for me, solo listening is much better than listening with others.

问题11: Do you agree or disagree that music education should be a compulsory part of the school curriculum? Why?

答案:

I agree that music education should be compulsory in schools. First, learning music helps children develop creativity and discipline. Playing an instrument or singing requires practice and patience, which are useful for other subjects too. Second, music can reduce stress and make school more enjoyable for students. Third, not all families can afford music lessons at home, so schools should provide this opportunity for everyone. Music also teaches teamwork when students play in a band or choir. Therefore, I believe music education is very important and should be required for all students.

2026年4月29日口语2

1 – 7. You are working part-time at a hardware store near campus. Your manager is leading a home improvement workshop and is training you on how to teach others how to paint a wall. Listen to your manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.Use a drop cloth on the floor to prevent stains.

2.Apply painters tape to edges for clean lines.

3.Pour the paint directly into the tray for easy access.

4.Use a roller for even coverage on large areas.

5.Start painting at the top of the wall and work steadily downward.

6.You might need to use an extension ladder to reach very high spots and corners.

7.For the best results, remember to remove the tape before the paint fully dries.

8 – 11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with exercise. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for helping with our studies. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with exercise. First, if you were to have a regular exercise routine when during the day would it occur when is that?

9.Great. If you were to design an exercise plan for yourself, what kinds of activities would you consider including and why?

10.That's interesting. Do you think exercising alone or with others makes a difference in motivation or enjoyment?

11.Some people believe that too much regular exercise can be detrimental to maintaining both physical and mental health. Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not?

问题8 : If you were to have a regular exercise routine, when during the day would it occur? Why?

答案:

I would choose to exercise in the morning. This is because my energy level is highest right after I wake up. I feel fresh and motivated at that time. Also, exercising in the morning helps me stay active for the rest of the day. It wakes up my body and brain. Another reason is that mornings are usually quiet, so I can focus on my workout without distractions. If I wait until the evening, I often feel too tired or lazy to do anything. Therefore, morning exercise is the best choice for me.

问题9: If you were to design an exercise plan for yourself, what kinds of activities would you consider including and why?

答案:

I would include three main activities: jogging, bodyweight exercises, and stretching. First, jogging is great for my heart and lungs, and it helps me burn calories. Second, I would do push-ups and squats to build muscle strength without needing any equipment. These exercises make my body stronger. Third, stretching is important to keep my muscles flexible and prevent injuries. I would finish every workout with five minutes of stretching. These three activities together give me a balanced and simple plan that I can do anywhere, anytime.

问题10: Do you think exercising alone or with others makes a difference in motivation or enjoyment?

答案:

I strongly believe that exercising with others makes a big difference in both motivation and enjoyment. When I exercise with a friend, we encourage each other to keep going, especially when we feel tired. This increases my motivation. Also,working out together is more fun because we can talk and laugh while exercising. If I exercise alone, I get bored easily and might give up early. Furthermore, with others, I feel a sense of responsibility to show up on time. So, for me, group exercise is clearly better than exercising alone.

问题11: Some people believe that too much regular exercise can be detrimental to maintaining both physical and mental health. Do you agree or disagree with this belief?

答案:

I agree with this belief. Too much regular exercise can indeed harm both physical and mental health. Physically, over-exercising can lead to injuries like muscle strains or joint pain. It can also make the body feel exhausted all the time. Mentally, excessive exercise can cause stress and anxiety, especially if someone feels forced to work out every single day without rest. Our bodies need time to recover. Balance is very important. Doing a reasonable amount of exercise is healthy, but doing too much is dangerous. Therefore, I believe too much exercise is detrimental.

2026年4月29日口语3

1 – 7. You are volunteering at a community center near campus. The instructor is showing you how to guide beginners in making a smoothie. Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says. Repeat only once.

1.Peel and slice a banana for sweetness.

2. Add berries for color and vitamins.

3. You can add flavored yogurt if you want additional flavor.

4. Slowly add milk until you achieve the desired consistency.

5. Blend until no chunks remain, and the ingredients are mixed.

6. Optionally, add several pieces of ice if you prefer a colder drink.

7. Once everything looks good slowly pour the smoothie into a chilled glass and serve.

8 – 11. You are participating in a research study about social media use.You will have a short online interview with a researcher who will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for your time today. I'd like to discuss social media use with you, which social media platforms do you or your friends use, and how often do you or they use them.

9. Thank you. Why do you or people you know primarily use social media is it for staying in touch entertainment or another reason.

10. Interesting. Can you share a positive experience you or someone you know has had while using social media?

11. There's an ongoing debate about social media's impact on face-to-face communication. Some say it decreases the likelihood of making plans to see friends face to face. While others argue it makes face-to-face connection easier. What is your opinion, and why.

问题8:Which social media platforms do you or your friend use, and how often do you or they use them?

答案:

My friends and I mainly use TikTok and WeChat. We use them very often, almost every day. For example, I spend about two hours on TikTok each day watching short videos. My friends use them even more, sometimes three or four hours. We also use WeChat to send messages every few hours. I check WeChat in the morning, during breaks, and before I sleep. So,I would say we use social media daily, and it is a big part of our routine.

问题9: Why do you or people you know primarily use social media-is it for staying in touch,entertainment, or another reason?

答案:

For me and most people I know, the main reason is entertainment. We use social media to watch funny videos, listen to music, and see interesting pictures. It helps us relax after a long day of studying or working. Staying in touch is a secondary reason, but entertainment is the top priority. For instance, I open TikTok when I feel bored, not because I need t message someone. So, entertainment clearly drives our social media use.

问题10: Can you share a positive experience you or someone you know has had while using social media?

答案:

Yes, my friend had a very positive experience on social media. She posted a video of her singing on TikTok, and many people left kind comments. Some even said her voice was beautiful and encouraged her to keep practicing. This made her feel confident and happy. Later, she connected with a music teacher through the comments, who gave her free advice. So, social media helped her find support and grow her talent. That was a truly positive experience.

问题11: Some say social media decreases the likelihood of making plans to see friends face to face, while others argue it makes face-to-face connection easier. What is your opinion and why?

答案:

I believe social media decreases the likelihood of making face-to-face plans. This is because it is so easy to chat online that people feel less need to meet in person. For example, instead of asking a friend to go out for coffee, we just send a message or have a video call. That feels good enough, so we don't bother making real plans. Also, many people spend hours scrolling through posts alone at home. As a result, real-life meetings happen less often. So, social media actually harms face-to-face communication.

2026年4月29日口语4

1－7. You are being trained to teach recycling procedures to students on campus.Listen to your trainer and repeat what the trainer says.Repeat only once.

1.Put all paper items into the blue bin.

2.Glass bottles belong in the green container.

3.The yellow receptacle is only for plastic bottles.

4. Non recyclable materials must go into the trash.

5. Compost leftover food to help reduce the waste in landfills

6. Always read the posted signs to make sure you sort all items correctly.

7.You can download our app for updates about policy or procedure changes.

8－11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with weather.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for joining our study. I'd like to ask about your experiences with the weather. Typically what is the weather like during the year in the place where you live.

9.Thank you.How do you usually prepare for a day when the weather forecast predicts rain?

10.Great.If you were to choose a place to live,would you prefer consistent weather throughout the whole year or distinct seasons?Why do you have this preference?

11. Many places experience extreme weather, like sudden temperature swings or strong storms.Should communities invest more in adapting to these weather extremes? What measures would be most helpful?

问题8:Typically what is the weather like during the year in the place where you live?

答案: Where I live,the weather is mostly hot and humid for most of the year.From spring to autumn,temperatures are often above 30 degrees Celsius.We have a lot of sunny days, and it hardly ever gets cold. Even in winter,it' s still warm compared to other places.Rain is common during the summer months,but it usually stops quickly.I rarely need a heavy coat or scarf. So,the overall weather is quite consistent - hot,sunny,and sometimes rainy.This is typical for my hometown.

问题9:How do you usually prepare for a day when the weather forecast predicts rain?

答案: When rain is predicted,I always take several simple steps.First,I put a small umbrella in my bag so I don’t get wet when walking outside.Second,I wear waterproof shoes or old sneakers because I hate wet socks.Third,I bring an extra plastic bag to protect my phone and books.I also check the forecast again in the morning to see if the rain will be heavy or light.Finally,I leave home a little earlier to avoid being late due to traffic.These preparations help me stay dry and comfortable.

问题10: Would you prefer consistent weather throughout the whole year or distinct seasons?Why?

答案:

I strongly prefer consistent weather throughout the whole year.This is because consistent weather makes life much easier and more predictable.I don't have to buy many different clothes for hot or cold days.I can wear similar outfits every day,which saves money.Also,I don't need to worry about sudden illness caused by temperature changes. With consistent weather,I can plan outdoor activities without checking the forecast often. For example,I can go jogging every morning without worrying about snow or extreme heat.For me,stable weather is simply less stressful and more comfortable.

问题11: Should communities invest more in adapting to weather extremes?What measures would be most helpful?

答案:

Yes,communities should definitely invest more in adapting to extreme weather.Extreme weather like storms or heatwaves is becoming more common,so we need to be prepared. The most helpful measures include building stronger drainage systems to prevent flooding during heavy rain.Another good measure is creating cooling centers with air conditioning for very hot days.Also,communities should plant more trees to provide shade and reduce heat.Finally,they should send early warning messages to people's phones so everyone can stay safe.These investments protect people's health and homes,so they are really worth the money.

2026年4月29日口语5

1－7. You are being trained to assist in a campus coffee shop.Your supervisor will teach you how to explain the key features of the coffee shop to customers.Listen to your supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat it only once.

1. We serve coffee and tea at the main counter.

2.Our pastries are all made fresh daily.

3.The menu board list drinks that include a range of herbal teas.

4.Milk cream and sugar are available at the station.

5.Dispose of trash and recyclables in the bins near the door.

6.Some tables in the seating area offer excellent views of campus.

7.Free Wi-Fi is available for campus visitors as well as students.

8－11. A researcher is studying people's views on art and self-expression.The researcher will ask you some questions about artistic activities.

8. Thanks for speaking with me. I'd like to talk with you about art and music.Do you engage in any artistic activities such as painting or playing music regularly?If so,what do you do?If not,which artistic activity would you like to try if you had the chance?

9.What kind of art or music do you enjoy the most?How do you typically experience it through creation or appreciation?

10. If you are creating art or music,would you prefer sharing your work publicly or keeping it private what influences your decision?

11. Some people think art and music can be powerful ways to communicate emotions and ideas that are difficult to express with words.Do you agree or disagree?Why?

问题8:Do you engage in any artistic activities such as painting or playing music regularly? If not,which would you like to try?

答案: I don't do any artistic activities regularly right now,but I would really like to try playing the guitar if I had the chance.I love listening to guitar music,and it seems like a fun and relaxing hobby.Playing the guitar would allow me to express my feelings without using words.I also think it would be a great way to reduce stress after a busy day.Another reason is that I could play simple songs for my friends and family.So,learning to play the guitar is something I truly hope to do in the future.

问题9:What kind of art or music do you enjoy the most?How do you typically experience it?

答案: I enjoy pop music the most,especially songs with catchy melodies and meaningful lyrics.I typically experience it through listening,not by creating it myself.For example,I use music apps on my phone to listen to pop songs every day,usually when I am traveling or doing homework.I also watch music videos on YouTube to feel more connected to the artist.Sometimes I share my favorite songs with friends.Listening to pop music makes me feel happy and relaxed.So,appreciation is my main way of enjoying music,not creation.

问题10:If you were creating art or music,would you prefer sharing your work publicly or keeping it private?What influences your decision?

答案: If I were creating art or music,I would prefer keeping it private.The main reason is that I am a shy person,and I would feel nervous if other people judged my work.I worry about receiving negative comments or criticism,which might make me lose confidence.Keeping my creations private allows me to enjoy the process without pressure.I can just do it for myself,as a personal hobby.Another reason is that art and music are very personal to me. So,I would only share my work with very close friends or family,not the public.

问题11:Do you agree that art and music can be powerful ways to communicate emotions and ideas that are difficult to express with words?

答案: I completely agree with this statement.Art and music can express feelings that words sometimes cannot capture.For example,a sad song can make you feel deep sorrow without saying much.A painting with dark colors can show loneliness or fear.When I feel angry or confused,listening to music helps me release those emotions.Similarly,drawing simple pictures lets me show how I feel inside.Words are not always enough.Art and music speak directly to our hearts.Therefore,I believe they are truly powerful tools for emotional communication.

2026年5月5日新题（此套仅interview是新题）

1－7. You are working in a rock-climbing gym at a university. Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the gym. Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says. Repeat only once.

1.You can rent climbing shoes at the front desk.

2.Always wear a helmet when in the gym.

3.The shorter walls can be used without ropes or a harness.

4.Just follow the colored marks to stay on the same climbing path.

5. Also, make sure to check out our special strength training zone.

6.Use the hang and chin up bars to increase the power of your upper body.

7.If you need help trained instructors are always nearby to guide and advise you.

8-11. You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating transportation habits. You will have a short video interview with one of the researchers. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8..Thank you for your participation today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your transportation habits. What kind of transportation do your family or friends generally prefer when they travel? For example, do they like boats, buses, trains, cars or planes?

9. I see what you think of the public transportation system in the place you l i v e t e l l me one thing you especially like or dislike.

10. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion in recent years there has been a push toward working from home instead of in an office building. Do you think that, in the future more people will work from home? Why or why not?

11. Good points. I just have one more question. Some people believe that improving public transportation systems is essential for reducing traffic congestion and pollution in cities. Do you agree with this idea or do you think there are other solutions to these problems explain why you think so?

8.My family usually prefers cars for most trips because they are convenient and private. For long distances, they sometimes take trains or planes. My friends like buses and subways when traveling within the city because they are cheap and avoid parking problems. Personally, I enjoy trains the most because they are comfortable and you can walk around. Boats are rare for us since we do not live near water.

9. The public transportation where I live has both good and bad points.I really like the subway system because it is fast and runs frequently,even during rush hours.However, I dislike that buses are often late and crowded.Also,some stations are not very clean.If the bus schedule were more reliable,more people would probably use it instead of driving.

10.Yes,I think more people will work from home in the future.The pandemic showed that many jobs can be done remotely.Companies save money on office space,and employees save time on commuting.However,not everyone can work from home,like factory workers or doctors.But for desk jobs,working from home will likely become much more common because technology makes it easy and convenient.

11. I completely agree that improving public transportation is essential.Better subways and buses mean fewer cars on the road,which reduces both traffic jams and air pollution. However,other solutions also help,like encouraging biking with safe bike lanes, promoting carpooling,and designing cities so homes are closer to workplaces.A combination of better public transit and these other ideas would be most effective for solving congestion and pollution problems.

2026年5月6日口语1

1-7.You are learning how to guide students in using the campus-library resources effectively.Listen to the librarian and repeat what the librarian says.Repeat only once.

1. The public computers are in the corner.

2.The research help desk is near the entrance.

3. Group tables are available for collaborative work.

4. You can print assignments using the machines located here.

5. Newly released books are displayed near the window section.

6. Workshops that include advanced searching techniques are offered by librarians.

7. For additional research help, explore our online database and tutorials.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study about personal organization habits. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks for taking the time to speak with us today. To ask you some questions about your personal organization habits. Do you feel more comfortable when things are organized? What does it not matter much to you? Why?

9. Fair enough. Now, what is one habit or routine you think can be helpful for people who want to be more organized?

10. Okay, good moving on. Do you think organization is something people are born with or something they can learn Why?

11. Great last one in your opinion is organization as important in one's personal life as it is in one's work or school life. Why?

8. Thanks for taking the time to speak with us today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal organization habits. First, do you feel more comfortable when things are organized? Does it not matter much to you? Why?

Yes, I feel much more comfortable when things are organized. For example, I like to keep my desk clean and my school notes in order. When everything has its place, I don’t waste time looking for things. It also helps me feel calm and focused. If my room is messy, I get stressed and can't think clearly. So organization really matters to me a lot. It makes my daily life easier and happier.

9. Fair enough. Now, what is one habit or routine you think can be helpful for people who want to be more organized?

One helpful habit is to spend five minutes every evening tidying up.You can put away clothes,clear your desk,or pack your bag for the next day.This small routine stops mess from building up.Another good habit is to write down your tasks on a small notebook. When you finish something,cross it off.It feels good and keeps you on track.These simple habits don’t take much time but make a big difference.

10.Good.Moving on.Do you think organization is something people are born with or something they can learn? Why?

I think organization is something people can learn.Nobody is born perfectly organized. When we are young,we might be messy,but we can learn good habits from our parents or teachers.For example,you can learn to make a schedule or put things back after using them.It just takes practice.Even if someone is very disorganized now,they can change little by little.So it's not about being born with it—it's about learning and trying.

11.Great.Last one,in your opinion,is organization as important in one's personal life as,it is in one's work or school life? Why?

Yes,organization is just as important in personal life as in work or school.In school,being organized helps you finish homework on time.At work,it helps you meet deadlines.But in personal life,organization helps you manage your money,keep your home clean,and make time for friends and family.If your personal life is messy,you will feel stressed all the time.So being organized everywhere makes your whole life better and less stressful.

2026年5月6日口语2

1 – 7. You are being trained at the university student center to help visitors navigate various resources.Listen to your manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1. The resource desk is near the entrance.
2. The lounge is a quiet space for studying.
3. You can access free printing and t h e I n t e r n e t in the lab.
4. Our multi-purpose room is used for workshops and events.
5. Please do not bring food from the cafe to other places.
6. Check the bulletin board for daily announcements and a c t i v i t y .
7. If anyone has questions, feel free to stop by the help desk near the entrance.

8-11. You have signed up for a study run by a university research group that is investigating public parks and recreation. You will have a short video interview with one of the researchers. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Today, I'd like to ask you some questions about public parks and recreational spaces. First, can you tell me about a memorable visit you or a friend made to a park or recreational s p a c e ? W h a t made it special?
9. I see. Do you think public parks and recreational spaces are more important for adults or for children? Why?
10. Interesting. Some people believe that public parks play a crucial role in promoting community health and wellbeing by offering outdoor areas for relaxing and exercising or playing. Therefore, local governments should spend more money on such places. What are your thoughts on t h i s ? D o you agree or d i s a g r e e ? W h y ?
11. Good points? Finally, in many large cities, there is a tension between building more public parks for residents to relax and play versus using the space to build more housing. Do you think the need for more housing is more or less important than the need for public parks and recreational s p a c e s ? W h y ?

8. Can you tell me about a memorable visit you or a friend made to a park or recreational space? What made it special?

Yes, I remember one time I went to a big park near my home with my family. We had a picnic on the grass and played badminton together. The weather was sunny but not too hot. What made it special was that my whole family was there, and we laughed a lot. My little brother ran around and flew a kite. I felt really relaxed and happy. It was simple but memorable because we don't often spend that much time together outside.

9. Do you think public parks and recreational spaces are more important for adults or for children? Why?

I think public parks are a little more important for children. Children need space to run, play, and use their energy. Parks help them stay active and make friends. For adults, parks are also good because they can relax, walk, or exercise after work. But adults can find other ways to relax, like going to a gym or staying home. Children have fewer choices, so parks matter more t o them.

10. Some people believe local governments should spend more money on public parks for health and wellbeing. What are your thoughts? Do you agree or disagree? Why?

I agree that governments should spend more money on public parks. First, parks give people a free place to exercise, like jogging or playing sports. This helps reduce health problems. Second, parks help with mental health. When people feel stressed, sitting in a park or walking among trees can make them feel better. Spending money on parks is a good investment for a healthier community. So, yes, I think it's a good idea.

11. In large cities, there is tension between building more parks versus more housing. Is the need for housing more or less important than parks? Why?

I think housing is more important because people need a place to live.If there is not enough housing,prices go up and some people may become homeless.However,parks are also important for health and happiness.So the best solution is to try to balance both. For example,cities can build small parks near housing areas instead of big ones.But if I have to choose,housing comes first.

2026年5月6日口语3

1－7. You are being trained to guide visitors through a university art exhibition.Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says.Repeat only once.

1.Artwork can be seen in the east wing.

2. Pieces are placed along the main corridor.

3.Interactive displays are set up near the front entrance.

4. Pick up printed materials at the Information desk.

5. Incredible photos tell unique stories about campus life.

6.If you need to relax for a moment,there are places to sit and take a break.

7.Tours are given daily every hour,but you need to sign up one day prior.

8－11. You received an email from your university inviting you to join a research study about time management.You have scheduled a short online interview with a researcher to answer a few questions.

8－11. You received an Email from your university inviting you to join a research study about time management.You have scheduled a short online interview with the researcher to answer a few questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate.I'd like to ask him questions about my management habits.First,do you use any tools or techniques to manage your time effectively? Please give some examples.Thank you.

9.Can you describe a typical day event for you and how you organize your time?

10.Interesting.Tell me about a time when you had to manage multiple tasks or responsibilities at once. How do you handle it?

11. Great. Some people believe that managing your time wisely can lead to higher productivity while others think it can cause unnecessary stress and prefer a loose schedule. What is your opinion on this? Why?

8. Do you use any tools or techniques to manage your time effectively? Please give some examples.

Yes, I use a few simple tools. First, I always use a to-do list on my phone. Every morning, I write down three to five things I need to finish that day. I also use a timer when I study. For example, I focus for 25 minutes, then take a 5-minute break. This helps me not get too tired. Another technique is to put my phone away when I'm working so I don't get distracted. These small tools really help me get things done.

9. Can you describe a typical day for you and how you organize your time?

Sure. I usually wake up at 7 a.m.First, I check my schedule for the day. Then I have breakfast and go to class from 8 to 12. After lunch, I spend one hour doing homework or studying. In the afternoon, I have more classes or club activities. After dinner, I review what I learned and make a to-do list for the next day. I try to go to bed before 11 p.m. Organizing my time this way helps me finish everything without rushing.

10. Tell me about a time when you had to manage multiple tasks or responsibilities at once. How did you handle it?

Last semester,I had three final exams in one week and also a group project to finish.I felt stressed at first.To handle it,I wrote down all the tasks and decided which ones were most urgent.I studied for the hardest exam first.I also divided the group project into small parts and worked on it for one hour each day.I said no to hanging out with friends that week.In the end,I finished everything on time.Staying calm and planning helped me a lot.

11. Some people think managing time wisely leads to higher productivity,while others think it causes stress.What is your opinion?

I think managing time wisely is good,but you have to be flexible.A strict schedule can cause stress if you plan every minute.For me,I make a loose plan with a few important tasks each day.This helps me be productive without feeling trapped.If something unexpected happens,I can change my plan easily.So I believe the key is balance.Don't over-plan,but don't have no plan at all.A simple to-do list and some breaks work best for me.

2026年5月10日口语新题1

1－7. You are working at your university's botanical garden.Your manager is training you on how to instruct new workers about their responsibilities.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1. Water the trees daily to help them grow.

2.Add nutrients to the flower bed dirt.

3.Manage temperature and humidity inside the greenhouse.

4. Do not use chemicals near the pond to protect the creatures there.

5. Recycle waste in the compost pile to create rich soil.

6.After you finish gardening put the tools in the shed so others can use them.

7. When guests arrive show them to the visitor center to learn about the garden.

8－11. You have volunteered for a research study about history education.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8 It's great to have you here. I'm interested in learning about your experiences with history education. First, what is one aspect of history that you find particularly interesting?

9.Fascinating.Now think about when you studied history in school. What was a history related activity or project you enjoyed and what made it engaging for you.

10.That's interesting.Some people enjoy visiting historical sites.If you were to visit a historical site you've never before visited , which one would you choose and why?

11. Good insights into history education is often debated in terms of their relevance in modern curriculums.Do you think the study of history remains important in today's educational system? Why or why not?

【文】8.I find social history very interesting,especially how ordinary people lived in the past.Learning about their daily routines,food,clothing,and jobs makes history feel real and relatable.It is not just about kings and wars.Knowing how people experienced life long ago helps me understand why our world looks the way it does today.That personal connection draws me in.

9. In school,we once did a project where each student picked a historical figure and gave a short presentation dressed as that person.I chose Albert Einstein.The fun part was acting and speaking in character.It made me really learn about his life because I had to answer questions from classmates.The creative and interactive nature of that project made history come alive for me.

10.I would love to visit the ancient city of Pompeii in Italy.It was buried by a volcano eruption nearly two thousand years ago,and much of it is preserved.Walking through its streets and buildings would feel like stepping back in time.Seeing the everyday objects and even the shapes of people who died would be both powerful and unforgettable.It is a unique window into Roman life.

11.Yes,I believe the study of history remains very important.It helps us understand why societies are the way they are and avoid repeating past mistakes.History also teaches critical thinking when we examine different sources and perspectives.Knowing our roots builds identity and empathy for others.Even in a modern,fast-changing world,history gives us context and wisdom that no other subject can fully replace.

2026年5月10日口语新题2

1－7. You are volunteering at a community workshop near campus.The leader is training you to guide schoolchildren in building a simple birdhouse.Listen to the leader and repeat what the leader says.Repeat only once.

1 Measure each piece carefully before you cut.

2.So slowly to keep the line smooth and straight.

3.Lightly sand the edges until they all feel smooth and clean.

4.Make a round hole that the bird will use as the entrance to the house.

5.Glue each side of the house together and give it some time to dry.

6. To attach the roof hammer the nails in gently,so the wood doesn't split or crack.

7.To protect the birdhouse from the weather seal it well so it will last for years.

8－11. As part of a university research project, you have agreed to take part in a short interview about personal finances.A graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks in advance for your time today I'd like to ask you about your personal finance habits to start off do you typically keep a budget for your expenses, or do you manage them informally?

9. Got it. Next question.Everyone has different spending habits. Who or what would you say most influences the way you make money related choices, your family,your friends, or your own experience? Why?

10.Great.Thanks for that input. Now, if you were to receive extra money,like as a gift, how would you decide what to do with it? For instance,would you spend it or save it and why?

11. Thanks for sharing. And now for the last question,some experts believe that personal finance should be something that schools teach to prepare young people for future money management.Do you agree or disagree with this idea? What impact do you think it would have on students?

【文】8.I manage my expenses more informally.I do not keep a strict written budget,but I roughly keep track of my spending in my head.I check my bank account regularly and try to make sure I do not spend more than I earn.For big purchases,I think carefully. A formal budget might be helpful,but my informal method works fine for now.

9. My own experience influences my money choices the most.I have made small mistakes, like buying something I did not need,and learned from them.My family taught me basic values,like saving for important things.But real life experience,such as seeing how fast money goes,has been the strongest teacher.Friends have less influence because everyone's situation is different.

10.If I received extra money as a gift,I would probably save most of it.I would put it into a savings account for future needs,such as school expenses or an emergency.However,I might spend a small part,maybe ten percent,on something fun like a nice meal or a book.That way, I enjoy the gift a little while still being responsible with the rest.

11. I completely agree that personal finance should be taught in schools.Many young people graduate without knowing how to budget,save,or use credit cards wisely. Learning these skills early would help students avoid debt and make smarter decisions as adults.Schools already teach math and science,which are important,but money management is just as essential for daily life.It would have a very positive impact.

2026年5月13日口语1

1－7. You are working at a travel agency as part of an internship.Your manager is teaching you how to assist customers with booking vacation packages.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1. Start with the customers travel dates.
2. Suggest flights that match their travel times.
3. Propose lodgings that fit their budget and are close to attractions.
4. Offer travel insurance options to give clients peace of mind.
5. Recommend guided tours that highlight the local culture.
6.Before booking the reservation go over the details with the client
7. When customers are ready to pay process the payment to confirm their booking.

8－11. A researcher is studying people's views on environmental awareness and lifestyle choices.You will be asked a few questions related to this topic.

8.Thanks for taking part in this study. Here's my first question.What if any environmentally friendly practices such as recycling do you employ in your daily life?
9. Great. Can you share a specific example of how you reduce your environmental impact at h o m e at s c h o o l or at work?
10. Interesting. If you were to make one change to help the environment, what would it be and why?
11. Many believe that individual actions alone are not enough to address environmental problems. Do you agree or disagree with this statement? Why?

8.Thanks for taking part in this study. Here's my first question. What, if any, environmentally friendly p r a c t i c e s, such as r e c y c l i n g, do you employ in your daily life?

I employ several environmentally friendly practices in my daily life. First, I have separate bins in my apartment to make sorting easy. Second, I take my own reusable shopping bags to the grocery store and refuse plastic bags whenever possible. Third, I use a reusable water bottle instead of buying bottled water. I also try to reduce food waste by planning my meals for the week and using leftovers creatively. Additionally, I take shorter showers to save water. Finally, I choose to walk or take public transportation instead of driving alone. None of these actions are difficult, but together they reduce my carbon footprint significantly.

9. Great. Can you share a specific example of how you reduce your environmental impact at home, at school, or at work?

A specific example from my daily life is how I handle food waste at home. Instead of throwing vegetable peels, coffee grounds, and eggshells into the trash, I collect them in a small container on my kitchen counter. Every three days, I take that container to a community compost drop-off location near my apartment. The compost is later used by local community gardens to grow fresh vegetables. This simple habit keeps organic waste out of landfills, where it would otherwise produce methane, a powerful greenhouse gas. It also reduces the amount of trash I send to incinerators.

10. Interesting. If you were to make one change to help the environment, what would it be and why?

I would significantly reduce my consumption of single-use plastics, especially from takeout food and packaged snacks. Right now, even though I try to avoid them, I still occasionally buy bottled drinks, plastic-wrapped sandwiches, or coffee in disposable cups when I am in a hurry. The change would be to always carry a reusable coffee cup, a stainless steel food container, and a set of cutlery in my backpack. I would also seek out grocery stores with bulk bins to buy rice, nuts, and pasta without plastic packaging. The reason I choose this change is that single-use plastics often end up in oceans or incinerators, harming wildlife and releasing toxic chemicals

11. Many believe that individual actions alone are not enough to address environmental problems. Do you agree or disagree with this statement? Why?

Yes,I completely agree.Individual actions alone are absolutely not enough to solve environmental problems.No matter how many people recycle,use reusable bags,or turn off lights,these efforts cannot stop the pollution caused by massive industrial factories, global shipping fleets,or agricultural corporations.For example,a single cruise ship produces as much air pollution in one day as millions of cars.My personal choice to skip a plastic straw has no meaningful impact compared to that.Real change requires government regulations,international agreements,and corporate accountability.Without systemic solutions like carbon taxes,renewable energy mandates,and bans on single-use plastics,individual actions are just drops in an ocean of damage.

2026年5月13日口语2

1－7. You are an art student assisting your professor in a community woodworking class. Your professor is training you to show others how to complete simple woodworking steps. Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says.Repeat only once.

1.Measure carefully to avoid mistakes,

2.Draw a line with a pencil before cutting,

3.Hammer the nails gently,so the wood does not split apart.

4.Hold your work firmly in place to avoid accidents while cutting

5.Sand the surface evenly until the board feels smooth to the touch.

6.When drilling into wood,keep the tool straight,so the hole remains neat and smooth.

7.When sawing or using heavy equipment wear safety glasses for protection.

8-11 Interview You are participating in a research study about awareness of history.You will have an online interview with a researcher.Thank you for your participation.

8. Today, we'll explore the idea of awareness of history.Can you tell me if you've gained most of your knowledge of history through school or from outside of school?

9. Thank you. When learning about history, whether through school or on your own, what aspects do you find most intriguing, cultural, political or something else?

10. I see. Have you ever visited a historical site or m u s e u m ? D o you think that visiting such a place enhances your understanding of h i s t o r y ? W h y or w h y n o t ?

11. Thanks for sharing. Some believe that studying history helps prevent repeating past mistakes. Do you agree or disagree with this i d e a ? W h y ?

8. Today, we'll explore the idea of awareness of history. Can you tell me if you've gained most of your knowledge of history through school or from outside of school?

The major source of my knowledge of history is outside of school, although school certainly provided a foundation. In school, I learned the basic facts, such as wars, revolutions, and important leaders. But the details, different perspectives, and personal stories came from outside sources. For example, I enjoy watching historical documentaries on YouTube and listening to history podcasts during my commute. I also read historical fiction and memoirs, which bring past events to life in a way textbooks cannot. Additionally, conversations with my grandparents gave me a personal connection to events like the Cold War and the civil rights movement.

9. Thank you. When learning about history, whether through school or on your own, what aspects do you find most intriguing: cultural, political, or something else?

I find political history the most intriguing. I am fascinated by how leaders make decisions, how governments rise and fall, and how wars and treaties reshape entire nations. Political history explains the power struggles behind major events—why revolutions happen, why empires collapse, and why borders change. For example, learning about the causes of World War I helps me understand current international tensions. I also enjoy studying different forms of government, such as democracy, monarchy, and dictatorship, and how each one affects ordinary people's lives. Political scandals, elections, and diplomatic negotiations feel like real-life dramas. Unlike cultural history, which focuses on daily life, political history reveals the mechanics of power.

10. I see. Have you ever visited a historical site or museum? Do you think that visiting such a place enhances your understanding of history? Why or why not?

No, I have never visited a historical site or museum. And honestly, I do not think visiting such places would significantly enhance my understanding of history. The main reason is that I prefer learning from books, documentaries, and reliable online resources. These sources provide detailed context, multiple perspectives, and expert analysis in a structured way. In contrast, a museum or historical site often only shows a limited number of artifacts or a single interpretation of events. For example, a battlefield might have a few statues and signs, but a good documentary can explain the strategies, political background, and personal stories all in one hour.

11. Thanks for sharing. Some believe that studying history helps prevent repeating past mistakes. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

No,I disagree.Human beings have been making the same errors for centuries,despite having detailed records of what went wrong before.For example,we have studied the causes of World War I and World War II extensively,yet wars,genocides,and economic crises continue to happen around the world.Financial bubbles and crashes keep occurring even though economists have analyzed the Great Depression in depth. Politicians and leaders often ignore historical lessons because they think their situation is unique or because short-term interests matter more than long-term wisdom.Knowing that a past war ended badly does not stop a new generation from believing they will win this time.

2026年5月13日口语3

1－7 You are volunteering at a community nature center near campus.The leader is training you to help beginners learn the basics of bird watching.Listen to the leader and repeat what the leader says.Repeat only once.

1.Look towards the tree tops where you can find nests.

2. No details to help identify the bird.

3. Keep a record of each sighting to share later with the group.

4. Use proper footwear to keep from slipping while exploring outdoors.

5.Keep your head covered to protect yourself from the sun on the walk.

6. When getting ready for a day out,be sure to pack essentials to be prepared.

7.If you spot a bird nearby avoid sudden movements so it does not fly away.

8－11. You are participating in a study about renewable energy sources.The researcher will ask you some questions concerning your opinions on renewable energy and its implementation.

8. Thanks for your participation.I'd like to discuss your views on renewable energy to start how important the issue of renewable energy, such as wind and solar power to you personally? Why would you say you feel that way?

9. Now describe a time when you or someone you know ,try to reduce energy use. What actions were t a k e n , and what made it easy or difficult?

10. Great. In your daily life, have you noticed any renewable energy initiatives in your community? If yes, what have you seen and how do they impact your area? If not, what's an initiative that might be beneficial for your community?

11.Thought provoking. Many believe transitioning to renewable energy is crucial for environmental sustainability, while others worry about the costs involved. Do you think the benefits of renewable energy outweigh the drawbacks? Why or why not?

8. Thanks for your participation.I'd like to discuss your views on renewable energy. To start, how important is the issue of renewable energy, such as wind and solar power, to you personally? Why would you say you feel that way?

To be honest, the issue of renewable energy is not very important to me personally. I don’t mean that it's unimportant for the world, but in my daily life, I have much more immediate concerns. Right now, I worry about paying my rent, affording groceries, finishing my school assignments, and finding a job after graduation. These things directly affect my survival and well-being. Renewable energy feels distant and abstract to me. I don’t own a house, so I cannot install solar panels. I don’t drive, so electric vehicles don't matter to me. My electricity bill is already low because I live in a small apartment.

9. Now describe a time when you or someone you know tried to reduce energy use. What actions were t a k e n , and what made it easy or difficult?

A close friend of mine recently tried to reduce energy use in his apartment. He started by replacing all old light bulbs with LED bulbs, which use much less electricity. He also unplugged electronics like his TV, computer charger, and microwave when they were not in use, because they still draw power even when turned off. Additionally, he set his air conditioner to a higher temperature in summer and used a fan instead. What made it easy was that LED bulbs last longer and save money on electricity bills, so he saw immediate financial benefits. Also, unplugging devices became a habit after just a few days. What made it difficult was remembering to unplug everything, especially devices behind furniture.

10. Great. In your daily life, have you noticed any renewable energy initiatives in your community? If yes, what have you seen, and how do they impact your area? If not, what's an initiative that might be beneficial for your community?

Yes,I have noticed several renewable energy initiatives in my community.First,our city installed several electric vehicle charging stations in public parking lots,and some of them are powered by solar canopies.The EV charging stations encourage people to switch to electric cars.Second,the local government offered tax credits and low-interest loans to encourage the installation of renewable energy facilities,which reduce residents' electricity bills and lower the community's overall carbon footprint. Third,the streetlights along main roads have been replaced with solar-powered LED lamps.The solar streetlights save the city money on electricity and keep working even during power outages.

11.Thought provoking.Many believe transitioning to renewable energy is crucial for environmental sustainability,while others worry about the costs involved.Do you think the benefits of renewable energy outweigh the drawbacks?Why or why not?

No,I do not think the benefits of renewable energy clearly outweigh the drawbacks.First, the upfront costs are enormous.Installing solar farms,wind turbines,and grid-scale batteries requires massive government subsidies or private investment,which drives up taxes or electricity prices for ordinary people.Many low-income families already struggle to pay their utility bills.Second,renewable sources are unreliable.Solar and wind depend on weather and time of day,so they cannot provide consistent power without expensive backup systems,such as natural gas plants or massive battery storage.Third,renewable energy requires a huge amount of land.Solar farms take up acres of desert or farmland, and wind turbines kill birds and affect local ecosystems.

2026年5月13日口语4

1－7. You are volunteering at a community center near campus. The instructor is training you to guide beginners through simple yoga routines. Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says. Repeat only once.

1. Find a good place to roll out your mat.
2. Keep some water handy to drink when needed.
3. Focus on slow breathing to stay relaxed through each movement.
4. Pay attention to the instructor's words to learn proper form.
5. A block can help you maintain your balance while holding poses.
6. During meditation, use a cushion to help relax and support your body.
7. If you have questions about the p o s i t i o n s speak with the teacher after class.

8－11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about gift-giving habits. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your gift giving habits to start do you enjoy giving g i f t s ? W h y or why not?
9. Thank you. How do you decide what gift to give to someone? What factors do you consider?
10. I see. Can you tell me about a memorable gift you've given or received? What made it special?
11. Interesting. Some people feel that it's helpful for people to make wish lists or online registers so that others know exactly what gifts to give them. Others feel that gifts should be a s u r p r i s e which point of view do you agree w i t h ? W h y ?

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your gift giving habits. To start, do you enjoy giving gifts? Why or why not?

No, I d o n ' t . I find the process stressful and anxiety-inducing rather than fun. I always worry about choosing the wrong thing, something the person already has, doesn't like, or will never use. No matter how much time I spend thinking about it, I am never fully confident in my choice. Additionally, gift giving often comes with unspoken expectations about price and reciprocity. If I give a gift, I feel pressured that the other person might feel o b l i g a t e d to give me something in return, which makes me uncomfortable. I also dislike the commercial pressure during holidays like Christmas or birthdays, where buying gifts feels like a chore rather than a heartfelt gesture.

9. Thank you. How do you decide what gift to give to someone? What factors do you consider?

I consider several factors when choosing a gift. First, I consider our relationship. Close friends or family members get more personal or expensive gifts, while casual acquaintances get something simpler. Second, I think about the person's hobbies and interests. For example, if a friend loves cooking, I might get them a quality kitchen tool or a cookbook. Third, I pay attention to things they have mentioned wanting or needing in casual conversations. I keep a mental note throughout the year. Fourth, I consider the occasion: birthdays, holidays, or just because. Sometimes I also consider practicality. Will they actually use t h i s ? I avoid giving clutter

10. I see. Can you tell me about a memorable gift you've given or received? What made it special?

One of the most memorable gifts I received was a handmade scrapbook from my best friend for my 18th birthday.She filled it with photos,ticket stubs,little notes,and inside jokes from throughout our friendship.What made it special was the time and effort she put into it,not the monetary value.Every page brought back happy memories,and l could tell she had been planning it for months.Unlike store-bought gifts,this one was completely unique and personal.I still keep that scrapbook on my shelf and look through it sometimes when I miss her.That gift taught me that the most meaningful presents often come from the heart,not from a store.

11.Interesting.Some people feel that it's helpful for people to make wish lists or online registers so that others know exactly what gifts to give them.Others feel that gifts should be a surprise.Which point of view do you agree with? Why?

I agree with the view that gifts should be a surprise.For me,the magic of gift giving lies in the thoughtfulness and the element of surprise.When someone takes the time to observe my interests,remember small things I mentioned,and then choose something unexpected,it shows that they truly know and care about me.A surprise gift feels personal and heartfelt.In contrast,a wish list makes the whole process feel like a transaction,similar to buying something for myself.Surprises also create lasting memories.I still remember a friend who gave me a rare used book that I had casually talked about months earlier.That meant so much more than any item from a list.

2026年5月17日新题

1－7. You are volunteering at a community nature center near campus.The leader is training you to help beginners learn the basics of bird watching.Listen to the leader and repeat what the leader says.Repeat only once.

1. Look towards the tree tops where you can find nests.

2. Note details to help identify the bird.

3.Keep a record of each sighting to share later with the group.

4.Use proper footwear to keep from slipping while exploring outdoors.

5.Keep your head covered to protect yourself from the sun on the walk.

6. When getting ready for a day out,be sure to pack essentials to be prepared.

7.If you spot a bird nearby avoid sudden movements so it does not fly away.

8－11. As part of a university project,you have agreed to take part in a short research interview about food and nutrition.A graduate student conducting the research will ask you some questions online.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your food and nutrition habits.First,do you follow any specific diet or eating plan?

9.Thank you.Can you describe some foods that you eat on a regular basis?

10.Interesting.Tell me about a time when you or someone you know made a significant change to their diet. What was the change and what motivated you or the person you know to medicate.

11.Great.Some people say they have difficulty maintaining a healthy diet because they do not like the taste of healthier foods.What do you think about that argument? Why?

【答案】8.I don’t follow a strict diet or eating plan,but I try to eat healthy most of the time.For example,I eat more vegetables and less fried food.I also drink water instead of soda.Sometimes I avoid eating too much sugar,like candy or cake.However,I don’t want to be too strict because that makes me feel stressed.So I just try to make good choices without following a special diet.

【答案】9.On a regular basis,I eat rice,vegetables,eggs,and chicken.For breakfast,I usually have bread with milk or some fruit like bananas.For lunch and dinner,I often have rice with stir-fried vegetables and a small piece of meat.I also eat noodles sometimes because it's quick to cook.I don't eat a lot of snacks,but I like apples and yogurt.I think these foods give me enough energy for the day.

【答案】10.My friend used to drink soda every day,sometimes three or four cans.Then he decided to stop and only drink water.What motivated him was that he felt tired all the time and gained some weight.His doctor told him that too much sugar is bad for his health.So he switched to water and also started eating more fruit instead of candy.After one month,he had more energy and felt much better.

【第4套答案】11.I think people can learn to like healthier foods.At first,healthy food might taste plain, especially if you are used to salty or sweet food.But if you keep trying, your taste changes over time.For example,I used to hate vegetables,but after eating them for a few weeks, I started to enjoy them.Also, you can cook healthy food in tasty ways,like adding spices or grilling instead of frying. So, I don't think taste is a good excuse.

2026年5月19日新题（此套仅interview是新题）

1－7. You are working at your university's botanical garden.Your manager is training you on how to instruct new workers about their responsibilities.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1. Water the trees daily to help them grow.
2. Add nutrients to the flowerbed dirt.
3.Manage temperature and humidity inside the greenhouse.
4. Do not use chemicals near the pond to protect the creatures there.
5. Recycle waste in the compost pile to create rich soil.
6. After you finish gardening, put the tools in the shed so others can use them.
7. When guests arrive, show them to the visitor center to learn about the garden.

8－11. You are contributing to a research project about social interactions and community life.You will answer questions in an online interview.

8. Thank you for attending the interview.Today we'll discuss social interactions within communities.Do you participate in community activities or groups? If so,what kinds do you enjoy if not,what kind of group might you want to join and why?
9. Thank you.How important do you think social interactions are for maintaining a healthy lifestyle?Please explain why.
10. I see what's one change you've noticed in the ways you or your friends interact socially over the past few years.Is this change good or bad,in your opinion?
11.Good insights one more question.Do you think online special platforms will eventually replace face to face interactions or will personal interactions remain indispensable? Why do you think so?

【答案】8.I don't participate in many community activities right now,but I would like to join a local book club.Reading is a hobby of mine,and discussing books with others sounds fun.It would also help me meet new people who share similar interests.A book club feels less stressful than large events,and I think it would be a good way to feel more connected to my neighborhood.

9. Social interactions are very important for a healthy lifestyle.Talking to friends reduces stress and makes me feel less lonely.Good relationships also encourage positive habits, like exercising together or cooking healthy meals.When I spend time with supportive people,my mood improves and I feel more motivated.Without social connections,even physical health can suffer. So, I believe they are essential for overall well-being.

10.Over the past few years,my friends and I have started texting and using social media much more instead of meeting in person.This change is both good and bad.It is convenient and helps us stay in touch when busy.However,we have fewer deep conversations and real laughter.I miss face-to-face time. So, overall,I think this change is slightly negative because online chats cannot fully replace real connections.

11.I think personal interactions will remain indispensable.Online platforms are convenient for quick messages and long-distance friends,but they lack emotional depth. Face-to-face allows us to read body language,share physical presence,and build trust. Important moments like celebrating or comforting someone feel better in person. Technology will keep growing,but humans need real contact.So both will coexist,but personal interactions will never be fully replaced.

2026年5月20日口语1

You are an art student assisting your professor in a community arts program.Your professor is showing you how to teach children to make a cable,listen to your professor and repeat what your professor says. Repeat only once.

1. First, wet your hands to keep the clay moist.

2.You will be using the center of the wheel,

3. Use your thumbs to gently open the clay in the middle,

4. Smooth the surface every few minutes with a damp sponge.

5. Remove any excess clay to give the bowl a clean shape.

6. Once everything looks good,let the finished piece dry on a rack for a full day.

7.Remember that practice is key to mastering pottery,so keep at it.

8－11. A researcher is studying people's views about technology and household tasks.The researcher will ask you some questions about work or tasks that people do in their homes.

8. Thank you for taking the time to speak with me first.Tell me about yourself.Do you currently live with others or on your own?

9. Thank you for thinking about the time you spend at home aside from sleeping tell me what you currently spend the most time doing for example.Do you spend most of your time at home preparing for school or work or doing household work or tasks such as cooking or cleaning?

10.Okay,now I'd like you to think about some work or tasks at home that typically must be done again and again,for example,preparing food or paying bills.What is one task you don't enjoy that must be done regularly in a home and why is this particular task not injury?

11. Very interesting.Now in the last century, there have been a lot of different inventions to help make various household tasks easier faster or less boring.In your opinion,what is one such invention that would be difficult to live without? Why?

【答案】8.I currently live with two roommates in an apartment near campus.We are all

Students, so we share common spaces like the kitchen and living room.Living with others has taught me how to communicate better and respect shared spaces.It is nice to have company,but sometimes we have to coordinate chores and schedules.Overall,I enjoy living with roommates because it feels less lonely than living alone.

9. Aside from sleeping,I spend most of my time at home doing schoolwork.I usually sit at my desk with my laptop,reading,writing papers,or attending online classes.I also spend time cooking simple meals and cleaning up afterward.Household tasks like washing dishes and laundry take some time,but not as much as studying.On weekends, I might relax by watching shows or talking with my roommates.

10. One task I do not enjoy is cleaning the bathroom.It must be done regularly,usually once a week,but I find it unpleasant.The reasons are that it involves harsh cleaning products that smell strong,and scrubbing the toilet and shower is just dirty work.Also, our bathroom is small,so it feels cramped.Even though I dislike it,I know it is necessary for hygiene,so I just do it quickly.

11. One invention that would be difficult to live without is the washing machine.In the past,people had to wash clothes by hand,which took hours and was very tiring.Now, I just put dirty clothes in the machine,add soap,press a button,and they come out clean. Without it,I would spend a huge amount of time scrubbing and rinsing.It saves me time and energy,letting me focus on studying and other important tasks.

2026年5月20日口语2

1－7. You are learning to assist visitors at a campus art gallery as a volunteer guide.Your supervisor is demonstrating what to tell the visitors about the gallery and its facilities. Listen to your supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1. Visitors should enter through the front.

2.Tickets can be purchased at reception.

3.You can leave your belongings in a couple check room free of charge.

4.Each piece in the modern art hall is labeled with details.

5. Our photography exhibit features work by student artists.

6.Restrooms are located in the corner of the gallery near the exit.

7.A café offers coffee tea and a variety of sandwiches and treats.

8-11. You are taking part in a study about leisure activities.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.

8.Thank you for joining the study. I'd like to ask you about leisure activities.First,do you usually spend your leisure or Free time indoors or outdoors? Tell me more about that.

9.Can you describe one of your favorite leisure activities and explain why you enjoy it?

10. Do you prefer to be engaged in the same leisure activities over and over or do you regularly seek out new activities? Why?

11.Some people believe that regularly engaging in leisure activities is important for mental health.What are your thoughts on this? How to measure activities impact your own well being.

【答案】8.I usually spend my free time indoors.I live in a city with cold winters,so staying inside is more comfortable.At home,I watch movies,read books,or play video games. However,when the weather is nice,I enjoy going to a park or walking around.But most of the time,I prefer indoor activities because they are easier to do alone and I can relax without planning much.

9. One of my favorite leisure activities is reading fiction novels.I enjoy it because it allows me to escape into different worlds and forget about daily stress.When I read,I feel calm and focused.It is also a cheap hobby, since I borrow books from the library.I like getting lost in a good story and imagining the characters.Reading before bed helps me sleep better too.

10. I prefer repeating the same leisure activities rather than seeking new ones often.I find comfort in familiar things like watching the same TV shows or playing the same games. Trying new activities can feel stressful because I might not enjoy them or waste time. However,once in a while,I try something different if a friend invites me.But overall, routine helps me relax more than novelty does.

11. I strongly agree that leisure activities are important for mental health.When I take time to do something I enjoy,I feel less anxious and more balanced.For example,after a stressful day of studying,reading or watching a show helps my mind reset.Without leisure,I would feel burned out and unhappy.Personally,I notice that on weeks when I make time for fun,my mood is much better and I sleep more peacefully.

2026年5月20日口语3

1－7. You are being trained to assist visitors at a university art gallery.Listen to the guide and repeat what the guide says.Repeat only once.

1. Sculptures are located in the central hall.

2. We highlight paintings for local artists.

3.Visitors can use the touch screen display to plan their day.

4.Brochures about no exhibits are available free of charge.

5.Guests can check in or purchase tickets at the entrance desk.

6. For additional Information,read the wall labels next to each piece of art.

7.Use the audio device to hear an expert talk about our collections.

8－11. You are participating in a research study about musical experiences.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thanks for participating.I'd like to ask you some questions about your musical experiences.First,do you play a musical instrument or sing if not,which would you choose to learn how to do if you had the chance.

9. Thank you.Can you describe one memorable experience you had while either listening to or making music and what made it special?

10. I see now when you listen to music,do you prefer to listen by yourself or with others? Why?

11.Fascinating.Some people believe that music education should be a compulsory part of the school curriculum.Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint?Please explain your reasons.

【答案】8.I do not play an instrument or sing professionally.If I had the chance,I would choose to learn the guitar.It is portable and can be played alone or with friends.I love how guitar sounds in many songs.Learning it would allow me to play my favorite tunes and maybe even write my own music someday.

9. One memorable experience was attending a small outdoor concert with my best friend. The band played our favorite songs,and we sang along loudly with the crowd.The energy was amazing,and I felt completely happy and free.What made it special was sharing that moment with someone close to me.Music brought us closer,and I still smile when I remember that evening.

10. I prefer listening to music by myself most of the time.When I am alone,I can fully focus on the lyrics and melodies without distractions.It helps me relax or concentrate on work.However,listening with others is fun at parties or in the car.For deep enjoyment, though,I choose solitude.Music becomes a personal escape that I do not always want to share.

10. I agree that music education should be compulsory,at least at a basic level.Learning music develops creativity,discipline,and teamwork,especially in group performances.It also gives children an emotional outlet and can improve academic skills like math and reading.Even if a student never becomes a musician,the benefits last a lifetime.Music adds joy to life,and schools should provide that opportunity for everyone.

2026年6月10日新题（复述题老题，仅 interview 新），5.20-6.10 中间没考过新题

You have volunteered for a research study at your university about gardening. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with gardening. First, do you have a garden or any plants that you take care of? If so, how often do you spend time gardening, and if not, why?

9. Thank you! What kinds of plants or gardens have you seen or heard about that you found interesting or appealing? Describe them and talk about why you found them interesting or appealing.

10. Interesting! What challenges do you think people face when trying to grow plants or maintain a garden?

11. Great! Some people believe that gardening can have positive effects on personal mental health and well-being. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

【答案】

8. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with gardening. First, do you have a garden or any plants that you take care of? If so, how often do you spend time gardening, and if not, why?

No, I don't have a garden right now. I live in a small apartment without a balcony, so there is no space. I also don't have much free time because of my studies and work. However, I like the idea of having plants. Maybe in the future when I have a house, I will start a small garden. For now, I just enjoy looking at other people's gardens.

---

9. Thank you! What kinds of plants or gardens have you seen or heard about that you found interesting or appealing? Describe them and talk about why you found them interesting or appealing.

I saw a vegetable garden at my friend's house and found it very interesting. She grew tomatoes, lettuce, and herbs like mint and basil. What I liked most was that she could pick fresh vegetables right before cooking. The food tasted much better than from a store. Also, the garden looked very green and peaceful. It made me want to have my own vegetable garden one day.

10. Interesting! What challenges do you think people face when trying to grow plants or maintain a garden?

I think the biggest challenge is time. Plants need regular care like watering, cutting, and checking for bugs. If you are busy, it's easy to forget. Another challenge is knowledge. New gardeners don't know how much water or sun each plant needs. Pests and bad weather are also problems. For example, too much rain can kill plants. So gardening is not as easy as some people think.

---

11. Great! Some people believe that gardening can have positive effects on personal mental health and well-being. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

I agree completely. Gardening is very relaxing. When you work with plants, you forget your stress and worries. Being outside in the sun and fresh air also makes you feel happier. Watching a seed grow into a flower gives you a sense of achievement. It is also good exercise. Many people say gardening helps them feel calm and peaceful. So I believe it is great for mental health.

2026年6月14日口语新题

1-7. You are being trained to assist guests during a campus career fair. Listen to the event coordinator and repeat what the coordinator says. Repeat only once.

1. Be sure to sign in when you first arrive.

2. Free refreshments are available all day.

3. When you check in pick up a printed schedule and a site map.

4. We'll be hosting presentations on resume writing at noon.

5. If attendees need a quiet meeting area, it's upstairs.

6. Computers are available to connect with company representatives.

7. You should monitor your Email closely for messages from employers.

8-11. You have agreed to participate in a research study about people's experiences with hobbies. You will have a short online interview with a researcher. The researcher will ask you some questions.

8. Thanks for being involved in this research. I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies. First, what kinds of hobbies do you think are especially popular today? Why do you think that is?

9. Sounds good. Next what role do you think friends, family or community play in encouraging someone to take up a hobby?

10. Noted now many people start hobbies but don't continue with them. What do you think leads people to give up on their hobbies?

11. Ok, thanks last one some people believe spending time on hobbies is essential while others see it as a luxury what is your opinion?

【文】

8. I think hobbies like photography, fitness, and cooking are especially popular today. Many people enjoy sharing photos online, which makes photography attractive. Fitness, like running or yoga, is popular because people care more about health and appearance. Cooking has become trendy too, thanks to social media videos showing easy recipes. These hobbies are accessible and can be done at home, which fits modern lifestyles.

9. Friends, family, and community play a big role in encouraging hobbies. When a friend recommends an activity, I am more likely to try it because I trust their opinion. Family members often introduce hobbies during childhood, like fishing or crafting. Community groups, like sports teams or art classes, provide structure and social support. Seeing others enjoy something motivates people to join and stick with it.

10. I think people give up hobbies mainly due to lack of time or loss of interest. Many people start a hobby with excitement, but when life gets busy, they prioritize work or school. Also, if progress is slow, people feel discouraged. Sometimes hobbies become boring or too difficult. Without a clear goal or support, it is easy to quit. Starting is fun, but continuing requires discipline and real passion.

11. I believe hobbies are essential, not a luxury. They provide a break from stress and help maintain mental health. Hobbies also give us a sense of achievement and creativity. Even a small activity, like drawing or gardening, can improve daily life. Everyone needs time to enjoy themselves and recharge. So, hobbies are not just extra—they are a necessary part of a balanced life.

2026年6月21日口语新题

1-7.You are working at a national park as part of an internship.Your manager is teaching you how to assist visitors at the park.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Our hiking trails offer scenic routes.

2.Make a stop at the visitor center.

3.Many outdoor campsites are available for overnight stays.

4.Picnic areas are great for family gatherings.

5.Wildlife viewing spots are ideal for observing animals.

6.Guided tours and educational programs are available by request.

7.As always be sure to take the map with you on your nature walks and adventures.

8-11.You are participating in a research study conducted by your university about spending time in nature you will meet online with a researcher who will ask you several questions.

8.Thank you for joining this research study today I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with nature to get started,how often do you spend time in nature and where do you usually go?

9.Okay,thank you.Now when you are outdoors in natural areas what kinds of activities do you usually do and why are those activities enjoyable or meaningful to you?

10.Go put it.Now some people visit nature to relax while others go to Challenge themselves with more active activities like hiking or mountain biking,which do you usually prefer?Why?

11.I appreciate your answers last question many people believe that spending more time in nature can improve a person's mental and physical well-being.Do you agree or disagree with this idea why.

【文】 I try to spend time in nature at least once a week.Usually,I go to a large park near my apartment,but sometimes I drive a bit further to the hills on the outskirts of the city.I love going on weekends,especially on Sunday mornings when it's quiet and peaceful.It's the perfect way to escape from the noise and screens of my daily routine.

9.When I'm outdoors,I usually enjoy walking along trails or just sitting on a bench reading a book.I find these simple activities deeply relaxing.They allow me to clear my head and enjoy the fresh air.I like listening to the birds and watching the trees move in the wind.It helps me slow down and appreciate the moment,which I think is really meaningful for my mental health.

10.Honestly,I prefer to visit nature to relax rather than to challenge myself.I lead apretty busy life,so when I go to a natural area,I just want to unwind.I'm not really interested in intense activities like mountain biking.For me,nature is a place to escape stress,not to create more of it.I find a lot of peace in simply walking and enjoying the scenery.

11.I absolutely agree with this idea.There is a lot of scientific evidence showing that spending time in nature reduces stress and improves our mood.Just being around trees and fresh air can lower blood pressure and calm the mind.I personally always feel more energetic and happier after a walk in the park.I think it's one of the simplest and most effective ways to boost our overall health.

2026年7月20日口语唯一新题

You are working at your university's fitness center.Your manager is training you to assist customers at the center.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Cardio machines and bikes were over here

2.The weight room provides dumbbells and benches.

3.Our yoga studio offers classes for all fitness levels.

4.Locker rooms contain storage bins and changing facilities.

5.Enjoy our smoothie bar and sample nutritious drinks and snacks.

6.Personal trainers are available for individual guidance.

7.Before you leave check the gym floor plan for specific areas and equipment.

8-11.You have signed up for a study conducted by your university about people's experience with weather.You will have a short online interview with a researcher who will ask you a few questions.

8.Thanks for agreeing to participate.I'll be asking you a few questions about weather patterns for this study.To begin,how would you describe the weather where you currently live,tell me about it.

9.Interesting now thinking about your daily life,how does the weather in your area affect your everyday activities such as getting around or spending time outdoors.

10.Great.Thanks for explaining that next.What challenges does weather sometimes create for community activities and what are some ways people adapt or respond to these challenges?

11.Fascinating lastly,some researchers have suggested that weather can influence people's mental and physical well being.Do you think this is true why or why not?

【文】8.I live in a city with four distinct seasons.Summers are hot and humid,and winter scan be freezing cold with some snow.Spring and autumn are quite pleasant,but they never seem to last long enough.Overall,the weather is very changeable,so you really need to be prepared for anything at any time of year.

9.The weather affects my daily life quite a bit.On rainy days,I have to take the bus instead of walking to class.In winter,the cold weather makes me want to stay indoors more.And in summer,the heat makes it hard to exercise outside.So I always check the forecast before making any outdoor plans to avoid unpleasant surprises.

10.Sudden storms often cancel outdoor events like sports games or festivals in my community.People adapt by checking weather apps regularly and having backup indoor plans.For example,if a picnic is canceled,people might move it to a community center.Also,many people carry umbrellas and wear layers so they can quickly adjust to changing conditions.

11.Yes,I definitely believe weather affects our well-being.For example,rainy days often make me feel a bit tired or less motivated.In contrast,sunny days boost my energy and mood.Also,extreme heat or cold can make it harder to sleep well or exercise.So I think weather has a real impact on both our mental and physical health.

2026年7月22日口语1

1-7.You are working at a campus dining hall.A shift supervisor is training you to explain your responsibilities to new student workers.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1.Check your schedule to confirm your work time.

2.Arrive on time and ready to start your shift.

3.Learn the menu items at your station before service begins.

4.Use separate utensils for each dish during service.

5.Maintain a friendly attitude when serving guests in the line.

6.After food service ends,you will need to stay 30 more minutes to help clean up.

7.If you need time off,speak to your supervisor,so your shift can be covered.

8-11.You have volunteered to participate in a research study about leisure activities.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for joining the study today.I’d like to ask you some questions about leisure activities first.How often do you find time to relax during your week and what usually allows you to do so.

9.Thank you thinking about your typical day.What is one activity or hobby you usually do for enjoyment or relaxation?Why do you enjoy this particular activity?

10.I see some people enjoy social activities during their leisure time while others prefer solitary activities which do you prefer and why.

11.Great and lastly some people see leisure time as a basic need for everyone while others see it as a luxury that depends on personal circumstances which view do you agree with and why?

Q8:l usually find time to relax about three or four times a week.First,I take short breaks after work or classes.For example,I might sit on my balcony and just listen to music for twenty minutes.Second,my weekends are my main relaxation time.I don’t set any alarms on Saturday mornings,so I can sleep in and then have a slow breakfast.These small moments really help me reset.

Q9:

My go-to hobby is walking in the park near my apartment.I enjoy it for two main reasons.First,it's super easy to start.I don't need any special gear;I just put on my sneakers and go.Second,being outside helps me clear my head.When I walk,I'm not looking at my phone or thinking about my to-do list.I just watch the trees and listen to the birds,and it makes me feel calm.

Q10:

I definitely prefer solitary activities for my relaxation time.First,I spend a lot of time talking to people during the day for work or school,so I need quiet time to recharge.For example,reading a book alone in my room feels much more restful than going to a noisy café with friends.Second,doing things alone lets me go at my own pace.If I'm drawing or walking,I don’t have to wait for anyone or make small talk,which is a big relief.

Q11:

I strongly believe leisure time is a basic need,not a luxury.First,our bodies and minds need rest to function properly.If I don’t take breaks,I get really tired and make more mistakes at work,which actually makes things worse.Second,everyone deserves a chance to enjoy life,no matter their job or income.Even if someone is very busy or doesn’t have much money,taking ten minutes to breathe or stretch is still important for their health.

2026年7月22日口语2

1-7.You are volunteering at the local community center for course credit.Your supervisor is training you to teach children to care for indoor plants.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1.This species is very easy to care for.

2.Water it thoroughly once a week.

3.Listing the leaves with a gentle spray helps them stay green.

4.Yellow leaves are a sign that it may be too cold for the plant.

5.Giving the plant nutrients monthly will help keep it healthy.

6.You should trim any brown leaves every week as this will help to promote growth.

7.Ensure the plant receives indirect sunlight in order to avoid leaf burn.

8-11.You have agreed to participate in a research study at your university about personal expression through art.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for joining the study.Today I'll ask you about your views or not.To start,do you have any favorite types of art,such as painting,sculpture or photography?Why do you like this type of art?

9.Thank you.Can you share a memorable experience you had with art,whether it was visiting a museum or creating something yourself.

10.Interesting.Some people find creating art to be relaxing and fulfilling.Do you find art to be a fulfilling way to relax and express yourself why or why not?

11.Great insights.Now some argue that art education is essential in schools as it encourages creativity and critical thinking.Do you believe that art should be given equal importance as subjects like math or science in schools?Why or why not?

Q8:

My favorite type of art is definitely photography.I like it for two main reasons.First,it is very easy to do.I don't need to buy expensive paint or canvas.I just use my phone to take pictures of things I see every day,like my cat or a nice sunset.Second,photos are great for keeping memories.When I look at my pictures,I can remember exactly how l felt on that day.It is like a time machine.

Q9:

I have a very clear memory of painting a picture for my mom.It was for her birthday last year.I wanted to make something special,so I spent three hours painting a picture of our old dog.I made a few mistakes at first,and the colors looked a bit messy.But when I gave it to her,she started to cry happy tears.She said it was the best gift ever.That moment made me feel really proud and happy.

Q10:

Yes,I really do.I find art very relaxing.First,it helps me forget my stress.When l am drawing or taking photos,I only focus on the colors and shapes.I stop worrying about my homework or my job.It is like a break for my brain.Second,it is a good way to show my feelings.Sometimes l feel sad or angry,but I don't know how to say it.So,I use dark colors in my drawings to let those feelings out.It makes me feel much better.

Q11:

Yes,I think art is just as important as math or science.First,art teaches creativity.Math has only one right answer,but art has many.When kids paint or make things,they learn to think outside the box.This helps them solve problems in other classes too.Second,art is good for mental health.School can be very stressful for students.Having an art class gives them a safe place to relax and just be themselves.So,we really need art in schools.

2026年7月22日口语3

1-7.You are being trained to assist customers for your part-time job at a bakery.Your supervisor is teaching you how to describe different types of baked goods.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1.Our rolls are baked fresh every morning.

2.We have apple and blueberry muffins.

3.Our sourdough loaf has a wonderfully tangy flavor.

4.Flat breads pair well with various cheeses like cheddar or brie.

5.Our cinnamon buns are soft and have a nice hint of sweetness.

6.Stop by and pick up delicious breakfast options for your family and friends.

7.With its hearty seeds,rye bread works well for sandwiches or to serve with dinner.

8-11.You have agreed to take part in a university research study on spending habits and economic decisions.You will have a short online interview with a researcher who will ask you a few questions.

8.Thanks for joining today's interview.I'd like to ask you a few questions about spending habits.First,when you buy products,do you tend to make impulse purchases or do you carefully plan what to buy?

9.Great.Now let me ask about budgeting.Some people set a weekly or monthly budget and others do not what is your approach to managing expenses.

10.Interesting to hear your thoughts.When making an expensive purchase,some people prefer to wait and save up their money,while others prefer to have the item right away and pay for it over time.Which do you prefer and why?

11.Lastly,some people believe that it is important to save as much money as possible for the future,while others feel that it is better to spend more freely on things that bring you satisfaction.What is your opinion on this and why?

Q8:

l usually plan my purchases very carefully.First,l always make a list before I go to the store.For example,if I need groceries,I write down exactly what I need so I don't buy snacks I don't really want.Second,I like to do some research online.If I want to buy anew pair of shoes,I will check a few different websites to compare prices and read reviews.This helps me avoid wasting money on bad products.

Q9:

I prefer to set a strict monthly budget.First,I track all my spending using a simple app on my phone.Every time l buy a cup of coffee or pay for lunch,I write it down.This makes me very aware of where my money goes.Second,I set a limit for fun money.For example,l only allow myself to spend fifty dollars a month on entertainment.Once that money is gone,I just stay home and watch movies.It really helps me save.

Q10:

I definitely prefer to wait and save up my money.First,I don't like being in debt.If I buy something on a payment plan,I feel stressed every month when the bill comes.I would rather just wait until I have the cash.Second,saving up makes me appreciate the item more.For example,when I wanted a new laptop,I saved for six months.Because I worked hard for that money,I take really good care of my laptop now.

Q11:

l think it is best to find a balance between the two.First,saving money is very important for emergencies.I always keep some money in my bank account just in case I get sick or lose my job.It gives me peace of mind.But second,life is short,so we should enjoy it too.I like to spend a little bit of money on things that make me happy,like going to a concert or eating a nice dinner with friends.So,I save most of my money,but I still spend some on fun.

2026年8月2-23日无新题，均重复1-7月老题

2026年7月25日口语唯一新题

1-7.You are being trained to assist guests during a campus career fair.Listen to the event coordinator and repeat what the coordinator says.Repeat only once.

1.Be sure to sign in when you first arrive.

2.Free refreshments are available all day.

3.When you check in pick up a printed schedule and a site map.

4.Will be hosting presentations on resume writing at noon.

5.If attendees need a quiet meeting area,it's upstairs.

6.Computers are available to connect with company representatives.

7.You should monitor your Email closely for messages from employers.

8-11.You have volunteered for a research study at your university about cultural festivals.You will have a short online interview with a researcher.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for agreeing to participate.I'd like to ask you some questions about cultural festivals.First cultural festivals are events that celebrate traditions like food,music,art,or clothing from a certain culture.Have you ever been to one or would you like to go to one?Why?

9.Thank you.If you were to go to a cultural festival,what would you like to see or do there?

10.Interesting if you were to participate in a cultural festival for your own culture,what would you want to share with other people and why?

11.Great.Some people think cultural festivals are mainly just for fun while others think that they serve an important purpose like helping to keep traditions alive.What do you think?

【文】8.Yes,I have been to a cultural festival before.It was a Chinese New Year celebration in my city.I really enjoyed it because I got to try new foods and watch traditional performances.I think cultural festivals are a great way to learn about different traditions without traveling far.I would definitely go to more in the future.

9.If I went to a cultural festival,I would love to try the traditional food first.Food tells a lot about a culture.Then would watch music or dance performances.I also like seeing traditional clothing and crafts.I think experiencing these things directly is much better than just reading about them.It makes the culture feel alive and real.

10.If I were to share something from my own culture,I would share traditional food.Food is something everyone can enjoy.It brings people together and starts conversations.I would also share some folk stories or music.These things show the history and values of my culture.I think sharing these would help others understand and appreciate where l come from.

11.I think cultural festivals serve an important purpose.Of course,they are fun,but they are much more than that.They help keep traditions alive by passing them to younger generations.They also give people a sense of identity and pride in their heritage.Without these festivals,many traditions might disappear.So I believe they are both enjoyable and meaningful.

2026年7月29日线下口语1

1-7.You are working at a school as part of an internship.Your supervisor is training you to help students prepare for their science project presentations.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1.Start by setting up the projector screen.

2.Use the whiteboard to highlight key points.

3.Arrange your project materials neatly on the tables.

4.Check all the equipment to ensure it works properly.

5.Make sure your computer is set up with your presentation.

6.It's a good idea to practice delivering your speech in front of some friends.

7.Take time to review your notes thoroughly,so you′ ll feel confident and prepared.

8-11.A researcher is studying people's views on environmental awareness and lifestyle choices.You will be asked a few questions related to this topic.

8.Thanks for taking part in this study.Here′ s my first question.What if any environmentally friendly practices such as recycling do you employ in your daily life?

9.Great.Can you share a specific example of how you reduce your environmental impact at home at school or at work?

10.Interesting.If you were to make one change to help the environment,what would it be and why.

11.Many believe that individual actions alone are not enough to address environmental problems.Do you agree or disagree with this statement?Why?

【文】8.Yes,I do several things to be environmentally friendly.I always recycle paper,plastic,and glass at home.I also bring my own reusable bags when I go shopping.I try to turn off lights when I leave a room.These are small actions,but they have become daily habits.They make me feel that I am doing my part to help the planet.

9.At home,I save water by taking shorter showers and turning off the tap while brushing my teeth.I also try to avoid wasting food by only buying what I need.At school,I use digital notes instead of printing paper.These small changes don't take much effort,but they add up.I believe every little bit helps.

10.If I could make one change,I would start biking or walking more instead of taking the car for short trips.This would reduce air pollution and also improve my health.Many of my trips are less than two kilometers,so biking is a good option.It's a simple change that benefits both the environment and myself.

11.I disagree with the statement that individual actions are not enough.Yes,governments and companies need to make big changes,but individual actions matter too.When millions of people make small changes,the impact is huge.Individual actions also send a message to leaders that people care about the environment.So both individual and systemic efforts are needed.We shouldn't ignore what we can personally do.

2026年7月29日线下口语2

1-7.You are volunteering at a community center near campus.The instructor is training you to guide beginners through simple yoga routines.Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says.Repeat only once.

1.Find a good place to roll out your mat.

2.Keep some water handy to drink when needed.

3.Focus on slow breathing to stay relaxed through each movement.

4.Pay attention to the instructor's words to learn proper form.

5.A block can help you maintain your balance while holding poses.

6.During meditation,use a cushion to help relax and support your body.

7.If you have questions about the positions speak with the teacher after class.

8-11.You are participating in a study at your university about renewable energy sources.The researcher will ask you some questions concerning your opinions on renewable energy and its implementation.

8.Thanks for your participation.I'd like to discuss your views on renewable energy to start how important is the issue of renewable energy,such as wind and solar power to you personally?Why would you say you feel that way?

9.Now describe a time when you or someone you know,try to reduce energy use.What actions were taken and what made it easy or difficult.

10.Great.In your daily life,have you noticed any renewable energy initiatives in your community?If yes,what have you seen and how do they impact your area?If not,what's an initiative that might be beneficial for your community?

11.Thought provoking.Many believe transitioning to renewable energy is crucial for environmental sustainability,while others worry about the costs involved.Do you think the benefits of renewable energy outweigh the drawbacks?Why or why not?

【文】8.Renewable energy is very important to me personally.I care about climate change and the future of our planet.Fossil fuels are running out and causing pollution.Solar and wind power are clean and infinite.I feel a responsibility to support cleaner energy sources.It's not just about me;it's about the world we leave for future generations.

9.My family tried to reduce electricity use last summer.We turned off lights when leaving rooms,used fans instead of air conditioning,and unplugged devices when not in use.It was easy because these actions also lowered our electricity bill.However,it took some effort to remember to unplug everything.But after a few weeks,these small habits became automatic.

10.In my community,I have noticed solar panels on some public buildings.There are also electric car charging stations in parking lots.These initiatives are encouraging and show that people are thinking about clean energy.I think one beneficial initiative would be providing cheaper solar panel installations for low-income families.This would help more people adopt renewable energy at home.

11.Yes,I believe the benefits of renewable energy far outweigh the drawbacks.The main drawback is the initial cost of building solar farms or wind turbines.However,in the long run,renewable energy is cheaper because sunlight and wind are free.It also reduces pollution,which improves public health.The cost of climate change inaction is much higher.So I think the benefits clearly win.

2026年7月29日线下口语3

1-7.You are working at a university.Your manager is teaching you how to explain the online learning platform to students.Listen to the manager and repeat what the manager says.Repeat only once.

1.Class details are on the course home page.

2.Use the forum to exchange thoughts with classmates.

3.Upload assignments to the platform for evaluation.

4.The video lectures will help you learn the material.

5.The online grade book shows your scores for all class assignments.

6.Turn on notifications.So you never miss messages from your instructors.

7.If you face technical issues,contact support to resolve the problem.

8-11.You are participating in a research study about awareness of history.You will have an online interview with a researcher.

8.You will have an online interview with a researcher.Thank you for your participation today.We'll explore the idea of awareness of history.Can you tell me if you′ ve gained most of your knowledge of history through school or from outside of school?

9.Thank you when learning about history whether through school or on your own what aspects do you find most intriguing cultural political or something else.

10.I see have you ever visited a historical site or museum?Do you think that visiting such a place enhances your understanding of history?Why or why not?

11.Thanks for sharing some believe that studying history helps prevent repeating past mistakes.Do you agree or disagree with this idea?Why.

【文】8.I have gained most of my history knowledge from outside of school.I love watching historical documentaries and movies.I also read articles online.School history classes were a bit boring to me because they focused too much on memorizing dates.Outside learning feels more interesting and flexible.I can choose topics I care about and learn at my own pace.

9.I find cultural aspects of history most intriguing.I love learning about how people lived,what they wore,what they ate,and what traditions they had.Political history is important,but cultural history feels more personal.It connects me to ordinary people from the past.It makes me realize that despite living in different times,we share many similar hopes and struggles.

10.Yes,I have visited a local history museum.I think visiting historical places greatly enhances understanding.Seeing real objects and walking in historic buildings makes history tangible.You can almost imagine what life was like back then.It's much more powerful than just reading a textbook.I think everyone should visit historical sites to truly appreciate the past.

11.I strongly agree that studying history helps prevent repeating past mistakes.History gives us valuable lessons from wars,economic crises,and social injustices.If we ignore history,we are likely to make the same errors.For example,understanding the causes of past conflicts can help nations avoid them today.So history is not just about the past;it's a guide for building a better future.

2026年8月26日口语1

1-7.You are working at the check-in table for a student festival on campus.A supervisor is training you to explain the check-in process to attendees.Listen to the supervisor and repeat what the supervisor says.Repeat only once.

1.Please form one line near the check in area.

2.Write your name clearly on the sign in sheet.

3.Take one name tag from the stack before you leave the line.

4.Place your event ticket in the box after you sign in.

5.Get a hand stamp so you can return later if you leave.

6.Feel Free to take the snack but use the bins provided to keep the area clean.

7.If you need to leave follow the arrows on the floor to find the nearest exit.

8-11.You are participating in a research study conducted by your university about hobbies.You will meet online with a researcher who will ask you a few questions.

8.Thank you for joining the study today.I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies.First,do you have a specific hobby or activity that you enjoy doing regularly?

9.Great,thank you thinking more generally,what kinds of hobbies or pastimes are common in your country.What do you think makes these activities appealing to many people?

10.Interesting.Some people feel that hobbies help them relax and recharge while others enjoy them because they offer a Challenge or new skill.In what way do you think your hobby benefits you why.

11.Thanks for sharing that.Some people say that finding time for hobbies is becoming harder because of busy lifestyles and work commitments.They believe it is difficult for most people nowadays to find the time to engage in hobbies do you agree or disagree with this perspective why.

【答案】

8.Thank you for joining the study today.I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies.First,do you have a specific hobby or activity that you enjoy doing regularly?

Yes,I enjoy running regularly.I usually run three or four times a week in a park near my home.I started running two years ago because I wanted to stay healthy and lose some weight.Now it has become a habit that I really look forward to.Running helps me clear my mind and gives me energy for the day.I also like listening to music while I run,which makes it more enjoyable.It is a simple and cheap hobby.

9.Great,thank you.Thinking more generally,what kinds of hobbies or pastimes are common in your country?What do you think makes these activities appealing to many people?

In my country,common hobbies include playing basketball,watching short videos,and playing mobile games.Many people also enjoy shopping online and cooking at home.These activities are popular because they are cheap and easy to do.For example,you only need a phone to watch videos or play games.Basketball just needs a ball and a public court.Also,these hobbies can be done alone or with friends,so they suit different people.They are relaxing and convenient.

10.Interesting.Some people feel that hobbies help them relax and recharge while others enjoy them because they offer a challenge or new skill.In what way do you think your hobby benefits you?Why?

My hobby of running benefits me mainly by helping me relax.When I run,I forget about school stress and feel calm.It also keeps me physically healthy,which improves my mood.I don't run to compete,so there is no pressure.The simple act of moving my body outdoors makes me feel refreshed.Because of this,I am more focused when I study.So running is both a mental and physical break for me.It recharges my energy.

11.Thanks for sharing that.Some people say that finding time for hobbies is becoming harder because of busy lifestyles and work commitments.They believe it is difficult for most people nowadays to find the time to engage in hobbies.Do you agree or disagree with this perspective?Why?

I disagree that most people nowadays have no time for hobbies.I think people actually have more free time than they realize,but they waste it on their phones.Even busy people can find ten or fifteen minutes a day for a small hobby like reading or drawing.Also,many hobbies can be combined with other activities,like listening to podcasts while commuting.The real problem is not lack of time but lack of motivation.If a hobby is important,people will make time.

2026年8月26日口语2

1-7You are volunteering at a local community center for course credit.You are being trained to assist older adults with using smartphones.Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says.Repeat only once.

1.You can capture excellent photos

2.The power button is on the right

3.You can use the side buttons to adjust the volume up and down

4.The touch screen is responsive to even a light touch

5.The battery can be charged through this convenient port

6.with the high-definition display,you can have an immersive experience

7.The speakers provide clear audio,enhancing your listening pleasure

8-11You have volunteered for a research study on people's perspectives regarding historical monuments.You will participate in a short online interview.The researcher will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for joining the interview.Today,I'm interested in your thoughts on historical monuments.To start,can you tell me about a historical monument in your country or in the area where you live?

9.I see If you were to visit a historical monument,would you prefer to take a tour with a tour guide or to explore at your own pace?Why?

10.Thank you.Now I'd like you to think more generally.Why do people visit historical monuments or historical sites?What are some reasons people might choose to spend time at places like these?

11.Interesting.Some people believe that preserving historical monuments is crucial for maintaining cultural heritage,while others argue that resources could be better spent elsewhere.Do you believe maintain Maintaining these monuments is important Why or why not?

【答案】8.Thank you for joining the interview.Today,I'm interested in your thoughts on historical monuments.To start,can you tell me about a historical monument in your country or in the area where you live?

In my city,there is a famous historical monument called the Bund Historical Area.It is not just one building but a whole row of old European-style buildings along the river.These buildings are over a hundred years old and show the history of Shanghai as an important trading port.Many tourists come to take photos and walk along the waterfront.I have been there several times,and I always feel amazed by the architecture and the atmosphere.It is a symbol of our city's past.

9.I see.If you were to visit a historical monument,would you prefer to take a tour with a tour guide or to explore at your own pace?Why?

I would prefer to take a tour with a guide because I want to learn the stories behind the monument.A good guide can explain the history,the people,and the meaning of the details.Without a guide,I might just look at the outside and miss important facts.Also,guides can answer my questions and point out things I would never notice on my own.For me,understanding the background makes the visit much more meaningful and memorable,so a guide is really helpful.

10.Thank you.Now I'd like you to think more generally.Why do people visit historical monuments or historical sites?What are some reasons people might choose to spend time at places like these?

People visit historical monuments for many reasons.Some want to learn about the past and feel connected to history.Others go because they enjoy beautiful old buildings and taking photos.Families often take children to teach them about their culture and heritage.Tourists may visit famous sites just to check them off a list.I think the biggest reason is curiosity and a desire to experience something older than ourselves.It gives us a sense of where we come from.

11.Interesting.Some people believe that preserving historical monuments is crucial for maintaining cultural heritage,while others argue that resources could be better spent elsewhere.Do you believe maintaining these monuments is important?Why or why not?

I believe maintaining historical monuments is very important.They are not just old stones;they carry the memories and identity of a culture.If we let them fall apart,we lose a part of our history that can never be replaced.Monuments also attract tourists,which helps the local economy.More importantly,they teach young people about their roots and traditions.I think governments should spend money to protect them because they are valuable for future generations.

2026年8月26日口语3

1-7.You are volunteering at a community center kitchen for course credit.An instructor is training you to show children simple ways to reduce food waste when cooking.Listen to the instructor and repeat what the instructor says.Repeat only once.

1.Always measure ingredients carefully.

2.Leftovers can be stored in containers.

3.Vegetable scraps can go in the freezer for soup.

4.Keep a reusable grocery bag for frequent shopping trips.

5.Soaking the stems of herbs in water will help keep them fresh longer.

6.Composting leftover food can help reduce what gets thrown away in the kitchen.

7.If we all do our part to reduce food waste,we can help the environment.

8-11.You are participating in a study about education.You will have a short online interview with a researcher who will ask you some questions.

8.Thank you for being willing to do this interview.I'm interested in learning about your educational background.Can you tell me about your educational background and what field you have specialized in or plan to specialize in?

9.Please describe a project or an assignment during your studies that you found particularly challenging what was challenging about it.

10.In your opinion,what is the most important skills students should develop during their education,please provide reasons for your answer.

11.Thanks for that.Some people feel it is important for students to study a wide range of subjects even if those subjects will not be relevant to their future careers.Do you agree or disagree with this perspective?Why.

答案：8.Thank you for being willing to do this interview.I'm interested in learning about your educational background.Can you tell me about your educational background and what field you have specialized in or plan to specialize in?

I am currently a third-year university student majoring in computer science.I chose this field because I have always been interested in technology and how software works.I also think it has great job opportunities in the future.So far,I have learned programming languages like Java and Python,and I really enjoy building small programs.After l graduate,I plan to work as a software developer or maybe start my own tech company.My education has been challenging but also very rewarding,and I am excited to continue learning more.

9.Please describe a project or an assignment during your studies that you found particularly challenging.What was challenging about it?

One challenging project was a group assignment in a marketing class.We had to create a full marketing plan for a new product.The hardest part was coordinating schedules because everyone was busy with other courses.Also,some members did not contribute equally,so I had to take on extra work to meet the deadline.We solved the problem by having regular online meetings and dividing tasks very clearly.In the end,we got a good grade,but it taught me a lot about teamwork and responsibility.

10.In your opinion,what is the most important skill students should develop during their education?Please provide reasons for your answer.

I believe the most important skill is communication.No matter what career you choose,you need to express your ideas clearly and listen to others.Good communication helps avoid misunderstandings and builds strong relationships with classmates and coworkers.It also makes teamwork much easier and more enjoyable.I think students should practice speaking and writing from an early age because this skill will benefit them in every part of life,not just in school or work.Without good communication,even the best ideas can fail.

11.Thanks for that.Some people feel it is important for students to study a wide range of subjects even if those subjects will not be relevant to their future careers.Do you agree or disagree with this perspective?Why?

l agree that students should study a wide range of subjects.Even if some subjects are not directly related to their future jobs,they still help develop different ways of thinking.For example,learning history can improve critical thinking,and art can boost creativity.Also,students may discover new interests they never knew they had.A broad education makes people more well-rounded and better at solving problems from different angles.So I think it is worth the time and effort.